

Awards Given At Players Banquet

Faculty, Execs, and Players Banter Before Students

Sinbad's feast had nothing on the delectable banquet spread for coaches, student representatives, and players at the annual football award assembly held last Friday in the auditorium.

Unfortunately, members of the team had to content themselves with letters and gold footballs, as the meal was very exclusive.

Program Summary

With supreme effort, Jess. Jones, master of ceremonies, arose after the food marathon. He extended the appreciation of the student body for the excellent record made by the Renegades this year.

Mr. Taber briefly outlined some of the past Renegade games when the team was struggling to gain a place in student activities. Don Robesky arrived in time to address the group, although he missed the dinner.

Dean Bird's message in poetry was one of the highlights of the assembly. Coach Clymer assured her when he exploited the players' private lives, that their ability was almost as great as Miss Bird's.

Honor Trout and Frankel

Mr. Tibbets, representing Harry Coffee, awarded the blanket to the team's best scholar, Bill Trout. Frankel received one also for having been voted the most valuable man on the team.

Coach Jaek Frost expressed satisfaction as to the Renegades' trouncing Taft this year. He further stated that the team had worked hard for victory, and there was no question as to their ability in having won it. At this time he awarded the gold footballs and letters to the members of the team.

John Besone led yells at the assembly for Coach Frost and the team.

Gridders Receive 1936 Rewards

An "all graduate team" could be formed from this year's departing lettermen, according to the gridders' roster. The team, composed of those who have earned letters and gold footballs would include Reed Bunting, end; Wayne Filkel, tackle; Walt Singleton, guard; Tom Robesky, center; Captain Ed Mohr, guard; John Sprague, tackle; and Bill Monroe, end. A fitting backfield for this strong line would be Frankel, left half; Joe Gibson, right half; Dick Jeffries, fullback; and "Bird" Maddux, quarterback.

Nine Fresh Get Letters

Nine other men on the squad have another year of eligibility and are receiving letters. Included among these are Ed Barbosa, end; Gene Duncan, quarterback; Harper, right half; Monte Jones, tackle; Jimmy Moon, end; Peters, guard; Bob Sheldon, tackle; Bill Trout, fullback; and J. J. Peterson, guard.

It is noted that only the 17 seniors will receive gold footballs, as the ruling is that two years of service as well as winning the Valley Championship and a letter is necessary to receive one of those prized awards.

Old Circulars Reflect J. C. Growth

Proof that B. J. C. has changed in the last five years is evident when a J. C. circular of 1931-32 is examined. More courses are offered and the number of instructors has been increased from 33 to 51; while the student count has gained only 100 over the 487 in 1931.

The department of technology, which includes aviation, welding, and other technical courses, was entirely lacking then, as was the department of agriculture.

The department of English has added two teachers and seven new courses, while a gain of four teachers and five courses was made in mathematics and engineering.

Natural science has increased from fourteen to twenty-one courses and social science from ten to sixteen.

Foreign language then offered one more language than now—Latin.

Group B, or non-college courses, have been augmented now by the addition of the agriculture and technology departments.

Class C or repair courses have not been changed.

However, several courses were offered then that are not offered now, namely: English S3A-B, poetry; Math 32, slide rule; mineralogy 1A; zoology 10; orientation 1C. Business Ethics; Latin A, B, C, D, and accounting 30 A-B, 40 A-B.

The Renegades of '31 under "Spud" Harder were restricted in practicing to the south side of the field and behind the south goal posts; while now they share the playing field with the Drillers.

Rotten-Greeting Given Rooters

One cracked windshield and ten dozen smashed tomatoes were the results of a welcome arranged for the B. J. C. buses going to the Taft game.

The "unofficial" Taft reception committee awaited on "36 hill" and good sportsmen that they were, (or maybe because they arrived late) bus number 30, carrying the team, came through "sans tomatoes."

However, when buses 31 and 32 came along carrying the rooters, a cloud of expertly-thrown ancient tomatoes met them.

Date Announced For Christmas Dance

Saturday, December 19, has been definitely set as the date for the annual Christmas dance at the oman's Club, according to executive council reports.

Plans to make this one of the year's best affairs are rapidly progressing under direction of Ed Mohr. Invitations have already been mailed to over three hundred alumni. This dance, following tradition, will be strictly semi-formal and program type. Duke Bayless' orchestra has been engaged to play.

"It's going to be something big, so be sure and get your dates early," warns Jess Jones.

