Renegades Play For Valley Title Today

"Mr. Pim Passes By" Will Be Presented Here Tomorrow

RIPPING RENEGADE ROUGUES

This afternoon the Renegades will play the Fresno State freshmen for the valley Junior College football championship on the local field. A hard-fought game is predicted for the tilt, the two teams being evenly matched in playing ability.

The Renegades have a slight edge over the Frosh as to comparative scores in the games with Taft. Two weeks ago the Frosh took the Taft Jays for a 10 to 0 defeat. The first title was practically donated to the Frosh as a result of two 15-yard penalties which placed the ball on Taft's six-yard line and gave Fresno first down. The following week the locals cleaned Taft 26 to 0, playing superior ball during the entire game. As to scoring power, the comparative scores give the Renegades a record better than Fresno's; still it might be well to remember that Taft may have been somewhat weak in last Friday's game because they had played Fresno on Armistice Day, just four days prior to the game here.

There is no doubt that the Frosh played excellent defensive football in holding the Drillers to a 0 to 0 tie in the early part of the season. The Renegades and the Drillers play an entirely different type of football, so it is possible that the Fresno defense may not hold against the Renegades.

The locals played good football last week against Taft and the Renegades have good hopes of winning the valley title this afternoon by playing the same type of game against the teachers. Fresno is reported to have an attack similar to the one employed by Taft, and the locals were able to hold Taft to one first down in the first half.

Although it is uncertain whether the winner of the valley title will play the southern and northern champions for a state Jaycee title, arrangements are being made whereby the Renegades will play a post-season game of some sort, providing they make a good showing against Fresno.

Efforts are being made to secure the game away from home, probably with Menlo Junior College or Modesto Jaycee, both schools having high ranking teams.

Budding Geologists Travel to Red Rock

Professor Van Der Elke, purveyor of geological enlightenment, led his class over the hills to Red Rock Canyon last Sunday to study the volcanic formations of the country thereabouts.

The little band of automobile and three machines halted at the mouth of the canyon and poured forth a mob of eager youths and lasses, who listened with awe to Mr. Van Der Elke's words of wisdom. Among the formed words of pleasure, minecence and other ages, Ed Stanley remarks that "this must be the obscene age." After a time of eating gritty sandwiches and looking about in the lava for rare crystals, the journey to the petrified forest was resumed. At the forest a guide led the amazed youngsters "through the petrified trees. The petrified worm holes drew much attention and a search for petrified worms was started—but in vain."

The forest management presented the class with several fossilized teeth and other objects of great practical interest,

Jaysy Journalists Meet in Long Beach

Big things happened down in Long Beach on November 2, when the Cali-nomian Jaycees held their first national meeting at the Hotel Beverly. As the name implies, the biggest thing was the fact that Jayces from all over the state were united in a national organization.

The meeting was attended by the Jaycees of various parts of the state, and many of the officers and directors of the state Jaycees were also there.

The meeting was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Beverly, and the Jayces spent the day of their meeting in various panels and workshops.

Wilson Talks at Kappa Meeting

A get-together meeting was held Monday, November 14, by the Kappa Jaycees at the Belvedere. A trip to the Belvedere was planned, and the Jayces spent the day in various panels and workshops.

RENEGADES, WOW!

The Renegades' chances of becoming valley champions is good after the game with Taft last Friday, which gave the team the long-sought third place.

The game was held at the Taft High School in Bakersfield, and the Renegades emerged victorious with a score of 21-7. The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams displaying top-notch performance.

The Renegades' victory against Taft is a significant achievement, as it marks their progress towards the valley championship. The team's hard work and dedication have paid off, and their success serves as a testament to their determination and skill.

The Renegades now stand at the third position in the valley standings, securing their place among the top teams. Their upcoming games will be crucial in determining their final position, and the team will need to maintain their momentum to secure their place as valley champions.

Deceptive Offense Scores Four Times For Locals

Just as the chickens were going home to roost last Friday evening, the Kern county championship came home to roost on the capable shoulders of the Renegade football eleven. The 26 to 0 beating handed the Taft Jaycee team by Spud Harder's Stanford-patterned "outfit" on that same eventful evening may have had some effect on the championship choice of a resting place.

After being held to one touchdown through three quarters, the Renegades' smashing attack in the last fifteen minutes of play at last cut through to the Taft goal line—one, twice, three times.

With the deceptive Renegade offense, the Taft line yielded long gains and again, through all stages of the game, only to tighten up and hold firm as they were forced back towards their goal posts. In the final quarter, however, their splendid defense crumbled before the persistent Bakersfield drive.

