

"The Queen's Husband" to Be Presented Junior College Federation to Convene at Fresno State

Women's Activities to Be Emphasized at March 15 Meet

Bakersfield Junior College Students to Take Advantage of Valley Special

Emphasizing women's activities, the spring conference of the Central California Junior College Association will convene at Fresno State Teacher's College at 10 o'clock on the morning of March the 15th.

The general session, which will take place at this time, will be given over to the reports by the commissioners of the various departments. There will also be a main speaker, as yet undecided, as well as a number of informal talks.

Immediately following this a get-together will be held for the interest of those who are not participating in the business meetings of the forensic, athletic, or other groups which will be held at this time also.

At the conclusion of the morning's business a luncheon will be served in the cafeteria, which, by the way, will cost 50 cents.

When all are well fed and crave excitement they may find an excellent program of women's sports and a no less excellent review of men's athletics, favoring a number of track events, and perhaps, a little baseball. For the very ultra ultra of entertainment it is suggested that one witness the big baseball game between a team selected from the students and another from amongst the various faculties, the very "cream of the crop," no doubt.

For the less sporty and more enduring, nevertheless aesthetic, the dance in the gym is suggested.

The transportation to and from said conference, judging from the popularity of the last trip on the special, bids fair to be a main feature of the day. If there are 50 passengers signed for the train when it leaves Bakersfield and 50 more when it leaves Visalia, the Southern Pacific management will provide a special from Taft through Bakersfield, Porterville, Exeter and Visalia. The round trip fare will be the same as an ordinary one way price, which, from Bakersfield is $3.90. The special will contain chair cars, an observation car, and a baggage car.

STUDENTS URGED TO TAKE PART IN ORATORY CONTEST

The sixth and final national intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the U. S. Constitution will be held at Los Angeles, June 19, 1930. It is open to every college student in America.

The orations should be original and not exceeding 1500 words in length. Mr. Tallman has a tentative list of subjects.

K. C. J. C. students are urged to take part in this contest. There will be contests within the college to select the speakers, state contests, zone contests, then the National final in Los Angeles on June 19, 1930. A place in the National finals carries with it the assurance of one of the seven cash awards, ranging from $400 to $1500.

Play to Be Given on Two Evenings Friday, Saturday

Excellent Cast Marshalled for Sparkling Comedy by Sherwood

On Friday, February 28, and Saturday, March 1, "The Queen's Husband" will be presented by the Junior College student body in the high school auditorium. The play, written by Robert Emmet Sherwood, is the author's second attempt in the field of drama. His first play was "Road to Rome," that daring play played with such phenomenal success in Boston and New York by Jane Cowl. "The Queen's Husband" is every bit as good as, and perhaps better than Sherwood's first attempt. It is a brilliant, witty, satirical comedy whose characters are beautifully drawn and whose dialogue is extremely sparkling.

The play is about a whimsical, mild-mannered king who is more interested in penguins and checkers than in affairs of state. He is constantly disturbed by his secretary and the explosive commander of military forces, and greatly troubled by his daughter, Princess Anne, whose marriage to a good-for-nothing prince has been arranged by the queen. Anne, being a modern young woman who prefers her own choice, is desperately in love with young Granton, her father's secretary. The King is sympathetic but is helpless against the dominating personality of Queen Martha until she finds it necessary to leave for America to raise some much-needed money.

Later the King's delightfully amusing checker game with his footman is interrupted by an exciting revolution which Eric handles with such characteristic nonchalance that he captivates even his enemies. In the third act the Queen has returned with the money and dozens of press-books full of pictures and clippings. The day is set for Anne's wedding to the prince. The Cathedral is prepared and everything is in readiness. The Queen awaits, the band plays, and at the last moment..... but come and see what happens for yourself.

The play is more or less a satire on the pretended powers of the throne with, perhaps, a sly poke at Queen Marie of Roumania thrown in. It was

Varsity Debaters Will Meet Weber

Probably one of the most important of our non-conference debates takes place in Bakersfield with Weber College, Utah, at the Congregational Church on the evening of March 2 at 8 o'clock.

