CHRISTMAS DANCE TO BE FRIDAY, DEC. 23

WOMAN'S CLUB TO BE SCENE OF EVENT

Before the stockings fillin' and trees decorating time, the curtain will have been rung up on Bakersfield Junior College's Yuletide season with the holding of the annual Christmas dance on Dec. 23 in the Woman's Club.

Sprigs of holly, evergreen and mistletoe will furnish the motif for decoration.

PRICE IS REDUCED

In past years, this dance has been the one big event of the year. In accord with the policy of last year's Christmas dance committee, the price will be reduced from $1.50 to $1.00.

PLANS MOVING FORWARD

The design for the ticket is finished in the ticket committee and plans are moving forward, under leadership of Harry Miller, to make this year's affair better than any preceding Christmas dance. With the greatly increased enrollment in the junior college this year, a larger attendance than ever before is expected.

COMMITIES

The committees in charge of arrangements are: Decoration, Mr. Stanley; chair; Bob Barrett, Esther Hay, Neville Pyle, Geraldine Douglass, Carol Knoll; Gene Jones, Johnny Mongold, James Delfino; refreshment, Beatrice Allen, chairman; June Myers, Margaret Bailey, Laura Coats; refreshments, Gene Delfino, chairman; Isabelle Hanawalt, Jack Bethune; ticket committee; Harry Miller, Carol Knoll, Carol Delfino, James McAlister and James Moon.

Social Science

And Aeropagus Hold Joint Meet

A summary of the results of the findings during a two-month study of the various aspects of the prohibition question was made by members of the Aeropagus and Social Science Clubs meeting jointly on November 29.

Tests to determine the attitude of the group toward prohibition and toward law enforcement were given by J. W. McDaniel, Junior College psychology instructor, who presided as chairman.

The clubs decided to meet jointly each fourth meeting in order to summarize results. The session was concluded with the Social Science Club acting as host to the members of the Aeropagus Club, served refreshments in the cafeteria.

LETTERMEN ARE GIVEN AWARDS IN ASSEMBLY

A dondruff-shaking, hair-restoring comedy, "What, No Castoria?" was presented by "The Shallow Dramatic Stock Company" in the auditorium, Tuesday, yesterday, served as a new and hilarious beginning of the best and biggest student body meeting to take place on the local campus.

The mirth-provoking introduction was followed by speeches from students and former students. John Crawford, former student of the local Junior College, but more lately of The Bakersfield Californian staff, spoke on "The Football Season as Seen From the Press Box." Isabelle Hanawalt, a student, spoke on "The Season as Seen by the Women Students" (A.W.S.) Glenn: Butman, student body president, spoke from the viewpoint of the S. R. P. "Spud" Harder presented the letters to his proteges. Some received gold pins for serving two years in the organization. Yells, long and loud, rang through the auditorium after every presentation.

Those receiving letters were:

KAPPA WEEK IS PLANNED BY SCIENCE FRAT.

Plans for annual "Kappa Week" were discussed by members of the junior college science club at its meeting last Monday night.

The club decided that the week before Christmas would be the ideal time for "Kappa Week," which is the week when the initiation of new members takes place. The main initiation ceremony will take place on one of the nights during that week.

Any student who has received either an "A" or a "B" grade in a science course is eligible to membership in the club. (Believe it or not, there are several eligible.)

Bill Steben, president, announced that provision has been made to have two students and one faculty member speak at some of the coming meetings.

Asilomar Conference Is Topic of Y. M. C. A.

The Asilomar Conference was the topic of discussion at a Junior College Y. M. C. A. meeting held last week.

At the meeting, presided over by Harold Haught, it was decided that many students outside of the organization as well as those in it should be invited to attend the coming Asilomar Conference which was written from December 26, 1932, to January 2, 1933.

Among the students who have already expressed their intentions of attending the conference are: Harold Haught, Harold Estep, George Puchmeier and Pauli Cook.

The purpose of the Asilomar Conference is to promote friendship among the delegates and leaders, and to clear up problems of student life.

This young people's conference which has convened for the past 25 years has attracted many hundreds of men from throughout the west and the nation. Each year, the larger western universities are represented by 40 or more students each, and the smaller universities send as many delegates as they are able.

The theme of the conference this year will be "Facing Life's Perplexities.

The leadership will be of the very highest order, including such men as President of the nationally known author and leader of college groups; George A. Cox, professor at Columbia, and author of "What's All Our Youth?"; Hubert Croff, professor of Religion, at Occidental, lecturer on Psychology and Philosophy; and many other outstanding leaders and speakers of the nation.