Activity Board to Meet

Discussion of last Friday's Club dance will head business of a special meeting of the Activity Board called for Monday evening.

Members will also discuss other current club-student body importance, and all members are requested to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

Spindt Extends Season's Wishes

H. A. SPINDT, Principal

To the Students of Bakersfield Junior College:

I suppose to many of us the Christmas season means a rest from the ordinary humdrum of work, together with the excitement which comes from exchange of gifts and exceptional dinners. I would not for the world attempt to change anything in the present joyousness of the so-called "Christmas spirit," and yet it might be worthwhile to think just a bit about the teaching of the man whose birthday we celebrate.

His ideal of "peace on earth, good will to men" is nearer realization now than it was two thousand years ago, and yet we have a long way to go before that ideal can be realized even on an international scale. It is comparatively easy to smile radiantly and say, "Merry Christmas," and is somewhat harder to put into our habitual thought and action the philosophy necessary to the realization of highest ideals.

My wish to you is a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" not as holidays but as a part of your regular life during the coming three hundred and sixty-five days.

H. A. SPINDT.

Graduate Pictures Reach Halfway Mark

"Half of the pictures of graduates are already taken," reports Virginia Jennings, Raconteur editor. "Jane Collins has been working hard to schedule the pictures so that they will be finished by Christmas."

Club pictures will not be taken until next semester, but Miss Jennings urges all clubs to have their ten dollar payments ready. Football pictures have been taken, and Raconteur football articles are already being written by Dan O'Neill, sports editor.

Raconteur sales will begin in the spring, with prices at $1.25 for the first week. During the second week the price will be advanced to $1.50. From the third week of sales until the date the book is issued, it will be $1.75. After the book is issued the price will remain at $2.25.

Speechsters Place High At Pasadena

Bakersfield Junior College speakers and debaters of four year colleges of seven states fought for primary places recently at Pasadena. Mr. Peterson, Doris Hancock, John Fanucchi, John Besone, Marie Nichols and Stuart Chenoweth attended from B. J. C.

The men's team, Fanucchi and Besone, entered twelve debates, defeating two U. S. C. varsity teams before being eliminated.

The women's team debated seven rounds, defeating varsity teams from C. O. P., U. S. C., and others before being eliminated.

All B. J. C. students were entered in extemporaneous speaking. John Fanucchi was ranked among the first three until the semi-finals, when he was eliminated.

The question for debate was, "Resolved, that congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry."

A.W.S.-A.M.S. Plan For Xmas Party

Santa Claus will be the biggest feature of the A. W. S.-A. M. S. Christmas party to be held Friday, December 18, at 7:30 p. m., in the girls' gym, according to June Reynolds, president of A. W. S. and general chairman of the affair.

Games for all are being planned by the games committee composed of Grace De Groote, chairman, Marie Anderson and Pat Peake.

Harold Mumford, and George Voll will arrange for the huge Christmas tree for the Santa Claus, and music for dancing.

Stunts will be under the direction of Royce Denney and Adah Greenstreet is in charge of invitations.

Cake, coffee and candy will be served to those attending after an evening of games, stunts and dancing.

Virginia Starkey, Mary Lust and June Reynolds are in charge of refreshments.

French Club Tells of Party

Christmas spirit of the French Club will have an outlet on the evening of December 22, when the club will have its annual Christmas party at the home of Charles Adams, of 2020 B street.

All members are invited to bring a guest for the dancing and cards, which will be enjoyed.

Boys are asked to bring a small amount of money for liquid refreshments, and the girls are to bring sandwiches or salad.

Members planning to attend are asked to see Adah Greenstreet before next Tuesday.

To Have More Radio Rallies

Radio rallies will be continued during the basketball season, according to John Besone, cheer leader.

Besone urges the support of the student body for the season which opens December 17, when B. J. C. meets Coalinga J. C. in a home game.

It is expected that one big rally will be held soon after Christmas at which the new assistant to Frost, Mr. Shoup, who hails from Nebraska, and Glendon Rogers, will speak.

"How many radio rallies there will be in the future depends upon the response of the student body," says Besone.

Balloting To Choose Spring Executives

Students Vote To Fill Nine Positions

Student body offices will be open to new candidates in an election to be held Friday, January 15, according to Jess Jones, president.

Present office-holders who will run for reelection are: Jess Jones, president; Ed Mohr, first vice-president; David Goldberg, second vice-president; Marie Nichols, program chairman; Aileen Hirst, secretary; Bob Kohlruet, ticket manager; and Bob Sheldon, Jack Cooper, freshman representatives, and John Besone, rally chairman.

