'Holiday' Will Be Presented Twice

HARDER ANNOUNCES SPRING PRACTICE FOR MARCH 16

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO THE BACKFIELD

To prepare for the defense of the Central Conference Junior College football title, Coach Theo. "Spud" Harder will trot his pigskin personalities out to the "Palace of Sunshine" for their annual spring cleaning on Monday, March 16.

The workouts will be held four days a week—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday—from 4:15 to 5:15 p. m. Uniforms will be issued immediately, so as to accustom the boys to their "luggage."

It is no secret that the Renegade mentor was not pleased with the accomplishments of the 1930 backfield. Coach Harder intends to give the ball packers plenty of chances to become intimate with the goal line next fall. The coach has new tricks and new formations to try out. Fumbling must be cut down to the minimum before the season opens.

However, such football fantasy depends on the strength of the forward wall—Coach Harder's chief concern. The departure of Martin, Dupes, McNamara, Ransom, Dumble, Wharton, Goodwin and Morthland from the varsity's lineup leaves a big draft in the line. With the aid of the new "double action" line machine, the Renegade coach hopes to "pasteurize" a few huskies.

In order to satisfy the pigskin passions of the recruits, the four weeks training session will wind up with a short-period game between the Frosh and sophs. It will give Coach Harder a glimpse of his outfit under fire.

Coach Harder announces the 1931 conference schedule as follows:

Oct. 10—Porterville J. C. (here.)

Oct. 24—Fresno State Frosh (here.) Tentative.

Oct. 31—Visalia J. C. (there.)

Nov. 14—Taft J. C. (here.)

Contracts for games with Stanford Frosh, San Bernardino and Long Beach J. C. have been signed and sealed. U. C. L. A. will pinch hit for the Fresno State Frosh babes if they withdraw from the conference. It is hoped that Ventura J. C. will agree to open the season with the locals on Griffith Field Sept. 26.

The "Pal" system is used at Pasadena J. C. to promote the friendly spirit of that institution. The upper classmen are the "pals", each taking charge of four new students.

PORTERVILLE IS HOST TO SPRING J. C. CONFERENCE

ALL STUDENT PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR COLLEGES

Porterville Jaysee is to be host to the Junior Colleges of the valley at the spring conference on April 11. As Porterville is centrally located and as there are no other activities planned for this date a large attendance is expected.

The spring meeting is designated as a student's social meeting. The program will be of the students, by the students and for the students," according to John Crawford.

The morning session will consist of introductory speeches by student body presidents. The section meetings are for the purpose of discussing live student questions. There will be no lectures.

Dancing, a party and general entertainment will fill the afternoon hours. The Porterville student body president is making all arrangements for a good time for everybody attending.

It is hoped that Bakersfield, with its large enrollment, will have a large attendance.

Kappa Phi Sigma To Initiate On March the 19th

TEN NEW MEMBERS WILL BE ADMITTED TO FRATERNITY

Kappa Phi Sigma will initiate ten new members this semester at an initiation to be held March 19th. The pledges have not been voted on as yet.

Following a custom begun at the last initiation of holding the ceremonies on the banks of the Kern river, a similar program is scheduled for the spring meet. In charge of the affair will be the recently initiated members. The chairman has announced that ceremonies will begin at 7:30. After the rituals have been duly performed, refreshments will be served.

MISS GATLEY TO TEACH SUB A.

Evidently desiring no vacation from correcting several sets of English papers each month here, Miss Gatley has accepted an instructorship in Subject A at the University of California for the summer session.

RACONTEUR PRICES RAISE NEXT WEEK

QUOTA MUST BE MET TO PAY EXPENSES

The advance sale of the Raconteur has reached the total of 115 sales, it was announced last week by Glendon Rodgers, business manager.