The question will be: Resolved: That all nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament, excepting such forces necessary for police protection.

The K. C. J. C. team will uphold the negative.

The Weber College debate team has an enviable reputation, having very few defeats to its record.

Our own representatives under the leadership of debate coach Leland C. Tallman have been working hard on their speeches.

The same question will be discussed when our team meets Taft and Fresno in our first conference debates to be held at a later date.

DEBATE ON CHAIN STORE POSTPONED

The long awaited debate between Mr. Tallman's public speaking class and Glendale Junior College has been postponed from February 21 to a tentative date of March 21.

Twenty-four New Students Enroll

Bakersfield junior college claims 21 new students enrolled this semester. Former junior college students who have been absent during the past semester and special students lead the list of newcomers.

Kenneth Birdsall from Ventura, Leo Milroy from Los Angeles, and Mrs. Carlyn Clayton and Raymond Clasen from Delano comprise the list of students who enrolled from other than local schools.

Former J. C. students who have re-enrolled this semester are: Richard Bruce, William Davies, Alice Dairu, Gerald and Harold Estep, Ray Green, Chester Homme, and Lora Ives.

The special commercial students are: Helen DeKay, Betty Eggers, Mary Gibbons, Genevieve Hughes and Mrs. Helen Sanders.

Those who come from K. C. H. S. are: Jack Altson, Donald Baker, Sinclair Ives, Victor Lewaster, John Renfree and Joe Tener.

Sidney Peters, a meteorologist at the K. C. Airport, completes the list.

If you don't think Charlie Dumble can sing, you should hear him chant the "Renegade Football" Anthem.

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

If there's anything that hurts the pride of a Renegade, it's getting out at the end of eighth period and leaving the Study Hall for the exclusive use of the high school debate class. At that time of day, there are any number of vacant class rooms that would serve as battle grounds for the debaters, so why the Study Hall was chosen is somewhat of a question.

The Jayseers who have to wait till four o'clock for the bus, or the participants of the play who have to wait for play rehearsal found in the hall a place for real study during the afternoon hours—that is, until a sign appeared on the door announcing that "The high school debate class will use this room every ninth and tenth period." The students concerned are wondering if something can't be done about the situation.

OMEGA TAU, AN ACTIVE ORGANIZATION

The adviser of one of the clubs at Jaysee announced that no definite date was set for the next meeting because of the members' participation in other school activities. The club is Omega Tau, the national honor society, the membership of which is restricted to those students who have amassed 32 grade points with no grade less than "C" in a semester.

The adviser's announcement blasts the belief that all honor students are bookworms and do not join in other activities than the pursuit of knowledge. The campus now is full of students who are active in athletics, dramatics, or club work, or all three combined, and the odd part of it is that the most active ones are the honor students. This fact should not discourage any non-honor society member from being an active member of organizations, but it should be an incentive toward raising both the estimation in which he holds the honor student, and his own ideals of accomplishment in activity and scholarship.

PLAY TO BE GIVEN ON TWO EVENINGS FRIDAY, SATURDAY

put on at Stanford last year with Gordon Davis, director of dramatics, in the part of the King and was adjudged the best play of the year.

The part of the King is very well done locally by Jack Teale, who makes his dramatic debut in this production. Incidentally, the uniform he wears in the last act is the same one worn by John Barrymore in "General Crack." The part of the Queen is taken by Charlotte Ann Moore, who introduced into her interpretation some of the pathos of "Mrs. Partridge" combined with the dominating personality of "Mrs. Harrington" in "The Patsy." Charlotte Ann will also be remembered for her excellent work in "The Goose Hangs High" and "Mr. Pim Passes By."

The juvenile leads are being taken by Peggy Elrod as Princess Anne and Cornelius Siemons as Granton; both are doing excellent work.

The entire cast includes: "Frederic complete with jazz orchestra and a good dance floor.