William Neill, business manager of publications, will not be a candidate chairman, will not be candidates for reelection. On the tentative resignation of Edwin Adkins, editor of the Rip, a new editor will be chosen in the January election to fill that position during the spring semester.

A new candidate for office must be nominated in a petition signed by fifty students. The last day on which petitions can be turned in to Dean Grace Bird is Friday, January 8.

Frankel and Trout Awarded Trophies

Ray Frankel and Bill Trout were awarded the Fox Theater trophies for most outstanding player and best scholar, respectively, of the 1936 Renegade football team at the Fox Theater last Friday night.

Jim Day, Californian sports writer, introduced the players, and Frank Heller, manager of the theater, presented them with the gold cup awards upon the stage.

Frankel and Trout also received the Harry Coffee miniature "All-American" blanket and silver cup.

Less sung heroes of the grid for this season include Ed Mohr, who was elected honorary captain by the team, and the two managers, "Mac" McCarthy and Charles Klieves. They are to receive letters and gold footballs.

Chorus To Sing At Pageant

B. J. C. students are invited to hear cantata music presented by the mixed chorus at the third annual Christmas pageant of the high school Girl Reserves and music department, according to Miss Buchner and Mr. Clark, music instructors. On the same program Mr. Parker will play "Ave Maria" on his violin.

With production under way for nearly a month, performances will be presented Tuesday afternoon, December 26, in the auditorium for students and in the evening of the same day for the public.

A. W. S. To Hear Book Review

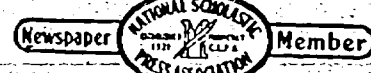

"Gone With the Wind," a best seller, by Margaret Mitchell, will be reviewed by Miss Keough this morning at the A. W. S. meeting in the J. C. study hall.

Miss Keough has had much experience in reviewing books and was recently featured over a weekly program on KPAC.

Plans for the coming A. W. S.-A. M. S. Christmas party on December 18 will also be discussed.

To Change or Not To Change--

And the argument rages on! There are still rumors afloat to the effect that Bakersfield Junior College will "ditch" the name "Renegades" used to designate the football, basketball, and track teams as well as the forensic squads.

Perhaps half the students in the school don't know the actual meaning of the word—at least not until recently. It is that name given a traitor who turns against someone. How it was pinned upon the local Junior College is an interesting story.

BIG SQUAD

Several years ago the Bakersfield Junior College football squad had the total sum of 12 members. A good team it was too, but the local high school football team razed them for being so few in number.

Finally this aroused the ire of the fighting collegians and they vowed to root against the Drifters when they played an opponent on Griffith Field.

NAME IS BORN

Morris Chain, now a well known attorney in Bakersfield, was at that time writing sports for the Bakersfield Morning Echo and nothing that the Junior College players were cheering for the opponents instead of for the Drifters, promptly—tacked—the name "Renegades" upon the team. It has stuck ever since, although no official steps have ever been taken to approve or disapprove of the choice.

DISLIKES MONIKER

Theron Taber, who related the above incident to a Rip reporter, greatly dislikes the moniker as do many other faculty members and students. "Why we haven't any symbol whatsoever," relates Taber, "Whereas U. C. L. A. has its Bruin, U. C. C. its Bear, Taft its Cougar, and Porterville its Pirate, we're totally at a loss in portraying a Renegade. If the students themselves approve of the name, they at least ought to do something to make it official."

Members of the football team are all in favor of keeping the present title. The Varsity Club thinks it's o.k. too. But here and there disgruntled students are found to voice disapproval to the name. It is certain that the controversy will come to a showdown sooner or later. The student body seems to be a "house divided against itself" on the matter.

Bob Kohlruht Hurt On Bonfire Job

Falling off a speeding truck while gathering wood for the Taft bonfire rally, Bob Kohlruht painfully injured his ankle and sustained minor bruises. Kohlruht was in charge of building the bonfire pyre. Upon recuperating, he wished to extend credit and thanks to George Voll, Hugh Miller, Jack Mulvana and Ralph Freeman, as well as two high school boys, Bill Curran and Roy Hubbard, sole helpers. He also adds, "These boys witnessed their day's work go up in flames a short time after its completion with about fifty rooters standing by. Such spirit and gratitude is amazing!"

