Attention

The way you login to Bakersfield College computers has changed. You now use your college-assigned email address (example: john.smith1234@email.bakersfieldcollege.edu) as your username and the password you chose at the time of registration

Problems?

If you cannot remember your username and/or password or you've never accessed your account, please log in above with the username accounthelp@kccd.edu and leave the password blank to retrieve your credentials.
