VOL. I, No. I

OUR COLLEGE

By Edna Schofield

Have we improved? I'll say we have! When one compares last year's J. C. with this year's he can hardly believe that it has grown so much. Last year there was an enrollment of about 89 while this year there are about 110. Last year there was a very limited program, but this year a number of new courses have been added.

This is not the only way in which we have grown, however, for we have also grown in spirit. What about our football team? Think of how it has improved over last year's. Last year we had but a very few games and did not do very well in them, but this year we had a rather tentative schedule and were considered about the best of our class in California. Then, too, our girls have proved themselves to be athletes by beating all of the classes, except the Seniors, at volley ball.

For pep our J. C. cannot be beaten. Our girls have proved that fact by the support they gave our football team. Our boys have proved it by their indomitable spirit in their games and by their stunt at the rally last Friday night.

Surely, no one can say anything against our J. C. as an institution of its size. Everyone will admit that it is the best of its class.

GLEE CLUB COMING

In January the University of California Glee Club is coming here under the auspices of the Junior College.

It is up to every Junior College student to advertise and talk up this event as it promises to be one of the most entertaining affairs of the year.

The committee in charge of affairs is: Emily Anderson, chairman, Bernice Platt, Tom Weems and Lloyd Metzner.

THAT PHOENIX TRIP

After finally getting Scotty on board, we started on the best trip of our season. Everything was calm and peaceful until a small riot occurred over sleeping quarters. Mr. Ryan ended it by taking a "lower" for himself and leaving the others to the survival of the fittest.

At Mojave, Whit, George, and Tom put on a little "movie stuff" by chasing the train out of the depot.

The gang passed a peaceful night (Chris had a foot out in the aisle all night) consequently everyone was awake early.

A big delegation from the college was on hand to meet us. We were taken to the Jefferson Hotel and those of us who had appetites had breakfast.

At 9:30 we attended the Phoenix J. C. assembly--Music, yells and everything. Whit made a speech and both teams were introduced.

After we had become acquainted, we were packed in cars and taken to see Phoenix, and Arizona in general. George, Howard, and Louie had to push their car across the Rio Grande.

We were all back by 2:00 and went out to the Arabian field for practice. We had a swell workout. Then the Ford soda shop treated us to milk-shakes!

In the P. M. we were guests at the J. C. play--"His Majesty, Bunker Bean".

Can't say too much for Phoenix. They were continually trying to make our visit more pleasant.

The game was called at 2:45 and then we did have fun. When Capt. Hank yelled "Powder River", we knew the Bears were going to make ground. Hats off to Capt. Mileage.

75-0--but we made our train, and some send-off! The trip home was uneventful, but we want to thank the girls for the cigars and candy. It made up for their absence at the depot Sunday A. M.

So ended the best trip of the season. Woe to J. C. if Phoenix isn't treated right next year.

THE PAPER

This is issue number one. Each copy should be better than the preceding-but it's your paper. We need your help. It takes news to make a paper--come to us with "nothing else but", and we'll turn out the paper.

The department editors have been chosen for their ability, and because they have time to give the paper--but we must all be reporters. Let's go!

EDITOR:

THAT PORTER

He said he had played guard in his younger days. With him on our team we wouldn't have had use for more than one or two other men. He made up our bunks; mended our shoes; peddled good humor and helped take part of our money. Ask Newton or Howard.

OUR ADVERTISERS

These people have jumped in with us at the very start. Repay them--patronize our advertisers.

Officer of the law: Say, are you looking for trouble?
Tom: Yeah, seen Emily?

Chris: How can women be made to dress more sensibly?
George: Kill off all the men.

Helen: There's a town in Massachusetts named after you.
Whit: Yes? What's its name?
Helen: Marblehead.

Scotty: I went to a stag party last night.
Spindt: Yes, I saw you staggering home!

Erwin: I have never seen such dream eyes as yours.
Evelyn: Maybe you never stayed up so late before!

Ed: My, but doesn't travel bring out all that's in one.
Louie: Yes, especially ocean travel.

RALLY FRIDAY NIGHT

HIGH-SCHOOL NOTES

The rally Friday evening was certainly the peppiest demonstration the school has shown in an age. Everyone was there, and the high spirits were so infectious that even the town folks forgot their "bless you, Children," attitude to the extent of stamping their feet and yelling "Hooraay" with us. We hope the high school noticed that Junior College had reserved four rows of seats and filled 'em all. The effective entrance and demonstration of the Shrieking Hoo-hoos was well staged and executed. It made quite a few of our best citizens sit up and take notice and we liked it. We all admitted after seeing their stunt, which was put on after "Griff's" and Mr. Cranmer's presentation of the team, that the Shrieking Hoo-hoos, under Miss Murdock's leadership, had given a full account of themselves.