WILDE COMEDY IS HAILED BY WILD APPLAUSE

"The Importance of Being Earnest," directed by Miss Ethel Robinson, proved to be a success that exceeded all precedents in the history of Delta Phi Omaga, national junior college dramatics fraternity. The play was presented Tuesday night under the auspices of the Community Theatre and again on Wednesday afternoon.

The comedy, outstanding for its mock solemnity and smart sophistication, was written by Oscar Wilde, who possesses a complete command of human nature. He has created, in "The Importance of Being Earnest," a comedy that will be eternally remembered for its force and clever satire on social style.

EXTRAORDINARY CAST

A well chosen cast bore out this smart satirical atmosphere and impressed the audience with its keen sense of humor. Mr. Al Price and his court, Frank Donovan, opened the play in the bachelor's establishment of Mr. Algernon Moncrieff (Al Price). Mr. Price was particularly noticeable for his suave yet "breezy" manner in handling his role of an adventurous youth who loves to get into hot water and fall in and out of love.

Mr. Moncrieff's friend, who is called Jack in the country, and Ernest in town, was remarkably presented by John Crawford. He has a good deal of explaining to do before he can join the damsel's cause (Miss Fay Helm) that he is eligible for the hand of her daughter, Gwendoline (Virgil Volz).

Marlon De Cew did a praised worthy piece of acting in maintaining throughout the play the firm stand of a London society lady who is determined to place only the best on her list of prospective sons-in-law. Miss De Cew undoubtedly dominated the action in which she appeared. She carried throughout a manner of exquisite charm and poise.

Miss Virginia Voll sustained her usual standard of high-class portrayal of a sophisticated young lady of London Society. She succeeded in creating an effect on the audience that her determination to her ideal that she will marry no one who is not named Ernest. She is the reason why Mr. Worthing leaves his country ward, Cecily Cardew, under the care of Miss Prism, played by Jane Bellow.

Miss Fay Helm played the role of Cecily Cardew. Not a bad effort (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3).
J.C. ENGINEERS ORGANIZE TO FORM NEW CLUB

The Junior College Engineering Club was as christened by 17 members of the Class of '47, on Monday, Jan. 20, on the third floor of the Administration Building.

The club will present its program on Thursday, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m.

Following the discussion of a constitution, the officers were elected as follows: President, Charles Shaw; Vice-President, John Brown; Secretary, William Shipps; Treasurer, Charles Shaw, Jr.

The object of the club, which is planned to be affiliated with the national group, is to assist members of the club in the field of engineering.

The club invites J.C. students interested in any field of engineering to attend the meeting which will be held this week, the date to be announced later.

WILDE COMEDY HAINED

An interesting and entertaining revue was presented by the Wilde Comedy Troupe last night at the Tilden Hotel. The group consists of five members, all of whom are members of the J.C. student body.

The program included a variety of sketches, songs, and dances, all of which were well received by the audience.

The group plans to present similar programs in the future.

YEME'S WING

There will be a wing at the Y.M.C.A.

The club will meet every Tuesday evening at a meeting of the board of directors.

The purpose of the club is to provide a social center for the students of the college.

THE VULPINE SPIRIT

As this is the last publication of the RIP before the Christmas holidays, the editorial staff wishes to extend its wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to every member of the student body.

At this time of the year, we are greatly concerned about having a wonderful Christmas season—wishes for and good things to eat. However, we are so prone to overindulge, which is very natural and healthy.

At this time of the year, we feel it is important to re-emphasize the need for cooperation and unity in the student body. The spirit of the season is one of togetherness and joy, and we hope that all members of the student body will work together to create a festive and enjoyable atmosphere.

The RIP wishes all members of the student body a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
Women To Have Tennis Tournament

Sponsor, it has been found, is not the only way that J. C. Ecords keep their trim, attractive figures—which may only be seen by the increasing interest in the tennis tournament beginning December 11.

This elimination tournament is the decision of the future, which will make up the women's tennis team.

Those who have signed up are: Emma Finck, Margaret Nicholson, Pauline Low, Peggy Webb, Evelyn Schmidt, Florence Weaver, Marjorie Collins, Anabel Hulme, Lottie Cave, Lois Zimmern, Dorothy Beck, Nette Kinney, Dorothy George, Gwendoline Graham, Patricia Thomas, June Oldershaw, Margaret Shore and Barbara Shields.

Warner Resigns His Post At Stanford

Glenn Scooby “Pop” Warner, veteran football coach, resigned on Monday as head football coach at Stanford University.

“Pop’s” resignation terminated 11 years of activity as head of the Indian squad. His resignation was not an unexpected move because of the fact that Stanford's last season of football has been its most disastrous.

Definite announcement of “Pop’s” move caused a general turmoil on the field.