The sales campaign which was to have ended last week, was continued another week in order to accommodate those who have not yet purchased their book. Miss Margaret Baptie, editor of the year book, stated that there will be about three hundred copies of the book printed. Several of these will be used to exchange with other schools, and the great part of the remainder must be sold to meet the financial contracts of the year-book. The continuance of the sales for this week will be at the original price of $1.50. After this last week, those wishing to buy the book must pay the advanced price of $1.75.

Y. M. C. A. MEN PLAN BIG CONFERENCE

After returning from a district committee meeting at Visalia, Glenn Gregory, field carnival representative and chairman of the district conference for 1931 to be held at Lake Sequoia the latter part of March, has been making definite plans with the Fresno State Y to add special attractions at this year's conference.

The Lake Sequoia conference, formerly known as the Camp Wishon conference, is an outgrowth of the Asilomar Conference. Ben Evans of Bakersfield, now affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. at Stanford, is one of the originators. Its purpose is to aid men in their spiritual, mental and physical life, to open new fields to them, and to answer any questions that might arise. This year the theme of the conference is "How to Live Christ on the Campus." Y. M. C. A. boys are anticipating the best district conference ever held.

Last Monday evening a definite outline of meetings was worked out for the ensuing term; it includes hikes, feed, and some good talks. Mr. Sagen will begin the new program by outlining the speeches and meetings of the past.

The next meeting to be held will in all probability, be an initiation ceremony. The list of neophytes is incomplete as this issue goes to press, but so far it includes Herb McBratney and Jack Rowe.

POPULAR PLAY TO BE ACTED TODAY, SATURDAY NIGHT

BILLY VAN OSDEL WILL PLAY IN LEADING ROLE

The recent Broadway success "Holiday," will be presented by the Junior College student body Friday afternoon and Saturday night. In the opinion of critics and those who have witnessed the screen presentation and the student rehearsals, the play is well chosen and will be a great success.

Several new players have been added to the large stage group this year. Virginia Voll, who has the part so immortalized by Ann Harding, is an outstanding addition. Her work in recent rehearsals has proven her to be capable of her part as Linda Seton. Carl Thornton, remembered for his most dignified position as Phipps, the butler, in "The Queen's Husband, has the part of the father, which calls for similar character acting but which is a far greater part. Al Price, a new member of the J. C. student body, has his first big part. His personality and cleverness should make him very popular with the audience.

Doris Thornber portrays a young woman quite impressed with riches and her position in society. She and Billy Van Osdel, the popular young leading man, are remembered for their splendid team work in the senior play last year, "New Brooms."

Dan Baker and Marie Barthuli have interesting parts as the rich snobs of society. Each has had experience in previous plays, and they show their abilities in their portrayals. A clever comedy is composed of Billy Rowland and Peggy Elrod.

"Holiday" is remembered as one of the five best pictures for 1929; and from all appearances, it will prove to be one of the best plays ever produced by the J. C. student body and directed by Miss Robinson.

The entire cast is as follows: Carl Thornton, Edward Seton; Al Price, Ned Seton; Doris Thornber, Julia Seton; Virginia Voll, Linda Seton; Billy Van Osdel, Johnny Case; Don Baker, Seton Cram; Marie Barthuli, Laura Cram; Billy Rowland, Nick Potter; Peggy Elrod, Susan Potter; Harold Taber, Henry, the butler; Reginald Williams, Charles, another butler; and Mary Bowen, Delia, the maid.

Come on, Jsy Sees; reserve your tickets now!

BETTER CAMPUS CONDUCT

If Bacon's saying be true that "reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man," it would certainly appear true that Junior College is a school of ready men.

We believe that, it is observed correctly that formerly and to some extent now, free hours were devoted to one long "bull" session.

Let it be granted then that we are ready men, is it not fair to ourselves and to the people who make it possible for us to enjoy the privileges of education that we attempt to some extent to make ourselves full men and in no less degree exact men?