A box lunch, obtainable on the train, may be had for 50 cents on the return trip.

The honor society of the Taft J. C. now boasts twelve members, a record almost comparable with that of our own Omega Taus.

Jaysee Dramatic Successes of Past Six Seasons Are Reviewed

March 7, 1924, inaugurated a dramatic program in Bakersfield Junior College that has been excelled by no other school of junior college rating. That day was the date of the production of "Little Women," the first junior college play directed by Miss Ethel Robinson. "Little Women," incidentally, had cast in two of the important roles, Miss Bernice Platt and Miss Evelyn Rummich, now members of the high school faculty.

The second production under the direction of Miss Robinson was "Captain Applejack," presented in February, 1925. "Captain Applejack" was a story of the Arabian Nights, pirates, hidden treasures, and maidens in distress. Ambrose Applejohn, the bored English gentleman who changes into a pirate, was played by Manuel Ayala. Playing in the role of the heroine was Miss Eleanor Stephens.

In 1926 the junior college produced "Cappy Ricks" and "Alice in Wonderland." Al Johnson and Willis Bouchey interpreted the two leading male parts in "Cappy Ricks." Messrs. Johnson and Bouchey are reputed to have been two of the best actors developed in the junior college. The gleam of the brilliant success of "Cappy Ricks" was somewhat dulled by the production in the same year of "Alice in Wonderland." "Alice in Wonderland" had a very large cast as well as extraordinary stage setting.

This production of Lewis Carroll's famous play required the March Hare's garden in which Alice measured herself against the huge mushroom; the mad tea party where Alice met the two warriors, Tweedledee and Tweedledum; the hall of doors, where Alice met the White Rabbit; and many other difficult settings. "Alice in Wonderland" was highly acclaimed in

"Traveling Twins" Return to Jaysee

Our world travelers have returned. Harold and Gerald Estep, the twins, who left last June for the high seas, are back with lots of interesting adventures.

Both hold licenses of first class radio operators. Harold has been the radio operator of the 100,000-ton merchant ship, the Nebraskan, carrying freight to different ports, up the Pacific coast, through the Panama Canal, Chile, and back to American soil, stopping at New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Charleston.

Although his ship was never in actual danger, he heard many distress signals around the Gulf of Mexico. At one time one of the sailors was washed overboard, but luckily, was saved.

Gerald signed on the 14,000-ton merchant ship on June 20. His course included Portland, Vancouver, Pana-articles written in national dramatic journals.

Three plays, "Going Some," "The Bad Man," and "Icebound" were presented during the year of 1927. Willis Bouchey interpreted the title roles in both "Going Some" and the "Bad Man." "The Bad Man" is remembered by some as the best school play presented in Bakersfield.

"Little Old New York" and "Treasure Island" were given as the junior college plays of 1928. Both plays were outstanding productions. "Little Old New York" was a story of historic period of 1800. Charles Marshall played opposite to Fay Helm in the title roles of the production. "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson's story of pirates bold, was awarded first honors in a nation wide contest under the auspices of the Woman's Home Companion for student production of children's plays. Accompanying the award of first honors was a check for $500 which was to be spent on permanent equipment for the production of children's plays. Gerald Rencher was cast in the part of Long John Silver. Miss Georgie Starbuck was given the role of Jim Hawkins. The cast consisted of 30 members.

Last year "The Goose Hangs High" was presented. Miss Charlotte Ann Moore and Gerald Rencher played as the fond parents who sacrificed everything for their children—Leslie Buchner and Jewell Permenter provided the humor in the play as the two youngest children of the family. Besides "The Goose Hangs High" many one-act plays and noon assemblies have been given. One of the best of the one-act plays was "Nettie" which was presented before the Valley Junior College Conference meeting at Reedley.

ma Canal, Columbia in South America, Philadelphia, New York, Poughkeepsie, and San Francisco. While in the east he visited many places of interest, including Vassar College whose entire student body is women. Gerald informed us we would be very much surprised at what he was doing there.