Warner presented the following statement to Dr. Storrs, Stanford athletic director:

“I am leaving Stanford because I have accepted a position which I feel is a step forward for me. I am not at liberty to mention the institution to which I am going, but it is a young and growing university with an enrollment already over three times as large as that of Stanford and is just beginning to gain a foothold in athletics. It is with regret that I am leaving Stanford, where I have had the support of the administrative authorities, the students, and the alumni. Stanford has passed through a period of depression artistically, and the prospects are brighter than at any time since I have been here.

I will always feel very kindly toward Stanford and I wish my successor the very best of luck.”

(Signed) Glenn Warner.

“Pop” Warner's resignation ended the arguments and conjectures that were started a few weeks ago by a group of alumni who felt that Stanford should not resign.

“Pop” leaves, impressing the record of 72 victories against 13 defeats and 11 ties during his nine years of coaching at Stanford. When Indiana, it was reported that he accepted the position, as head coach at Temple University in Philadelphia.

Two-Year Lettermen To Receive Awards

Gold footballs will again be awarded to those athletes who played for two successive years of football in junior college and have won their letter in that sport. Footballs were awarded for the first time last year to the crack Renegade squad of “31,” who were undefeated central California champions.

This year will mark the second presentation made by Bakersfield junior college. The following men will receive the awards:

Freshmen: Kenneth Wood, guard; Harry Miller, tackle; Graydon Kayes, end; Willie Wilson, halfback; Red Delfino, halfback; Bill Van-Osdell, quarterback.

Sophomores: Myrle Gasing, tackle; Jack Muir, quarterback.

Football will also be presented to those men who are responsible for the success of the Renegades:

“Spud” Harder, coach; Basil Peterson, line coach; Thoren Taber, athletic commissioner.

Nevers Favor To Succeed Warner

Ernie Nevers, former all-American fullback, today seems the most favored to succeed “Pop” Warner at the Stanford coaching post.

Prominent members of the alumni have voiced their opinions in no uncertain form, that Nevers should succeed “Pop” Warner, and they will make a formal recommendation to that effect at a special meeting of the Stanford alumni at the hotel this evening.

Nevers is extremely popular with the alumni, students, and players, and is considered the ideal man for the position.

Renegades Have Permanent Possession of Valley Trophy

The first basketball game of the season will be played tomorrow night between the 1932 Renegades and the Alumni.

The Renegades have been practicing for two weeks now and have begun to show a quite strong offensive punch.

Coach Peterson has one of the largest turnouts ever recorded at the junior college. At the first call of practice, about 40 men reported. However, a few have dropped out, leaving a squad of about 32.

This squad consists of the best material present on the Renegade lineup.

There are enough good players so that at least two good teams may be selected from it.

“Spud” Peterson has one of the very best coaching jobs of the year.

The only way that B. J. C. could keep Dec. 18 competitive here.

Frisco has been its most disastrous.

“Pop” Warner's sensational 45-yard run in the last minute of play in last year's game, and the brilliant passing attack in the Modesto game were other instances of the versatility of the Renegade attack.

A final squaring of this team of champions can not be made without some mention of the hard-working, unheralded linemen who never get publicity but deserve a large share of the credit for the victories.

The parts played by Denberger, Den- ker, Kayes, Sargent, Miller, Thorton, Griffen, Hawkins and others should not be overlooked.

Seven members of the squad have played their last game for B. J. C. and the brilliant passing attack in the Modesto game were other instances of the versatility of the Renegades.

Scholarships To Be Awarded By Boeing School

Aeronautical scholarships totaling $7,500.00 in tuition value are being offered for the fourth consecutive year to aviation-inclined students of universities and colleges by W. E. Boeing School of Aeronautics, located at Oakland, California.

Four college undergraduates who submit the best essays, on aeronautical subjects to a national committee of award and who are able to meet necessary technical standards, will be given flying and ground training at no tuition cost.

First prize is the W. E. Boeing Master Pilot Ground and Flying Course, covering 250 hours of flying and 924 hours of ground school, and exceeding qualification necessary for a transport pilot's license. Second and third place winners may elect, through "ground school" courses, with the second award candidate also receiving flight instruction.

The scholarship competition will close on April 15, 1933, and essay subjects selected by candidate's must be approved prior to March 16, 1933. The candidate who is selected for the first award must be able to pass the Department of Commerce transport pilot final examination within thirty days after awards are announced. Three alternate candidates will be selected for possible awards in the event winners are unable to qualify.

Roscoe Morgan and Barbara Shields will be the only graduates from Bakersfield Junior College at the mid-term. Both expect to attend the University of California at Los Angeles next semester.

former student chosen on team

Fred Patterson, formerly a student in Bakersfield Junior College, and a graduate of South St. Paul high school, was selected last week to be a member of the University of Hawaii debate team which will meet a team from the University of California in a debate in Honolulu in February. Cancellation of war debts over the United States will be the subject for the debate.

