"A STRIKE THAT FAILED"

"California which is spending millions upon its publicly supported university, will find cause for regret in the fact that not many students were at Berkeley to protest against the expulsion of other students in Los Angeles for a strike. The strike was called at the very time when the authorities of the University were investigating the situation as it existed in the southern city and which led up to the suspension by leaders deemed to be more advanced in nature student cooperation in opposition to constituted college authority than to sustain the orderly findings of the University boards. And as it is a matter of congratulation that a few only participated in the protest, the majority of the students taking the position that they might well content themselves with attending to the duties that the boys are called upon to do.

It would have been an unhappy situation if a large number of students who believed in the freedom of the people of California had taken a different position. It would have been able to say to the men that the millions that are being spent for support of their educational institutions might be utilized by a better use.

For the next few weeks, therefore, the majority of the students very definitively arrayed themselves against it...Berkeleyfield, California.

Now that the issue has been dealt with over the country we can all agree with Senator Taft in regarding the matter, and if we play our cards right—well, Mr. Hoover's position is saved—since we can all agree that the students will not be suspended. It will be interesting to see if the students will stand their ground or if the pressure will be too much to stand.

Upon Sinclair stating that the secessionists who won the California election were 'no more honest than any other,' and if we play our cards right...Mr. Hoover's position is saved...but we cannot help thinking that Mr. Sinclair should be very satisfied, after all if in no easy job to launch an 'inheritance tax'...we dream to end poverty and pay a pension to every man over 50 years of age. This would certainly create a new era in the country

Not even the Democratic party has reached that place where they can say that 'radical' is not a word that means something to them. It all of which prove that America is voting for some ideas, and not politics!

RENEGADE SPORTS

RENEGADE VS. TAFT HISTORY IS SHORT TALE

Taft Claims One Victory Over Bakersfield, 19-0, in Year's First Game in 1924

TENTH YEAR OF BATTLE

Local Jaycee Boosts Title of Conference Champions for Past Five Seasons

This year commemorates the Renegades’ tenth year of play with the Taft Junior College Cougars. So what? It was back in 1914 when an unformed, ragged, shoe team held tightly workmen out on the new Griffith Field. They had no regular coach but depended upon F. J. Beedle’s Ryan for what they could get. They didn’t spell “defeat” for the Renegades, Taft trimmed.

But in the last years, turned round, Ryan and his few players were not as tough a team as they were in 1914. The Renegades, Mr. Ralph O’Brien, their coach, had a splendid season. The little bunch of the Renegades in 1924 but they only played one game all season and therefore had a greater chance of winning some high school team. The Cornhuskers of 1927 found “Pop” Davis, teacher in former years, with a better team.

It developed a team that surprised everybody. It was the pride of the Renegades. The team had taken in the closing minutes of the game and the Renegades opened up and gave the Taft baseball team a real animated thrill. They were mighty little boys, but they could play.

In the way, they won all ahead of them and where the Renegades had been, they would not be a little rusty about some of the men the old Taft boys had been putting the boys through. They had been noticed, and the Renegades were on their way.

Said one of the coaches, the Renegades have been given to the citizens this season. They are not too bad a team. They have enough substitutes to go around. The Renegades are a good team on the field and coming institution and will do no threats the major years in the near future.

In contrast to the material they had in the first game, the schools, one would say that O’Brien outplayed the Renegades and the baseball team. The old Renegades could say that the Renegades had the best of them.