Returning to San Francisco, he worked for the R. C. A. for a month, and then signed on a lumber ship traveling between Coos Bay in Oregon and Bay Point near San Francisco, later signing as a radio operator for three months on the "Fourwinds," a private yacht owned by the millionaire Stanley G. Harris.

While on the way to New York he had the exciting experience of being between two hurricanes for six days. The twins have each kept a diary of their trips, have taken many interesting pictures, and have done writing, chiefly in poetry.

Next summer, they will sign as radio operators again. Both have offers which they are considering.

Work of Miss Ethel Robinson in Dramatics Wins Wide Acclaim

Miss Ethel Robinson, junior college dramatics instructor, has specialized in the direction of plays rather than in acting. Miss Robinson was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley. Her work in dramatics was continued in Boston at the Edith Coburn Noyes School of Dramatic Art. During the summer of 1923 in the School of the Theater at the University of California, Miss Robinson's work in the construction of marionettes was highly complimented. Miss Robinson's interpretation of Shaw's "Major Barbara" in recital while a student in the Edith Coburn School of Dramatic Art, however, has been considered one of the high spots of her career before the footlights.

On graduation from the Edith Coburn School Miss Robinson remained at that institution as an assistant. Her next experience in the direction of plays was gained as a teacher of dramatics in the Williamsport College of Pennsylvania. From Pennsylvania Miss Robinson went to the Oklahoma State College to act in the capacity of a teacher of dramatics. Miss Robinson left Oklahoma to come to teach in Bakersfield.

Morro Bay Raided by "Zoo" Students

Friday afternoon, February 7, twenty-one zoology students, together with chaperons and a few friends, motored to Morro Bay where they spent the weekend gathering some of the small sea animals that were studied during the past semester.

In preparation for the serious business of the trip various members of the group showed themselves in unusual roles. Respectable J. C. boys appeared as purloiners of firewood; Mr. Ingles as a song leader, Frank Bennett as a ukulele artist; even a single bed attempted to do its duty by nine girls.

Merriment afforded by these exotic exhibitions was no greater than the cold for those who braved an early morning swim; nor than the dismay of those who were later (not late) visitors at the restaurants. Next time, it is said, the girls will take their own boxed doughnuts and thermosed coffee.

At noon on Saturday all went to Cayucus, where starfish were gathered for next year's zoology class. Many interesting animals were found, as well as a few rare and unusual ones. One of the boys brought back a seal's head. To the disappointment of everyone, however, no octopi were seen.

Dirty and tired, but a wee bit more learned, the students sought their cars to return, some directly, some after a stay at San Luis Obispo and Oceana, some via Santa Barbara and the Ridge Route.

"Alice in Wonderland" and "Treasure Island," junior college plays directed by Miss Robinson, have been acclaimed in national dramatic magazines, the latter having been awarded first honors and a $500 prize in a national contest arranged by the Woman's Home Companion. Cuts from the play "Treasure Island" appeared in the "Book on the Theater" by Charles Stratton and also in Constance D'Arcy's book on children's plays. In a coming issue of the "Theater and School," the magazine published by the dramatics teachers of California, there will appear cuts from "Mr. Pim Passes By" which was presented this year by the Delta Psi Omega, the local junior college dramatic society.

As pupils of Miss Robinson three persons are now outstanding in the dramatic field. Al Johnson, who has at that institution as an assistant. Her next experience in the direction of plays was gained as a teacher of dramatics in the Williamsport College of Pennsylvania. From Pennsylvania Miss Robinson went to the Oklahoma State College to act in the capacity of a teacher of dramatics. Miss Robinson left Oklahoma to come to teach in Bakersfield.

Those who made the trip are Mrs. B. H. Dye, Mrs. G. B. Behan, Miss Evelyn Palmer, Glenn Gregory, Miss Harriett Rogers, Willie Goldberg, Miss Helen Jarmon, Ray Carter, Glenn Lindquist, Virgil Douglas, Horace Branch, Joe Goodwin, Frank Bennett, Wayne Stahl, Roy Davis, Edwin Donat, James Ware, Miss Aleene Fletcher, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Ruth Johnson, Miss Catherine Dennis, Miss Margaret Baptie and Miss Evelyn Hite.