Patterson is one of three students selected for the team from the 400 who competed for positions on the team. He was a member of the senior class team in the University of Hawaii interscholastic debate in June, 1932.

He has been accepted for the University of Hawaii as an exchange student from Bakersfield Junior College Y. M. C. A., Bakersfield, Calif., in September, 1931. He is majoring in animal husbandry, and expects to receive his degree in June, 1933.

New Courses Offered For Spring Semester

There will be seven new courses offered during the spring semester of 1933. Mathematics 1, a three-unit course, will be given by Mr. Eubank. It is a course in intermediate algebra which includes practically the same contents as high school algebra. No prerequisites to this course are required. Philosophy will be conducted by Mr. Baldwin. Chemistry 1A is a prerequisite. The enrollment in this course will be limited. The permission of the instructors is necessary for enrollment in the course. Mr. Colclasure will give a study of architectural forms and positions.

Mr. Benson will offer two new courses - a four-unit botany course and a five-unit physiology course.

Of special interest to debaters is the fact that, beginning with the next semester, debating will be counted as a three-unit course. Geography 2, a continuation of Geography 1, will also be given.

 desde Society To Convene Here

Phi Rho Pi, national honorary junior college debate society, has chosen Bakersfield for its annual Pacific-Southwestern debate convention, which will be held on March 3 and 4.

The plans for the convention were completed at Los Angeles under the presidency of R. T. Johnson, Long Beach, president of the southwestern association. There will be fifty debate teams taking part in the tournament. These teams will represent ten junior colleges: Bakersfield, Tall, Chico, San Francisco, Modesto, Long Beach, Pasadena, Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena, Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Visalia, Redding, and Phoenix, Arizona.

At present it is planned that the preliminary round of the debate tournament will begin Friday afternoon, March 3, and carry over to Saturday afternoon for the finals. A unique feature of the Phi Rho Pi tournament is that each team participates in five debates before the outcome of any debate is known; then the teams which have lost three or more debates are eliminated; those which have won three or more debates are entered in the finals.

There is also to be an extemporaneous contest which will take place during a banquet, to be held Friday evening for those taking part in the tournament. After the banquet, a social gathering will be held.

The subject for debate in the tournament will be: "Resolved, that the United States should agree to cancellation of the Inter-American debt." The students who have taken that subject will be required for this course in high school algebra 18-1A.

Mr. Taber will give Astronomy 1, which is a surveyor's course in elementary practical astronomy. It is a required course at the University of California for sophomore in civil engineering. The pre-requisite for the course is Civil Engineering 1A. A prerequisite is Chemistry 1A, which will be conducted by Mr. Baldwin. Chemistry 1A will be a prerequisite. Because the enrollment in this course will be limited, the permission of the instructor is necessary for enrollment in the course.

Mr. Colclasure will give a study of architectural forms and positions. Mr. Benson will offer two new courses - a four-unit botany course and a five-unit physiology course.

Of special interest to debaters is the fact that, beginning with the next semester, debating will be counted as a three-unit course. Geography 2, a continuation of Geography 1, will also be given.

Storm Brewing As First Term Draws To Close

... And there'll be weeping, and wailing and gnashing of teeth... into each life some rain must fall, and for some people there certainly is a storm brewing up in "them there mountains."

Some will already have the bright lamp of knowledge to guide them—they're few. Some are polishing up the Ever-Ready flashlights for such an emergency, while others will have only feebly sputtering candles to light the way. It is rumored that some have even lost their matches.

All storms pass over sooner or later, however. And when this one does, there'll be a good guide for another semester, and the "bull-throwing arena" in front of the J. C. building will again be the scene of daily reunion of these devoted Baron Munchausen.

For the benefit of those who aren't sure of the "(userName) preliminary registration started yesterday. Final registration will take place during the last week of the semester, January 23-27. Members of the faculty who have no third period classes will be in charge of the registration in the junior college study hall.

Final examinations begin on Wednesday, January 18, and will end Thursday, January 22. In accordance with the policy begun with the close of the spring semester last year, the examinations in so far as possible, will be held in the evening, to allow for the regular classes, some of which are held regularly, and the instructors in charge will be the usual teachers. Students are requested to bring blue-books.

Registration For Second Semester

Preliminary Registration on Thursday, Jan. 12, 3d Period.

Students Not Having Classes 3d Period Thursday Will Meet To 10 C. J. 13

Final Registration on January 23-27, J. C. 19

New Students Register Friday, Jan. 27, J. C. 12

Semester Grade Cards Will Be Available Monday, Jan. 30; J. C. 12