Message From Student President

There are some individuals who object to the name that our football team bears and who urge the changing of the name "Renegades" to one "more becoming to our student body." It seems that the term "Renegade" if construed in its most strict sense is synonymous with the terms "deserter and traitor." I don't feel that our name causes people to think of us as deserters or traitors; however, there are arguments on both sides of the proposal to change our name.

The significant fact is that the team bearing the name "Renegades" has succeeded in gaining for B. J. C. the championship of the Central California Junior College Conference. Their name doesn't seem to have held them back in the least. They have succeeded not only in preventing any of their conference opponents from scoring a single point against them, but in defeating all but two of their opponents—L. A. J. C. and U. C. L. A.

Nor has the name "Renegade" proved a handicap to our forensic squad. During Thanksgiving vacation our forensic squad journeyed down to Pasadena to take part in the annual tournament sponsored by the Western Association of Teachers of Speech. Our debaters managed to defeat several college varsity teams and our contestants all made very good showings in the individual events. Congratulations.

The annual Christmas alumni dance will definitely be held on the evening of December 19. Preparations are already well under way to make this dance one of the year's best. Invitations are being mailed to all present and former B. J. C. students.

More good news! We are going to put on a special Christmas assembly Friday, December 18. It likewise promises to be one of the year's best. There will be entertainment and fun galore. This is not a scheduled assembly, so you had better jot the date down on your calendar.

Since this is the last Rip until after Christmas—Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

JESS JONES.

Christmas Dance Price Schedule Explained

A method of not only discouraging stags, but of eliminating most of them is to employ a certain price arrangement, thinks the junior college executive council.

The schedule of prices to be used at the Christmas dance is as follows: Couples, admitted free with student body cards; stags pay one dollar even though they have a card; high school couples pay one dollar.

THE FORUM

This column, the Forum, is inaugurated for the purpose of obtaining a cross section of student opinion. All students are invited to express their views in letters of not over 200 words. No personalities nor purely destructive criticism will be printed. The Rip reserves the right to delete or discard any letter and is not responsible for the opinions expressed therein. Letters must be signed, but the names will not be printed. Address any Forum material to the Rip Box in the main office, or forward it to James Nichols.

SMOKING

Dear Editor: Over on California Avenue is a parking. Sitting upon this parking is a group of boys and girls. In the hands of the boys and girls are held Camels, Chesterfields and other brands of cigarettes. Occasionally a student, oftentimes of the male species, will stroll over to the bull session and pull out of his hip pocket a long piece of wood with a bowl at one end and at the same time with his other hand he will pull out a tobacco pouch, fill the bowl and with a serene look on his face puff away his cares.

To many passersby, either in cars or walking, this creates a bad impression of B. J. C. Dean Bird, at the beginning of school, urged students who must smoke to do so far away from the campus. Does this request seem harsh? Is the smoking habit so bad that a person is unable to refrain from smoking in public? Or do the students smoke to show off? The latter reason seems to me the most logical. Because of a few "nicotine fiends" should B. J. C. be given a bad name? As a student in this up and coming junior college, I would like to see some action taken against this unflattering pastime. And, if necessary, some drastic means should be employed.

D. M.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Dear Editor: It seems to me that this school has the least amount of spirit of any school in this or any other conference. The students of B. J. C. sit by and expect to see their school "tops," but if anything goes wrong there is an awful "holer" and no one steps forward to help.

During football season only 73 out of our six hundred students attended every game. A fine record! The average student attendance at a football game was 300. 300 out of 600! Spirit at football games may not mean very much, but that is only one instance. Radio rallies, student body assemblies, extra-curricular activities, and fun galore. This is not a scheduled assembly, so you had better jot the date down on your calendar.

Since this is the last Rip until after Christmas—Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Rat Peake Thanks Students

The co-operation of the students of the B. J. C. rooting section during the last football season has been of very pleasing quality.

I want to thank every one of you who attended our radio rallies and games and has sung our school songs with such enthusiasm. More students this year than ever before have attended our games yelled and sung for our team.

This is so encouraging that tentative plans have been made to get individual megaphones for the rooting section next year.

Thank you!

PAT PEAKE.

Tri-Club Dance Sporty Affair

Cooperation was the keynote of the Tri-Club dance held Friday, December 4 in the Boys' gym.

Georgia Craig, president of the Art Club; Bob Sheldon and Clyde Grow, German Club committee; and Charles Adams, Choral representative, were the group responsible for the dance. Jack Cooper and Dave Goldberg were also on the general committee.

