AWS Kid Party Held Thursday

Annual AWS Kid’s Day was held last Thursday evening, September 27, from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. in the girls’ dormitory. The guests included five little boys and four little girls dressed in costumes. The guests were entertained into the play ground with a play house and a white pumpkin, and little wagon and doll-carriages were displayed around the walls.

Program included the game of the kit parts, games such as London Bridge, and a game of the collectible little girl.

The girls were put into groups to estimate the number of months in a year. Pat Grimes, the oldest member of the group, said the exact answer. Barbara Lee Farewell played two magic waggles pieces on the piano. Group singing was done by Peggy Petersen, accompanied by Betty Bek. Pat Van Wech was in charge of refreshments, Betty Volls planned the games and entertainment, and Betty Bek, Phyllis Magee, and Wanda Williams planned the decorations.

Deane Dickenson Takes Blue Moon

Student from South America At BHS

While visiting his father, his wife, a civil engineer, just returned from the British land Company. He has attended several cities, Columbia, Panama Canal, Panama Canal, Panama Canal, Panama Canal, Panama Canal, Panama Canal, Panama Canal.

The neighborhood is now studying at BHS.

Students interesting facts of work nearby neighborhoods. He reports that the fraud there is much different from ours. The basement, for instance, is about 12 inches long, and on the top of it about 1 inch diameter and east of a width of a inch of coin.

Another, interesting fact concerns the weather. He says that it rains about 60 inches a year. There are no birds, and there are no trees on the ground beside the building.

The Tivoli family plans to remain at BHS until October before returning to their home in Panama.

AMT Bulletin

Give Instructors A Break; Blame Yourself

The feeling prevalent around school about this time, that bad grades are a result of not enough ability on the student's part, but rather of some "peevish" teacher's not having the heart to grade for certain individuals. This is commonly known as "rankism." It is always hard to realize that a lack of interest, lack of effort, or lack of attempt is responsible for a D or an F. It is usually hard to realize that even in a college of this size, students are, to most teachers, merely students in a classroom and not individuals. True, in small classes, teachers can interpret responses to assignments as the result of an individual problem, but when the time comes for grades to be made out, all that can be counted is the final result, no better grades or points.

Another thing students don't realize is that teachers are human. They have "off" days and bad days just as well as students have. Some teachers have a rather "evasive" attitude toward those who don't cooperate who are really to blame. If students tried to get along with the teachers and had bad teachers, they'd try to get along with them, classroom relationship would be much improved. Those remarks aren't meant to be personal, but their overall effect is the same. It's necessary to be cooperative and friendly.

School life can really be wonderful. Teachers do seem to have themselves and place the blame for discouraging grades and classroom encounters on us. Let's have a "understand the teachers" deal.

COMMUNITY CHEST

A warm welcome to Kathleen Knight who joins the executive council as director of intra-school publicity. We're sure you'll enjoy your job, Kathleen.

BY GWINNIE SLACK

Friday night, after the high school football game with Loyola, our student body is preparing for the first dance of the year. Let's get the junior class represented, it's your turn to support it.

This is all for now, but don't forget the dinner on the 25th. I hope to see you all there.

I'm looking forward to getting those students who are interested to get involved. Ours is the student government! Even if you aren't interested in student activities, think of it as a means to an end.