Well, we hear that there is going to be another special to the spring conference this year. Undoubtedly there will be a goodly number of students on board said special as this time all of the junior colleges will have delegates aboard, while last fall Bakersfield alone commanded a special. This train will have the added attraction of a car for dancing as well as the usual observation platform (for use after dark). We have danced on a boat but a dance on a train is a new one on us.

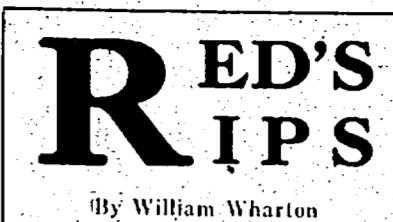

BETTING? OH MY NO!

This sort of thing can't go on. In other words betting must stop, that is, if the losers cannot pay their debts. Ask Miss Bird if you doubt my word. You see she knows all about it for at the Varsity Club dinner the other night it appears as if Ed Stanley contrived an original way of pronouncing Flor D'Italia. Something like Plee-or, or maybe Flora! Well, anyway, Dean Bird, always the defender of the truth, said it was "Fee-or." An argument ensued with a little money involved. As per usual Miss Bird was right and Ed now owes her 25 cents.

But that isn't the point. He hasn't paid her yet and now the Dean is devising all kinds of extortion and persecution to get the dough, among which are lawn mowing and the odd jobs about the ranch. I understand she has a stable of very fine horses by the way.

"As a last resort there is always graduation to fall back on," remarks the Dean.

When interviewed, Stanley, with a sly look on his face said, "Well its a cinch I won't have to mind the baby."

ORGANIZATIONS

OMEGA TAU
Omega Tau, Jaysee honor society, has ten members for this semester, according to Miss Evelyn Likely, president of the organization. They are as follows: Floyl Cook, Herschel Champlin, John Crawford, Cornelius Siemons, Virginia Munn, Billy Rowland, James Vizzard, Jeanne Abadie, Evelyn Likely, and Jeanette Eskridge, a permanent member.

Although the next meeting will be held within a short time, no definite date or place has been set because of the participation of many of the members in other forthcoming school events. Miss Likely said.

SHORT STORY GROUP

Chicken dinner and original short stories featured the first meeting of the short story section of the Scribblers' Club, held at the home of Frank Bennett, at Panama, Wednesday, February 12.

From discussion of the stories evolved a plan for members to write competitive stories from a single plot, and to consider entering in magazine contests some of the stories to be perfected.

The next meeting of the group will be held with the section adviser, Miss Miriam Gately, on March 19.

The following people were present: Miss Stearns, adviser of Scribblers' Club; Miss Gately, adviser of the short-story group; Miss Nancy Ann Holson, Mrs. Eola Rogers, Frank Bennett, Mrs. E. H. Allen, Fred Patterson, Miss Ruth Johnson, Miss Viola Mobley, Miss Margaret Burton, Miss Ann Derby and Joe Goodwin, a guest.

VARSAITY CLUB

At a meeting of the Varsity Club held last Wednesday night, it was decided to hold an initiation for the men who have made their letter in basketball, March 7 at the Fior D'Italia. Men who have made their letters in basketball by playing sixty minutes of league basketball are: Rodgers, Siemons, Snider, Crawford, Marshall, Stanley, Goodwin, Tatsuno, Wardwell and Rencher.

Also men who have earned their letters in football but who have failed to receive them will be invited to the initiation. These candidates are Schamblyn, Tyack, E. Girard, J. Girard, Wilton, Zaul, Gabriel, Dougherty, Nicely and Martin.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKERS ARE TO MEET ON APRIL 17

The extemporaneous speaking contest will be held April 17 at Fresno State College.