When the first team was organized, Renegades expresses independence and individuality. To be known as "Bears" or any other such title name, would be to be known as one among many, but out title is our own. Let's not destroy tradition; let's carry on with the name which all of us have been proud to carry!

RALLY THANKS

Dear Editor: I wish to thank all of those that made our "Beat Taft" rally a success. Specifically I wish to express my appreciation to Jack Cooper who prepared the radio program; to Bob Sheldon in charge of the school rally program; to George Voll and Bob Kohlruht, for building the huge bonfire pyre, and to Charles Adams, who kept things going during my absence.

Although disappointed at the student body turnout at the culmination of the rally, I do feel that the loyalty and school spirit shown by those who did work and guard the fire deserves commendation.

JOHN BESONE,
Chairman Rally Committee.

Editor's Note: Any answer to these letters which conforms to the ethics of debate will be considered for publication.

B. J. C.'s Opinion

Stags have prevailed in large numbers at J. C. dances throughout the fall to the displeasure of many J. B. C. students. In an attempt to find out the attitude of the student in regard to stags, the following question has been asked:

"What is your opinion on the stag line at junior college dances?"

Answers received seem to be of a set conclusion.

Bernice Steward, quotes: "I think that it is the duty of every boy to bring a girl and to exchange dances as they do in the bigger schools. This stag business is high school stuff." Bob Sheldon, says: "The stag line is a lot of fun in its place, but only when a stag dance is called and not as a permanent feature of the dance as has been the case all fall."

Paulina Lacacella, speaks: "A few stags once in a while are all right; but too many spoil the evening for everyone."

Cherry Hering quotes: "A girl really likes a little privilege as to whom she dances with, and this is not easily accomplished at a dance where a stag line prevails."

Douglass Jarrett, says: "A lot of stags are all right providing they are girls."

Ed Adkins, quotes: "Convenient, but highly undesirable."

Clyde Grow, does say: "The prevailing stag line has caused so much hard feeling on the parts of many that the attendance has gradually diminished."

John Fanucchi, interpreting the question of the day: "The stag line is highly desirable, but remember I'm no authority."

A girl: "The stag line is a fine thing for the wall flowers, but it seems as though they never pick on the wall flowers." Ed Mohr, says: "It's going to cost all stags a buck ($1.00) regardless of student body cards, take it and like it."

"Jean Baldwin," quotes: "It doesn't make any difference to me."

Pick Oldershaw, says: "You should by rights take dates, but they do cost money."

Jack Rice, potential stag: "Well, by rights a fellow ought to take a girl, but the proposition of transportation is to be considered, and besides my girl would shoot me if I stepped out on her."

Now that all of these lovely answers have been given and accounted it shall be the privilege of the staff to send a representative to the next J. C. dance and see how many liars are there.

Research in a hospital may seem to be a queer approach to solving motor car problems, but that is exactly what has been done by Chrysler engineers in the development of this year's models. Realizing that many of the injuries suffered in motor car accidents are from projections on automobile instrument boards, this company has set all their instruments and controls flush with the instrument board; there are no projections—not even light switches.

Ventilated clutches in Plymouth and other Chrysler made cars give promise of longer life and better action.

Most widely used in 1937 cars is the hypoid gearing in the differential. By means of a design that is halfway between a worm gear and the conventional pinion, it permits a lower position of the drive shaft and hence a lower body without a tunnel in the rear compartment.

Car Safety

The door handle bugaboo has been removed somewhat in this year's construction and are now curved so they cannot catch clothing or pierce flesh. An added safety feature is found in the rolled back of the front seat in certain body styles of Dodge cars. The soft cushion thus formed serves to lessen the effect of a backseat passenger being forcibly thrown against the front seat in event of a sudden stop or collision.

Many of the 1937 cars are using shock-absorbers of the so-called airplane type—comparatively thin telescoping tubes that are fastened directly to the axle and body. They are hydraulic in action.

New Pistons

Aluminum pistons are found in the power plant of many of the new cars. Not the aluminum pistons of a few years ago, but treated by an electrolytic process called "anodizing," which produces a file-hard surface that resists wear.

A "hydraulic hill-hold" is available on Hudsons and Terraplanes, by means of which the car is prevented from backing when stopped on a hill.

Most of the new cars are provided with means for taking off a stream of hot air from the car heater and directing it upward against the inside of the windshield. This evaporates interior mist, and in cold weather warms the glass so that frost cannot form on the exterior and the windshield wiper can do its job regardless of outside temperatures.