This proposition, we fear, will meet with student disapproval, but allow us to say that such a one need not entail the complete foregoing of all campus life, but merely the elimination of unnecessary and flashy conduct, and for it the substitution of the more well rounded and thinking life or a normal college student.

Moon-Cook Defeat Weber College Squad

Upholding the negative side of the "free trade" question, Kern County Junior College decisively defeated Weber College of Utah before a large crowd in the First Congregational church of Bakersfield, last Wednesday night.

Question for debate: "Resolved, That the Nations of the World Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

The affirmative was upheld by Misses Harriett Wooley and Alice Sorenson, both of Ogden. The negative was upheld by Floyl Cooke and James Moon of Bakersfield, coached by Wiley K. Peterson.

The chairman was L. C. Tallman. Mr. Dwight L. Clarke, Tom F. Burke and John D. Henderson were judges.

Music was given by the Junior College string quintet, under the direction of A. B. Parker, and by the Junior College choral club, under the direction of Miss Katherine Smith.

Before the debate the visitors enjoyed dinner, and afterward a reception was given at the home of L. C. Tallman.

Science Organization Receives Frat Pins

Frat pins ordered for members of the Kappa Rho Sigma have been received by Orval James, secretary of the organization. The pins are engraved in gold with the Greek letters of the organization and carry a text book and flask as symbols of the group.

SUBJECT "A" EXAMINATION TO INCLUDE GRAMMAR RULES

Varying from the usual essay test, the subject A examinations beginning next June will consist of two parts, the first half being a test on the rules of writing and the second half an original composition as in the previous Subject A examinations, with the exception that it will be shortened to a length of 300 words.

The new phase will consist of an examination on punctuation, diction, grammar, capitalization and sentence structure. The student must be able to give rules for the above and explain their use in his work.

The same rules of composition will prevail in the second half of the examination as have been used in Subject A examinations of the past.

ORGANIZATIONS

SPANISH CLUB

A bull fight, Spanish dance, espanol y que mas? were flying around at Los Argonantes, Feb. 17. Members sat by while the initiates did as they were told. Everything from singing a song to performing a bull fight was asked of them.

Spanish was spoken exclusively during the meeting (It cost a nickel for every slip). Cards followed the initiation, and refreshments in the cafeteria finished the evening.

The next meeting date was set for March 17 by President Joe Franey.

Those initiated were Lyle Smith, Irene Maine, Frances Lewis, Evelyn Hite, Nancy Holson, William Wharton, David Mills, Vincent Dimas, Homer Ransom, Charles Penn, Walter Frost, David Pearce and Malcolm Heckathorn.

PHI RHO PI INITIATES

Phi Rho Pi has ceased to be exclusive. The two members, Floyl Cook and James Moon, have scorned their loneliness and plan to add John Young and William Rowland to their number.

As soon as the initiation has taken place the Bakersfield chapter will install a chapter at Taft Junior College.

LE HIBOUX FRANCAIS

Les Hiboux Francais will meet at the home of Helen St. Clair Friday evening, March 6. There will be a business meeting and the initiation of candidates.

Refreshments, noise, dancing and a general good time are to be expected. Harry Tibbet, president, is making arrangements.

PICTORIAL REVIEW OFFERS STUDENTS VACATION WORK

Mr. Bosworth, a representative of the Pictorial Review Magazine Company, was here in an attempt to get young men to sell magazine subscriptions for a salary of $18.00 a week and a commission on sales.

The students may travel in an automobile together and in the same territory if so desired.

Students of Compton Junior College hold dances every Thursday afternoon in the girls' gymnasium.

A beginning class in ball room dancing starts at 3 o'clock, and the advanced class and the regular dance starts at 4 o'clock and continues until 5.

Psychology Students Are Carrying On Valuable Experiments

In accordance with a desire to do actual 'determinative' experiments in psychology several students of the 1B class of 1930 are working to complete individual experiments this semester.