Naturally, to us the high spot of the evening was reached when our own stunt "Great Caesar's Goat", was given. Griff seemed to like it; suppose he could appreciate Chris in drapery. (So say we all of us.) George was the countless hero to perfection.

"At yew tell 'em, Sonny---" Long Beach Caesar had to be crowned to make the story come out right but we have certainly got to hand it to Walter for most of the big laughs. His interpretation of Caesar was vastly more appealing than the accepted one. The scene with his wife was certainly rousing. And by the way, Tom, Sarah Bernhardt had nothing on you. You had 'em all weeping.

Favey and "Scotty" did slick work as Caesar's friends. Their pantomime took and so did that of Brutus' friends. Sammy and "Casius" stood out as being unique in the mob and their original talent led us to the conclusion that the only difference between them and professionals is that theirs just came natural.

Louie's whiskers were distracting but he was a keen soothsayer--sure had Caesar going.

The stunt was centered around the downfall of "Long Beach Caesar" through "Bakers-field Brutus". It was introduced by the two conspirators' scene, Whit and Arthur, who were just about all anyone could ask.

"Fellow dumbbells-----" "Sneaky" Martin headed the stunt committee but since he was in the skit, the greater part of the work fell to Evelyn and all our thanks are due her for her efforts which resulted to successfully. Goodstuff, "Bheestie", you did us proud. Miss Bird polished up the raggedist ends with some pointers that were much appreciated.

Howard delivered the funeral oration over Caesar and it was the final touch to a snappy stunt.

We are glad we took part in the assembly because it was one of the best, and a good deal of fun to help Mike put it over.--after last Saturday, who didn't admit he was all there?

Mother: "No, Bobby, for the third time I tell you you can't have another chocolate."
Bobby (in despair): I don't see where father gets the idea that you're always changing your mind.

TRUE K. C. STYLE

The Drillers won in a very satisfactory manner from Long Beach last Saturday. Long Beach got the breaks in the first half and there were several, but the "champions" demonstrated in the last half that they are a great and typical Griffith machine. This was the last game of football to be played on Griffith Field this year. It is pleasing to remember that neither the Renegades or Drillers lost a game on the local field.

Starting with a new man in the backfield, the Drillers played very safe ball in the first half. It was quickly apparent that the beach team had no attack. The only feature of the half was Drury's punting. His kicks were high and hard to catch.

Coming back in the second half with a drive that seemed ever to increase in its power, the Griff men pushed the ball time and again into the beach territory. Harris, the new man in the backfield, went "great guns" and bucked over the first touchdown from the eight yard line. Freer scored in the last quarter on a pass that was perfectly tossed by Caldwell. Hansen featured by intercepting a pass and "going over."

The line played a beautiful game and everyone was thrilled when Driscen, playing end on a new formation, made a wonderful catch that completely upset the mental state of the Jackrabbit backfield.

Saturday's game was the first in which the backfield has played the calibre of ball that the line has been playing all season. The team left yesterday for San Francisco to play Lick Wilmerding tomorrow. J.-C. wants "Lick-licked."

J. C. HONOR ROLL

Eleven names, an increase of seven, grace this month's honor roll. It is pleasing to note the name of a football man crowded in with the rest, the majority of whom are girls.

- These "B" students are:
- Emily Anderson Madeline App
 - Dorothy Cure Marguerite Dodds
 - Evelyn Derby Walter Bailey
 - Richard Dodge Margaret Nugent
 - Evelyn Rummich Erwin Owen
 - Mae Saunders

BUG-HOUSE FABLES

Miss Bird forgot to give a French assignment.

Emily didn't speak to Tom all day.

"Chuck" lost money matching pennies.

Erwin took a cut.

"Bheestic" knew her lessons.

Chris got 100% on his French ex.

"Bevo" was on time this morning.

Tom didn't go to Robesky's 6th period.

Ethel Holson kept still for half an hour.

Louie had a breakdown from over work.

Alton Newton weighed only 145 last week.

Helen Grubb never hungry.

George didn't see a girl all day.

Mrs. Dodds didn't know her English lesson.

Everyone in Mr. Potter's class got 90 for the month.

The J. C.'s lost their pep.

Mr. Ryan lost his temper.

The J. C. study hall was used as such.

Mr. Crow didn't use a long word once in economics.