This contest is open to all. Contestants may prepare their speeches on any subject they wish. On the day of the contest they will be asked to speak extemporaneously on some phase of their subject chosen by the board in charge.

Mr. Tallman, debate coach, will be glad to give further information to those interested.

Coach Harder Directs First Workouts for Baseball Nine

Baseball practice began on Monday, 24th, with high prospects for a successful season for the Renegades. Seventeen men have signified their intentions of coming out regularly, and more are hoped for. A fine schedule is being arranged, and interest is expected to reach a high pitch. Coach Harder says that he wants every loyal male Renegade who possibly can, to turn out for practice as there will be plenty of chance to make the team.

This year will mark the first time that the Bakersfield Junior College has really gotten baseball minded, and with the following schedule, the dates of which are not yet available, it should stay that way: Three games with local Junior League teams; the Bakersfield Chryslers; two games with Visalia Junior College (tentative); Coach Billy Smith of the Visalia team is reported as being very much in favor of the two-game series; two games with Taft Junior College (also tentative). If Porterville and Reedley Junior College have teams, it is highly probable that we shall play them both.

USE RECREATION PARK

Practice has been arranged as follows: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at Griffith Field, practicing fundamentals; Tuesdays and Thursdays at Recreation Park, where the first and second teams will battle each other in practice games. Practicing three days a week at Griffith Field will give the various track men wishing to come out for baseball as well as track, a chance to practice both. The time is late in the afternoon to give the Renegades who are driving high school busses a chance to come out, also.

GOOD MATERIAL

Some very good material has been lined up. Those who are expected to turn out regularly are: Glenn Lindquist, catcher; "Pop" Gabriel, second base and pitcher; Charley Marshall, infield; Norton Smith, infield; Ray Courtney, short stop; "Pinky" Davis, outfield; Ray Carter, outfield; Jim Tyack, pitcher and first base; Ed Stanley, infield; Harry Tatsuno, pitcher and infield; Jim Hare, outfield and first base; "Chubby" Taber, infield; Joe Goodwin, outfield; and Leslie Buchner, outfield.

We were asked the other day by a Taft J. C. supporter if the boys on our melon tossing squad greased themselves, because he just knew that the Taft team could hold them otherwise.

At last! Diogenes here's your man! Says Billy Rowland, "I have no athletic ability."

Post-Season Tilts Split by Jaysees

Content after their victory over Visalia on February 14, the Renegades won over the Santa Fe Railway basketball team of San Francisco by a score of 37 to 22 in the gymnasium Monday night, February 17. A crowd of 300 watched them do it and went away satisfied.

Coach Petersen started the second string against the Apprentices, but after the first few minutes of play put his first team into action, and from then on the score remained in their favor.

Siemens, outstanding player in the Renegade group, was high point man with an individual total of 17 points. He played little more than half the game.

Marshall, captain and center, gave a fine exhibition of floorwork and efficient ball handling throughout the entire game.

On the Santa Fe side, Tula, right forward, and Nelson, center, were the principal scorers for the northern team. Tula had 12 points to his credit.

The Renegade second team, again entering the game in the last few minutes of play, finished the game.

RENEGADES LOSE TO ROUX & KUENTZEL

In their last game of the season, the Bakersfield Junior College basketball team were defeated 59 to 28 by a fast collection of Roux & Kuentzel sharpshooters. The Renegades put up a stiff battle, but there were too many dead eyes on the night school league team.

The line-up was as follows:

Renegades	R. & K.
Wardwell (8).....F.....	Roth (12)
Snider (9).....F.....	Goertz (12)
Marshall (5).....C.....	Heber (4)
Goodwin.....G.....	Bennett (12)
Rodgers (5).....G.....	Unruh

Points by subs—R. & K., P. Goertz (10).

Holy gee! When a fellow reads about these basketball teams averaging over six feet, it makes him wonder why we don't nickname our team the "Liliputians."