Wire wheels are definitely out of the picture. Pressed steel artillery and disk wheels are far in the majority on this year's models.

New Willys

The new Willys is announced as the lowest priced car in the standard size field. Its body is a fine piece of design—modernistic to a large degree. The engine develops 48 horse power at 3200 revolutions per minute. In reality it is the only new car on the market.

A feature that the buying public cannot see on many of the new 1937 cars, but one that is of great importance to lengthened car life is that all sheet metal is rust-proofed before it is enameled or lacquered. All bolts, nuts, washers, and so on are cadmium plated to prevent rusting.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS: "Am I doing ninety yet?"

Friends of Betty Porter Invited Mrs. E. H. Varty, mother of Miss Betty Zoe Porter, widely known high school senior who met untimely death recently, would be pleased to receive any of the friends of Miss Porter any time in her home at 2301 C street, according to word forwarded the Rip.

Y.W.C.A. Sews and Plans at Meeting

"Have you another square like this?"

"Yes, here it is. Say, that's going to look keen!"

Members of the Y. W. C. A. have closed their last two meetings with sewing bees in which they have nearly completed a "nine patch" crib quilt of brightly colored cotton prints for a Mexican family. The making of this quilt will constitute their service project for the year.

At the last meeting plans were also made for their candy sale and theater party under the direction of Jean Otto and Miriam Shull.

Names were also submitted to Mrs. Benson, chairman of the adult committee which will decide on the official delegation to Asilomar. The decision will be published as soon as the number of delegates to be sent is certain.

Virginia Starkey closed the meeting with the devotional service.

Those attending the meeting were: Naomi Bain, Pauline Latzke, Mabel Maddux, Grace De Groot, Rhea Wallis, Dorothy Dodson, Louise Brown, Harriet Mills, Virginia Starkey, Miriam Shull, Jean Otto, Mrs. A. E. Otto, and Mrs. Evelyn Benson.

Asilomar Plans Told to Local Y's.

Latest announcements of the Asilomar Planning Committee state that among the widely known leaders expected to lead lectures and discussions at the annual midwinter Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. conference are Dr. Mendenhall of Whittier, Elton Trueblood of Stanford, Morgan Odel of Occidental, and others from colleges and universities all over the Pacific Coast states and Hawaii.

Five or more delegates is the aim of the campus organizations when this conference convenes December 26 in the annual conference grounds near Pacific Grove in Monterey county.

Tickets Raise Money

In order to pay part of the expenses of their delegates the members of the Y. W. C. A. sponsored "Come and Get It" at the Fox theater and sold candy in the lobby during the afternoon and evening performances last Saturday. Prospective Bakersfield delegates from both clubs are Glen Tanner, Kenneth Rich, Rhea Wallis, Virginia Starkey, and Naomi Bain.

Besides discussion groups on religious and social problems on the campus, worship groups have been planned. The delegates will also enjoy hikes, evening meetings, dramas, a New Year's Dance, and a watch-night service.

Shrieking Femmes Take To Slacks

"Why can't we wear slacks?" some shivering girl in Mrs. Aldrich's first period gym class suggested on a foggy morning recently.

"Go ahead; I don't care," Mrs. Aldrich replied.

Since then the idea has spread to other classes, and slacks have become found a common sight on the athletic field. "If the girls are more comfortable in slacks I see no reason why they shouldn't wear them," Mrs. Aldrich says. "But they should regard wearing slacks as a cold-weather privilege for the hour periods only."

Christmas Vacation

Christmas vacation will begin on Thursday, December 24, and continue to Sunday, January 3, inclusive, according to recent office dispatches.

WAA Hold Initiation Ceremonies Monday

Freshman girls paid for their soccer victories when the sophomores found a vent for chagrin over their common sight on the athletic field. defeats in the W. A. A. initiation ceremonies held after the game on Monday evening in the cafeteria. All those who played on the freshman soccer team were made W. A. A. members.

The sophomores provided beans, bread, coffee and apples, but the work of serving and clean-up was done by freshmen, who were disciplined with a paddle. Dorothy Hadup, president of the W. A. A., was in charge of the affair.

Lifers To Demand Representation

Shrieking their banner cry, "No taxation without representation," the Lifers are sponsoring the intrusion of a "junior" member in the executive council.