WITH THE "600"

A number of Junior Collegians attended the Junior dance given in the Gym last Saturday. The "Renegades" agreed that it was a keen dance.

Whit Martin, Harriet Coleman, Clyde Manley and Evelyn Derby stopped in at the Charity Ball last Friday evening.

"Los Papaguyos", the Junior College Spanish Club, spent a jolly evening Thursday at Jean's Tamale House. Four new members were initiated. A Spanish dinner was served at a late hour.

A few J. C. students attended the Sciots' dance given last Friday night at the Bakersfield Garage Hall.

Gloom has settled on the happy J. C. crowd. One of our most active members is leaving us. Beulah Luncford leaves next Saturday or Sunday to take up her school at Southern Branch. Good luck to you! Beulah.

Glenn Feely is with us for a few days. He just finished a semester at "Caltech" and is now recuperating from his "ex's."

Dear Sainty Claus: Please send me a Frainch Dictionary, some tobacco for my pipe, and a book on "How to Act When Discovering Your English Grade." G. N.

How did you enjoy the dance, Clyde?

Lost--A lot of valuable time. Finder please return to Louis Brandt, and receive reward.

Why is Tom feverishly searching the pawnshops?

Strayed--A tall specimen of humanity formerly on Renegado Team. Might answer to name of "Brackie". Information welcomed. R. A.

So the All-staters were whacked at Porterville. Why didn't you give the two best men a chance?

Scotty evidently has Phoenix on the brain. He told Bevo he had a T. B. for her.

J. C. IN TIE FOR THIRD
C. C. C. Standings

School	Won	Lost	Per.

Bakersfield J. C.	1	1	500
San Mateo	1	3	250
Sacramento J. C.	0	3	000
San Jose State	0	4	000

Unfortunately Fresno and Pacific were unable to get together and for that reason the championship remains a tie. All other games were played with the exception of the Modesto-Bakersfield game.

TEAM'S RECORD

Taft	10	J. C.	6
Delano	0	J. C.	25
Loyola	13	J. C.	0
Santa Ana	0	J. C.	26
Santa Barbara	13	J. C.	19
Fresno State	32	J. C.	6
Sacramento	0	J. C.	14
Phoenix	74	J. C.	0

It is to be noticed that the team was blanked only twice but turned the trick three times on opponents. Our games, with the exception of the Delano game, were all tough. Now let's start thinking of next year.

BASKET BALL

Although J. C. was defeated by the high school in its first basket ball game of the season to a tune of 35 to 15, it does not mean that we are going to give up. J. C. showed lack of organization, due to the fact that they had only one night's practice previous to the game. At the end of the first half the score was 9 to 11 in favor of the high school, but in the second half J. C. showed more class by only allowing the high school to score 4 points and they themselves scored 4. Those playing for J. C. were Brown, Martin, Adams, Dally, Dicky. Subs were Brandt,

Newburg, Metzner. H. S. lineup: True, Blalock, Moore, Monday, Jung. Subs: Conklin.

J. C. has plenty of material for a good basketball team, but nothing can be done unless more come out. Coach Sagen stated Monday night that 4 men showed up for practice. This is not enough.

GIRLS' VOLLEY BALL

Is the J. C. volley ball team happy? If you don't think so, you're crazy! Just think--the J. C. girls surprised the Freshmen--not to say anything about themselves--and incidentally showed their fitness by winning three out of four games.

Their first battle was with the Juniors and turned out a J. C. victory, though the team work on either side was "not so good". Then the Seniors defeated us. This was an excellent game but not especially so for us. But--gr--blood--blood--ah--then we ate up the Freshmen--er--that is--almost. At any rate the score was in our favor! Last but not least was the battle with the Sophs. And this was not such an easy victory, either. But you may see just what the scores were by the following: (J. C. points written first)

J. C. vs. Juniors--20-21; 21-18; 21-18.

J. C. vs. Seniors--19-21; 12-21.

J. C. vs. Fresh--21-20; 8-21; 21-9.

J. C. vs. Sophs--21-13; 21-15.

More than a little credit is due Miss Rayburn, and Beulah Lunsford, who captained the following "Renegadettes" to victory: Emily Anderson, Evelyn Dorby, Georgia Rupp, Jessie Winn, Cora Waugh, Ethel Holson, Ellen Owen, Joanna Morgan, Harriet Seat, Goldie Branch, Billie Dewey, Edna Scofield, Mildred Salyer, Bernice Platt, and Genevieve Hoar.

If it embarrasses a girl to show her leg, she doesn't show it.
