Kern Community College District, Approval of the Strategic Plan

The Chancellor presented an update of the Strategic Plan adopted by the Board of Trustees on September 7, 2006, stating the Strategic Plan was vetted through the participatory governance process and was presented to the Board of Trustees at the April 14, 2011 meeting. Further work continued with the Strategic Planning Working Group (SPWG) resulting in the Plan. It was noted that the Strategic Plan was presented to the Board of Trustees for information at the Board meeting of October 6, 2011.

Mr. Witt asked about the process used in developing the plan. He stated that he agreed with everything in the Plan but felt it was missing one part. He asked about the accountability for implementing the plan. He stated that he agreed with the quantifiable goals, measuring the progress, etc. The Chancellor stated that the accountability permeates the organization, in that the District-wide Strategic Plan then moves to the Colleges, and the campuses each go through their College Strategic Plan and begin to link their Plan along with Educational Plans which links to budget. She stated not only is it linked in this broader sense, it is somewhat noted in the District-wide Planning Cycle shown on the last page of the Strategic Plan where it is noted that the Strategic Plan, Educational Master Plan and the like. She commented that within each of the entities there will be assigned individuals with responsibilities for goals and objectives, and tie them as they relate to the Strategic, Educational Master, and Accreditation plans and processes.

Ms. Serrano stated that there are also components of College operations related to program review and hiring processes, that are also looking at data, and while the District is measuring, and has the measures identified with regards to the expected outcomes, as each College moves into implementation, looks at the objections, and develops their specific action plans, there will be individuals that are accountable for insure that the District and Colleges are implementing and achieving the results expected during the course of implementation.

Mr. Witt asked if during the development of the Plan if the College Presidents and District Administration were involved in its development. He stated that from the Chancellor’s point of view and from the Board’s perspective, when the results are shared, is the review trigger somewhere in the performance appraisal and review of the College Presidents. Ms. Serrano responded yes, definitely in the annual review and appraisal of the College Presidents, as well as the Chancellor, and likewise within the management team of each of the entities as well. She reported that there was a District-wide Strategic Planning Working Group, and everyone in the District was invited and specific invitations were sent to faculty chairs, managers, and classified representatives to attend a Student Success Summit.

Ms. Serrano indicated that there was an outside facilitator, Mr. Brad Phillips, who led the Summit with fantastic input from the faculty participants, raising questions, identifying different measures, which the Strategic Planning Working Group, again led by the faculty, went through all of those measures and identified specific measures that were ultimately brought into the Plan. She stated that the Plan was shared with the District Consultation Council with members from all employee groups, and they were asked to vet with their particular teams, and provided feedback. She stated that there were a couple of word changes, but overall the document is one that is focused on student success, collaboration, meeting the needs of the community, and preparing the students to become effective students.
Mr. Corkins commented that he agreed with Mr. Witt on accountability and to continue to measure English and Mathematics courses with metrics, and the other areas are more qualitative, not quantitative. He asked how often the Board of Trustees would expect to see an update on the Strategic Plan. Ms. Serrano stated that she would prefer to consult with the Institutional Research Team. She stated that the Institutional Research Team for the last several months has been looking at what was presented to the Board annually as it related to the Accountability Reporting for Community Colleges (ARCC) and determining how the District can disaggregate some of that data and present that to this Board. She stated that she could respond annually, she could not tell the Board beyond that at this point, as it is a work in progress.

It was moved by Mr. Witt, seconded by Mr. Corkins, and carried that the Board approve the Kern Community College District Strategic Plan, as recommended in the Educational Services Report. A copy of said Report No. E-69-11 in the Supplementary Minutes File is hereby made a part of the minutes of this meeting by reference as if fully set forth herein.