The Lifers point out that they are entirely without representation in the council. They pay their $10 registration fee and the executive board spends it. But what does this board consist of? At least two fresh are members and the remainder are sophomores, they add.

That juniors, having paid their fee, and then having no say in the spending of the money is unfair and un-American, the Lifers, in their position as the organ of expression among the long-termers, contend.

The club was formed this year by a group of the "higher-minded students," to unite the members of B. J. C. who have, due to various reasons, remained at the university more than two years. All such students are eligible for membership. The club has an adviser, a charter and all necessary legal accessories.

Adopt Constitution

Chiefly to save energy, the Lifers have adopted the constitution of the U. S. A. as their own. Since adoption several amendments have been added, the most important changing the terms of the officers from four years to six years. No reelection is possible, however.

Betty Richardson Enters Delta Psi

Initiation of Betty Richardson into Delta Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity dominated the business meeting last Wednesday at the home of Dean Smith.

For her initiation, Miss Richardson presented a short scene "Babette" with the assistance of Bob Kohlruht.

Betty is remembered for her portrayal of "Imojean" in "Meet the Prince" and "Draycott" in "Tea for Three," and several one-act plays. According to president Frank Watron, "The quality of her work made her an outstanding candidate."

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served to members.

MERRY G' ROUNDS

Do I hear a "beef" about the number of J. C. students present at the Tri-club dance. After all one does want to know where one is going before one goes!

"Those who are supposed to know" say that the Christmas Semi-Formal Dance is definitely set at the pre-arranged date, December 19. Many students had their little hearts set on having the holiday dance nearer the holidays, preferably on December 23. We hear, however, that the invitations have already been sent.

Nominations have been sent in naming "Butch" Clymer as J. C.'s personality kid. Note—"My Kingdom for a Kiss Goldberg's" title has been changed to "poisonality kid."

Reports have it that Glen Tanner, Kenneth Rich, Naomi Bain, Rhea Wallis and Virginia Starkey are looking forward to a week of partying and dancing at Asilomar the week after Christmas. Conference headquarters is to be quite close to the beach; let's hope for B. J. C.'s reputation that representatives remember to go to meetings.

Basketeers Open Season Against Wasco, But Lose 27-26

Lack Of Practice Causes Downfall

Looking a little rough around the edges, a fault due to their having had only a week of practice, the Renegades dropped a tight game to Wasco Friday night by a score of 27 to 26.

This unfortunate outcome was facilitated no end by a rabbit's foot, figuratively speaking, clutched in the dusky paw of a scintillating Senegambian named Charley. The ten points scored from center court by this tantalizing Tanganyukan were tantamount to victory for Wasco.

However, Bakersfield's maroon madmen, Reserves to you, upheld the honor of B. J. C. Displaying a two-cylinder offense and an original defense, they knocked off the Wasco Reserves 22 to 16, incidentally holding Charley to 4 points.

Lynch Stars

Kermit Lynch, ex-Delano star, garnered high-point honors for the varsity game with 13 digits, while Gordon Hudson tallied 9 points to lead the reserves.

Many practice games will be scheduled throughout the season. The following is the tentative schedule for 1936-'37:

Jan. 8, Porterville J. C., there.
Jan. 15, Cal. Poly, there.
Jan. 22, Reedley, here.
Feb. 5, Taft, here.
Feb. 12, Porterville, here.
Feb. 20, Visalia, here.

Single Basketball Letterman Returns

To build a winning team from a basketball squad containing only one returning letterman is the none-too-inviting task facing Coach Frost this season.

Sami Iantorno, the Long Beach earthquake, is the only monogram winner returning to do his best for B. J. C.

There are, however, in the squad of 33 men, several from out of town who will bolster the team considerably.

Fifteen On Varsity

Coach Frost will probably cut the squad within a few days, keeping on the Varsity some 15 men with approximately the same number on the reserves.

According to tentative plans, the reserves will be entered in the commercial league to gain game experience, while the varsity squad will play scheduled games.

The Squad

Those constituting the squad are: Forwards, Harris, Lynch, White, Echols, Adams, Wedell, Hampton, Hudson, Towers, Iantorno, Mickey, Rose, Martin and Cennis.

Guards, Jackson, McCarty, Cox, Harrison, Taylor, Harlow, Tatsuno, Henley, Svimonoff, Butler, Meeks, Barbosa, Mulvana and Kelly.

Centers, Voth, Nichols, Walker, Weidman and Walrath.