Jack Alston has been studying the lapse of time between a stimulus and the execution of an act. He has studied athletes and non-athletes. According to his results, athletes (or those who are in constant training of alertness) execute demands or acts with the shortest possible lapse of time.

Another experiment, being conducted by Fred Patterson, is that of color blindness. The survey includes the central high school (approximately 2400 students).

Phi Rho Pi has ceased to be exclusive. The two members, Floyl Cook and James Moon, have scorned their loneliness and plan to add John Young and William Rowland to their number.

Student Party Is Planned for May

There's a fun-filled future ahead. There will be one day when lessons, finals, teachers, and study halls will be forgotten. It's two months off—but don't let that dampen your spirits.

The semi-annual student body picnic, bust, blow-out, or as you wish! One of those parties that begin one afternoon and end sometime the next morning.

Swimming, picnic lunch, dancing—sounds good, doesn't it? Well, tie up your patience until the first week of May, and let's plan to make this year's spring party the best in past, present, and future records.

The time, the place, and the plans will be decided later. Wait for them: This party is going to make you glad you paid that $5.00 for your student body card.

NUMBER OF CINCH NOTICES DECREASE OVER LAST SEM.

Reports coming from the office show that during the first six weeks of the semester there were only a quarter as many "cinch" notices sent out as in the first six weeks of last semester.

Dean Bird says that this may be due to the fact that flunkers have dropped from school or that people have got out from under stiff courses. It may be a fact also that everyone is imbued with a pure desire to study.

General Plan of Orientation Given By McDaniels

With the advancement of many new plans for carrying on the orientation courses compulsory in junior college there has been a great deal of experimentation along the lines of discovering the best methods.

The thought back of this course is that the modern demand for specialization in knowledge is so great that most individuals know more facts than they know meanings.

Mr. Durant Drake says, "The parts of knowledge have grown faster than the whole." It is felt that this is an unhealthy condition, from both the standpoint of social security and individual satisfaction.

While we are on the subject of sports, how about a baseball team this year? After a very feeble attempt, baseball fizzled out last year.

There are a lot of men in school this year who like to play ball, and some good players, too. Why not start some agitation for a baseball team?

'Tis rumored about school that the greatest woman-hater of them all has fallen at last. It is even rumored that he objected to a stag party that one of the organizations was planning.

Ideally, this demand would be met by allowing a wide variety of sample courses in the student's curriculum; but practically the requirements of each curriculum are so high that no time is left for these "sampling" courses.

Orientation courses of the present type are designed to meet partially these conditions. Further, this survey of experimental bases of modern thought has two major aims:

1. The organizing of the various scientific concepts that students have derived from daily experiments and special study into a synthetic whole; 2. and the exposition of the type of thought and experiment that has been followed in reaching these concepts.

This course will accomplish its aims if it raises many questions and arouses reflective thinking about the world in relation to other planets. The 1A class is primarily interested in orienting the student to methods of study and intellectual adjustment to the demands of college work.

Wharton's What Nots

By WILLIAM WHARTON
What, O, what is this school coming to? First the Powers That Be tell us that we can no longer hang out on Fourteenth Street.

Then as the loiterers move northward, they are banished from Thirteenth Street and California Avenue. Where is one to do his loitering and obtain a few minutes' intellectual relaxation?

Perhaps some definite rendezvous should be agreed upon in which to hold those bull sessions so necessary to undergraduate life.

There has been some talk now and then about a golf tournament in the worthy college. Why not? Perhaps we could even organize and challenge another team.

Late last semester the noon-checker games were interrupted by a "5-minutes-to-finish" order—No more checkers.

And lastly, the Jay See men have been urged to spend their surplus energy on their various lessons instead of on California avenue golf.

If things continue, this will degenerate into a scholastic institution yet.

Now that the grades for the first month are obtainable—don't be surprised if you see some of our third-year students sitting in lonely corners seemingly struggling over some math problems.

They are just figuring how many minus grade points they have to get rid of before June. The struggling would-be-graduate!