"Corny" Siemens' accomplishments are not confined to the basketball court. He is an honor student and has been selected to play the male lead in the Junior College play "The Queen's Husband."

Wonder, does Coach Peterson ever get cold up there?

Junior College Track, Field Prospects Showing Up Well

Peterson's Cagers Make Good Record

"The season as a whole has been very good. Considering everything, no one could expect more from the boys than what was given," said Coach Petersen after the final game of the basketball season last Friday night with Roux and Kuentzel.

During the season, the Renegades played a total of 16 games, nine of which were won and seven lost. Of this number, five were conference games, and they won three of these. This gave them a .600 rating in the league.

The first three games of the season were with La Verne College, Roux and Kuentzel, and the San Joaquin Light and Power Co.

Scores for these three games were as follows:

Renegades 24, La Verne 39.
Renegades 18; Roux & Kuentzel 35.
Renegades 34, S. J. L. and P. Co. 19.

A practice game with Taft resulted in a victory for the locals. The score was 34 to 7. During the same week, the Renegades took the Preston team to a cleaning, and the numbers that told the tale were 45 to 21.

The first conference game of the season was with Fresno State College. It was a disappointment, for the final score was 29 to 30 in favor of Fresno State.

The next game, a practice one with the Eagles, was an easy win for the Renegades by a score of 30 to 10.

On January 25, the J. C. met the Taft Junior College in a conference game and repeated their earlier performance by defeating the oil men 44 to 10.

A conference game with Reedley J. C. on February 1 was nothing to brag about. Reedley got the breaks and the score was 15 to 19.

Another practice game with the Preston bunch favored the Renegades 23 to 14.

No alibis are in order, but everyone knows that the Roux and Kuentzel outfit were offering some good opposition this season. They won the next game by a score of 21 to 33.

On February 7, the Renegades met the Porterville team in a conference game and walked off with the honors. The tally was 41 to 23.

The third game with Roux and Kuentzel told the same old story.

The conference game with Visalia on February 14 was the third conference win for the Renegades; 36 to 30 tells everything.

That ended the season as far as the conference was concerned, but the Twenty Renegades turned out for the first official track practice held Monday, February 17, under the direction of Coach "Spud" Harder. Prospects for an eventful season are good, judging from the type of material on hand.

Tyack, Alston, Zaul, and Fox will be seen in the 100-yard dash event. Alston, a first year man, in a trial run made the distance in 10:2. Tyack, of Renegade football honors, proved his ability as a sprinter by covering the ground in 10:0 flat. Zaul runs it in 11:0 flat, but has in his favor the advantage of being able to make the fastest start.

Zaul, Fox, and Porter are entered in the 440-yard event. All display excellent running form. Porter is a newcomer here as far as track is concerned.

SOME NEWCOMERS

Norton Smith, who is making his debut into J. C. track this season, is out for low hurdle honors.

Ray Courtney, a familiar J. C. figure, has hopes of making a name for himself in the half mile.

As yet, but two millers are in evidence: Ed West and Herb Martin. Martin has been training for the mile since the first of last semester.

"Shifty" Dupes, undecided as always, is also out, but for what?

"Tiny" Martin, who is learning to heave the shot, in a recent try tossed the ball 45 feet.

PROMISING HIGH JUMPERS

In the high jump event, Wardwell and Dumble are showing promise of making some high water marks of their own.

Pole vault aspirants are not hard to name. Zaul and Wardwell are the only ones listed at present.

Jim Tyack appears to be the only one interested in the broad jump and javelin.

Those who were seen practicing the discus throw are "Tiny" Martin and Martin Gabriel. Both are good prospects.

With such a line-up, is there any reason at all why the Renegades should not rate high in the Central California Junior College Conference?

It is just as someone remarked after the game Monday night: "Those Santa Fe boys may be railroaders all right, but they sure failed to railroad a victory out of this game."

Renegades played two more games before calling it quits.

They won the game with the Santa Fe Railway team, 37 to 22, but lost once more to the sporting house outfit, 28 to 50.