Gabriel scored the Renegades' first touchdown in the opening quarter after a beautifully executed pass from Tyack to Zoul, good for a gain of 60 yards, had left the ball on Taft's three-yard line. Tyack scored the next two, the first on a 45-yard run and the second after he had sprinted 70 yards down the field. Girard made the last one possible when he intercepted a Taft pass and ran to the Taft two-yard line. Watts took the ball over.

Tyack played outstanding football throughout, his long passes being constant threats, while he ate up yardage by the 20-yard strip. Wilton and Tuzko brought the grandstand to its feet at regular intervals with their dodging, spinning end runs. Whenever it was a case of having to have that extra yard to make first down, Gabriel was the boy who put his head down and bore his way through. Jules Girard took an active part in the Renegades' offense.

Renee Bothe, who is only one instance did the Renegade line weaken, in the third quarter, when Taft started a drive from the Bakersfield 42-yard line and reached the 10-yard line before being halted. To retaliate, the Renegades then took the ball, after Emile Girard had intercepted what was to have been Taft's scoring pass, and advanced it

To say that Basil Peterson, the new Renegade basketball coach, has a basketball record as long as he is might be termed by some an exaggeration—the moreso inasmuch as Mr. Peterson is approximately 6 feet tall. Well, one won't take our word for it. Look for yourself.

Mr. Peterson started playing basketball when he was just a little boy, probably not much over 6 feet tall in high school. That year the Berkeley High School quintette, of which Peterson was center, won the state championship. Newspapers called him an all-state center, whatever that means.

Then Mr. Peterson entered the University of California and, possibly because of his pleasing personality, he was elected captain of the Frosh five. Two years as center and sometimes forward on the U. C. Variety round out his college basketball career. It is an interesting coincidence that during both of these seasons U. C. won the Pacific Coast Conference title.

Last year, as a graduate student at Berkeley, he played with the Athens Athletic Club of Oakland, which was runner-up in the Pacific Athletic Association to which it belonged.

Mr. Peterson has come to Bakersfield this year as a science teacher in the high school. He has been assisting Jack Frost in coaching the lightweight football squad. Soon he will take over the Jaycee basketball squad.

And may his name continue to be associated with such cheerful things as championships!

89 yards down the field without once losing possession.

With the mighty "Tiny" Martin for his bulwark, the line held perfectly while the backfield was going through its steps.

"Thank you" is occasionally an inadequate term. Can it convey to the man who has coached the Renegade football team to county championship and a position as one of the strongest junior college teams in the state, then "Spud" Harder, an idea of our appreciation of his work?

Mr. Harder has been donating his services to the eleven. It became known a month ago that he would have to complete several more units of work at Stanford before he could obtain his teacher's license, and that until then his name could not appear on the school payroll.

Rather than give up the work he had started, however, he chose to remain as unofficial coach to the Renegade squard.

He has accomplished that which he started to do—to-teach those boys how to forge Stanford plays to a junior college eleven, and turned out a winning team.

Immediately following the close of the football season, Mr. Harder will return to Stanford for a short period in order to complete his university work. He expects to return to Kern County Junior College with the coming of the new year.

JAYSEE TENNIS MEN ORGANIZE

Organizing Tuesday, October 28, tennis players of the Kern County Junior College voted to hold weekly practice sessions on Thursday afternoons to augment the gym periods. Mr. Lysa, who is now busy with after school classes but who will be free later in the year, has agreed to coach the Jaycee team, and it is hoped to schedule games with other junior colleges of the San Joaquin valley after New Years.

Among those who are now following the game are Marlon Smith, Cornelius Siemens, Herbert Enns, Harold Godfrey and Jack Poe.

Siemens is the owner of the Wasco High School interclass, cup, having made good his title by winning it three times already. Peterson and Tabor are all experienced players. Teals is a beginner, but is making progress.

Women's Team—Tie in Soccer Tourney

The last soccer game of the season, played Tuesday, ended with prained toes, kicked shins, and a 0 to 0 score. The Sophomore women's determination to annihilate the younger co-eds met with an equally destructive aim of the Freshmen, and no goals were gained by either side during four games.

Soccer, a much rougher and faster game than Association, is rather wearing on the more tender portions of the players' shins, toes and dispositions.

The Women who played on the teams were: Freshmen—Marion Harmon, captain; Marie Pieper; Helen Rawley, Ralpha Sanders, Peggy Etzel, Eva Sisson; Katherine Godde, Margaret, Bapite, Alwatha Hall, Lillian Reynolds, Evelyn Hill, Helen Jarman, Betty Peterson, Edna Kelly, Hazel Beht, Ruth Denal.

Sophomores—Kathlyn Krammes, captain; Jewell Permenter, Helen Olson, Virginia Bristol, Evelyn Palmer, Jeannelle Eskridge, Mariana Lorens, Carol Buchner, Lucie Geggman, Gerdude Williams, Ruth Kin.