Collegiate campus conduct, as distinguished from the conduct to be expected of high school or grammar school students, is the objective of a "campus conduct campaign" set on foot at the last meeting of the junior college executive committee.

According to members of the executive staff, there are no rules, regulations, or policemen connected with the drive for improved conduct.

It is pointed out that taxpayers of the county are providing an institution of learning, and however important golf, checkers or "bull sessions" may be in their time and place, these cannot fit in with a business-like school.

The committee expressed appreciation of the cooperation of members of the Jaysee student body in maintaining quiet in the new study hall.

KOLLEGE KAPERS

By KAY KRAMMES
Campus Conduct Campaign! It's been suggested, and the only thing holding up progress is the sad but true fact that we are unable to find the Jay See Campus.

Buildings have been searched, cars have been moved; in fact, in desperation, California avenue was almost torn up; but the campus remained the invisible myth of the school.

Speaking of conduct—we hope you've noticed the change in the study hall. If a pencil drops, it sounds like four trucks and a steam roller in a funeral parlor.

Slowly but inevitably all the favorite pastimes are being abolished. Right at the critical moment in a certain bridge game last spring the "enemy" descended upon the unsuspecting victims, and one player was almost startled into trumping her partner's ace—no more bridge.

Personal glimpses: Homer Ransom confesses he is not a big Swede.

It takes thousands to make a world court.

Maybe Fresno States is a detective agency. Any way, they furnish first class "house detectives."

To be a good referee, one must blow his own whistle.

Mr. Breckenridge was quite aggressive and "adhesive" in Fresno the other night.

Before a home game Coach Peterson and Manager Apperson are "scrubs" and have to mop up on the basketball floor.

There must be two sides to the "assistant manager" issue. Also a back door!

A basketball trip is one liberal edifying lesson in itself. Funny how much they leave out of textbooks.

Applications for the checker tournament—to be held in the Jaysee study-room—should be mailed to the main office. Mr. Spindt is interested and watching all moves.

"How I made my first two points," by Carl Thornton, will be out in a few weeks. There is no time element attached to that story.

Couldn't we be "collegiate" and let out an alumni "squack" so as to give the good coaches a bad break?

ODDS AND ENDS

By "Pinkie" Davies
It does seem as though a few of the local "elites" and "delights" were bitten by that wretched gold bug right on the pay check.

Theo "Spud" Harder and Ralph Stockel (to be informed later) claim they can out-golf the Jaysee student body—two at a time.

Can Mr. Harder play golf? Ask him (long "a" as in barnyard).

and so Bobby Jones gave up his amateur golf to make movies.

"The underworld is the most colorful thing in American life today," reads a statement. Probably scarlet and red.

There are 50 schools with Junior College ratings in California—also a difference of opinion in this Golden State.

He drank so much "whistle" he thought it was a referee.

Bakersfield Stars Play First Round For Allen Cup

Bakersfield Junior College net stars will first taste of the competitive fruit in the Allen cup championship. The first round of play is as follows:

Singles
 Chatfield vs. Clasen.
 Homefeld vs. Schoonmaker.
 Homefeldt vs. Schoonmaker.
 Taber draws a bye.

Doubles
 Clasen and Taber, bye.
 Wells and Schoonmaker vs. Chatfield and Homfeld.
 Chamberlain and Lynn are scheduled to meet the winners of Junior College doubles racket "just for fun."

Jaysee Basketeers Will Play Wasco Saturday Night

Big Pete's Renegades—alms the Bakersfield Jaysee basketeers—will bid the local cage following "adiou" Saturday evening when they tangle with the Wasco night leaguers for the sake of sweet charity.

The bout is a real "natural." Wasco has yet to taste defeat against stiff competition, while the Renegades finished up in the "money" during the conference "payoff."

The Renegades are "even money" to give the valley A. A. U. aspirants a battle for the pole.