"Every student should learn to be a good loafer," advised the president of the University of Texas. The Daily Texan, in giving its interpretation of the meaning of this advice, says: "Good loafing is like an appetizer before a meal—like the pause for refreshment in the midst of an arduous task. It is like play in the old maxim to the effect that 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.'" —L. A. Junior Collegian.

The Sports Rialto

By DAN O'NEILL
Sports Editor

I suppose football should be shunted from the sports columns to make room for the basketball doings, but somehow the more drunken pigskin fanatics keep up the chatter right on through. Many are keeping the football stove league simmering by discussing the '1937 chances of Wallace Frost's rampant Renegades.

I think they're pretty good.

Although the Maroon mentor loses eight regulars who started against the Taft Cougars, replacements are unusually bright. Barbosa, Sheldon and Harper are the only first string men returning next year. This leaves a rather huge gap to plug but Frost will do, and don't think he won't. Jasperson, Jones, Peters, Moon, Casey, and Patrick are returning linemen that are certain to be serious contenders for first string berths. Backfield material brings an encouraging outlook. Roy Harper, of course, will be a mainstay. I rate him the most dependable player on this year's team. Bill Trout will harass tacklers in his customary way, and Gene Duncan, the Brae Olinda flea, will be the team's sparkplug. Elbert Harrison was first string material this year. He is a light man but has twice the drive of an ordinary backfield man. Harrison cavorts at the left half position. Then we can count on Goldie Griffith sending over six or seven sterling patented Griffith products. It's just a habit with him.

So you see, don't worry too much over 1937. It will take a lot of work in moulding a team as good as the '36 outfit, but I think Frost can do it.

That idea of the Varsity Club giving circle B's to members barely missing earning a regular monogram is too dumb to be funny. Joe Gibson is the forgotten man of the Renegade team. He played excellent ball until injured in the Porterville contest and didn't recover in time to play against his old mates at Taft. Joe's left leg is healing slowly but surely.

Renegade Hoopsters To Meet Delano High Tonight

Frosh Women Whip Sophs in Soccer

Outplayed by efficient freshman teamwork, the sophomore girls lost 4 to 1 Monday afternoon in the last of a series of three interclass soccer games. The freshmen won the first of the two previous games by a score of 4 to 2, and the sophomores won the second 8 to 6.

Members of both teams receive 100 W. A. A. points that count toward awards of maroon felt B's, gold pins, and guards. Speedball, volleyball and baseball games to be played later in the year will provide opportunities to earn the additional 300 points necessary for a first award.

Winning Team Members

Those who played on the winning freshman team are Phyllis Stancliff, captain, Margie Jo Bordeaux, Frances Chambers, Eva Coulson, Josephine Fulton, Elsie Gredig, Margaret Hendrickson, Pauline Latzke, Arlouine Lind, Evelyn Parker, Thelma Prather, Jean Rench, Esther Taylor, Catherine Theobald and Norma Beth White.

Harold Mumford at Hospital

"Harold is doing very well, but we do not know how much longer it will be before he comes home from the hospital," stated his mother, Mrs. Mumford, last night.

This prominent member of the student body has been at Kern General Hospital one week suffering from blood poisoning in his leg incurred when a blister on his heel became infected.

Reserves Play In Preliminary

Delano high school's varsity will play host to the Renegade five tonight in a practice game scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. Bakersfield and Delano reserve teams will tangle in a preliminary game starting at 7:15.

It is quite likely that the Renegades will show to better advantage than last week, for the Wasco game was played after only one week of practice and the boys have improved considerably after a week of intensive drill.

Sam Iantorno, veteran forward, says that "we will win if we play as well as we can."

Bakersfield will probably start Lynch and Iantorno forward, Voth center, and Cox and Harrison guards.

The reserves, in the full flush of a one game winning streak, hope to keep in the victory column tonight over Delano's reserve. The acquisition of Warren Coats bolsters this hope considerably.

Bliss Tells of Track Chances

Bakersfield junior college will have no entrant in the Central California Junior College Conference cross country run at Visalia on Saturday, December 12. "This is the first time in the history of the school and conference cross country competition that the Renegades have failed to provide runners." These are the words of Coach Percy Bliss, track coach.

Over a course of four and one-half miles the harriers of the other conference schools will vie for honors in the distance race. Moretime of Visalia is picked as the outstanding entry.

B. J. C.'s failure to provide runners this fall is a forecast that the Renegade cinder men are going to be extremely weak in the distance runs when the season swings into being on January 11.