All Conference Team

Bakersfield Jaysee Renegades are generously represented on Coach J. V. Bieler's All-Conference Selections. The Reedley mentor's choice is the first of the Renegade Rip-Coaches All-Central Conference selections to reach home. Mr. Bieler's choice is as follows:

First Team	Pos.	School
West	F.	Bakersfield
Wedel	F.	Reedley
Breckenridge	C.	Fresno State
Lenocker	G.	Fresno State
Rodgers	G.	Bakersfield
Second Team	Pos.	School
Crow	F.	Fresno State
Frane	F.	Reedley
McCain	C.	Visalia
Higginbotham	G.	Bakersfield
Streep	G.	Visalia

Most valuable individual player: West of Bakersfield.
 Best offensive team: Bakersfield.
 Best defensive team: Fresno State Frosh.

MODESTO JAYSEE ADVANCES NEW PLAN FOR WEEKLY

Dalbom Explains Development of Basketball Systems

By "PINKIE" DAVIES

Down Main street bounced little Peter Pivot with a pleasant greeting for those who returned his smile. Presently, he saw a familiar figure dart across the road. It was Davey Dribble way out west from Kansas City.

"Hey, Davey," he shouted, "I didn't know that you was out here on the coast."

Davey Dribble bounced back and fell in with Peter Pivot. He smiled broadly.

"Just drifted here, I guess."
 That's great. . . . Say, Dave, drop around Harmon's Gym some time. Dolly Pass and I do a "Pivot and Pass" skit for the Bears.

"Not me, Peter."
 "Better still—why not come over 'n work out with us. . . . Reading left to right—Dribble, Pivot, and Pass. That'd be a scream."

"Probably would be. . . . with Dolly Pass."
 "Oh, lay off, Davey. Dolly's a sweet kid."

"Isn't she?" questioned the saucy Mr. Dribble. "I can't figure out how a fellow like you could ever team up with a dame like Dolly Pass. Why, you must be crazy—or maybe you're a scenario writer."

"I resent that remark," said Peter the Pivot.

"Biff," spoke Davey's bold fist.
 "Bang," responded Peter's chin.
 Peter Pivot also resented that remark.

That was five years ago—just about the time that basketball goals had posts and a backboard was only the room rent.

Ernest Dalbom leaned forward. He had know them out in Kansas—and they were good boys. He aimed to defend them, for one act doesn't condemn. Thus, Mr. Dalbom picked up the threads of the story.

"Five years ago," he said, "California was the only team on the coast using a quick dribble and a pivot—the only team with a set offense. In those days the Mid-West fives were superior to those on the coast."

The popular athletic director paused—then continued.
 "But basketball moved West Today, California's 'big four' will play alongside any college quintets in the United States. Of course, there are exceptions."

"It was the pivot, the dribble, and the regular set offenses that turned the tide," concluded Mr. Dalbom.

Now have you it in your heart to condemn Davey Dribble for the assault of Peter Pivot—the boy that took the "heave" and the "sigh" out of coast basketball, and replaced it with an "oh" and an "ah."

Here endeth the first lesson according to Father Goose.

ALL-CENTRAL CONFERENCE SELECTION

By "Pinkie" Davies, Sport Editor Renegade Rip

First Team

Breckenridge, F, Fresno State Frosh.

Wagner, F, Taft J. C.

McCain, C, Visalia J. C.

Rodgers, G, Bakersfield J. C.

Lenocker, G, Fresno State Frosh.

(Note—Breckenridge, a center, wins a forward post by virtue of his uncanny "two point" instinct.)

Second Team

West, F, Bakersfield J. C.

Wedel, F, Reedley J. C.

Buchanan, C, Taft J. C.

Higginbotham, G, Bakersfield J. C.

Limegrower, G, Porterville J. C.

(Note—Higginbotham, because of his aggressiveness, will play center after the tip-off. Buchanan will fall back to guard.)

Most Valuable Individual Player

(1) McCain, Visalia J. C.

(2) Rodgers, Bakersfield.

Best Offensive Teams

(1) Bakersfield J. C.

(2) Fresno State Frosh.

Best Defensive Teams

(1) Taft J. C.

(2) Fresno State Frosh.

Honorable Mention

Frane, Reedley J. C.; Goodwin, Bakersfield J. C.; Lyle, Taft J. C.; Crow, Fresno State Frosh; Allen, Bakersfield J. C.

W. A. A. CHOOSES SEMESTER OFFICERS

Marion Higginbotham became president of the Woman's Athletic Association at a meeting Feb. 24. Katherine Goode was elected vice president; Margaret Ashton, secretary; Barbara Shields, freshman representative, and Marion Harman, sophomore representative. Miss Churchman is adviser of the organization.

The officers as an executive committee will meet this week and revise the constitution. The new form will be voted on by the members later.

COMMITTEE SEEKS A TROPHY CASE FOR SCHOOL

Wanted! One show case in which to put our new football trophy and to which to tack our banner. James Moon, as president of the "Case" Committee, is searching the city for an appropriate one to be placed at the south end of our new study hall.

The trophy was presented to us recently by Mr. Keinholtz, football coach of Taft Junior College. The banner was a remembrance from the first J. C. Glee Club to be organized here.

RENEGADES LOSE VALLEY TITLE TO TAFT 19-23 SCORE

ALLEN STARS FOR BAKERSFIELD WITH 9 POINTS

Outgalloped in the second heat of the "Westside Handicap," Coach Basil Peterson's gallant campaigners were nosed out of the "disputed" championship of the Central Conference sweepstakes by Taft Jaysee last Saturday night via 23-19 score. Visalia J. C. also ran.

Starting from scratch—1:30 p. m. Standard time—the Renegades showed championship caliber to outrun the Tartar, 49 to 32, in a fast breaking offensive game. "Pocket Ben" West with 18 points and Jim Higginbotham with 16, led the afternoon's goalward dashes, while the floor activities of "Gloomy Glen" Rodgers also drew favorable comment.

The tilt found the Renegades working the "criss-cross" to a 17-point advantage. McCain offered the most resistance, showering the basket for 15 markers. The victory—although decisive—proved a costly one.

Suffering from the aftermath of shriveled beef, the best offense the locals could offer the Taft cagers was an attack of indigestion. The Westsiders got away with a 5-0 start until Al Stanton's "field efforts" dropped in twice. At the count of 5 and 4, the varsity took up the issue—but with no better conviction than the short end of a 9-8 score at the finish of the first lap.

Strained of heart but weary of limb, the home talent came back in the last installment—only to go down fighting before the wild throwing Cougars.

To satisfy the syncopated appetites of the Taft following, Wagner repeatedly sent the ball home to roost. Ten counts and you're always out.

Charlie Allen, the fiery forward, was literally Kern's "big shot" of the evening performance. Charlie's conscience didn't bother him—at least not until he had gathered his nine point quota.

The line-ups:

Afternoon Game

Bakersfield J.C. Pos.	Visalia J.C.
West (18) F.	Harvey
Allen (5) F.	Hester (6)
Goodwin (2) C.	McCain (15)
Higginbotham (16) G.	Gilmer (3)
Rodger (7) G.	Agan
Points by subs: B. J. C., none.	Visalia, Streep (3), Riddle (5).

Night Game

Bakersfield J.C. Pos.	Taft J.C.
West (1) F.	McNeeley (1)
Allen (9) F.	Wagner (10)
Goodwin C.	Buchanan (2)
Higginbotham (2) G.	Grady (2)
Rodgers (3) G.	Jacks (2)
Points by subs, B. J. C., Stanton (4). T. J. C., Williams (4), Pierce (2).

Plans for a social hall for lettermen and women are being made in the Fullerton Junior College.

The various organizations are attempting to raise money to help build the hall.
