Glendale To Face Renegade Friday

Bakersfield Gridders To Seek Victory

Coach Jack Poole's potential Renegade coach heads on with Glendale's biggest tilt of the campaign at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. He is looking for a vengeance match, seeking to correct the 21-0 setback suffered at the hands of the Gauchos this year. Glendale, which is strong at defense, high in offense, and a school of young men, is counting on the importance of the game in the Conference.

Second-Half Splurge Gives Renegades Win Over Glendale

By Floyd C. Brooks

The 13th Annual Orange County Open Golf Tournament was held in Glendale on October 11 under the lights of Glendale College's new floodlights. The Glendale College mascot, the Glendale Gopher, performed at the opening ceremonies. The Glendale course was the venue for the tournament.

The tournament featured 18 holes of course play, with the Glendale Gopher as the mascot. The Glendale course was a challenging and picturesque one, with many hazards such as trees, bunkers, and water hazards. The tournament was well-attended, with a large number of golfers participating in the event.

The Glendale College mascot, the Glendale Gopher, performed at the opening ceremonies, adding to the festive atmosphere of the event. Prominent Speakers Will End Forum

Three prominent figures in the field of social science will complete the fall series of the Bakersfield Forum on Thursday evenings, October 21, November 4, and November 18 at 2:30 p.m. at the Standard oil auditorium. William Winter, news analyst; Mary Lee Stanley Brooklyn, economic commentator; and Ellis R. Stabler, world traveler and historian, will be the final speakers who will discuss the theme, "Are We Winning the Peace?"

William Winter, who will discuss "Democracy for Ex- perts," Social Challenge in Asia," at the October 21 forum, is an internationally famous radio news analyst and former war correspondent in the Far East. In his address he will cover the Soviet foreign policy, ideology and political economy as it affects people abroad the Pacific.

Mary Lee Stanley Brooklyn will attempt to answer the question, "What's Ahead for the United States?" Mrs. Brooklyn is recognized as one of the nation's foremost economic commentators. Author of six standard books on economic and national affairs, he is widely read as the nationally syndicated columnist for the International News Service. He also has been widely known through his appearances at Town Hall, and other nationwide radio forums and debates.

Ellis R. Stabler, world traveler and historian, in his topic, "Security for the American People," will a report on his experiences in Europe and the Far East on November 18. A former newsman, he has traveled in 60 countries and is well qualified to discuss the general aspects of the present situation and the internment where they were held. Many of our most friendly enemies have passed through his hands.

These forums are open to the public without charge as an effort to work toward better community living by helping acquaint the people of this community with national and international affairs of a political and economic nature.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO VETERANS

The Office of Coordinator of Veterans' Affairs announces the following:

1. Some men are receiving their substitute checks; make plans to get them and do not return this envelope.
2. Veterans' aid problem: Fakersfield High School is a "full scholver" school--"not an aid (word not shown) in the office of the school. Full time jobs are permissible only when they do not interfere with their school work. Full or part time work is allowed only by those who have the full fifteen units and 600 hours of work.

Girls at EEO expect that they will retire early, but if they have three or four years left at the vocation school at Montaño State College.

Early to bed, early to rise. Add your girl's name to the other girls.

Ex-Marines' Civilian Problems

Basis of Timely Romantic Drama

The problems facing those formerly discharged Marines on their return to civilian life form the basis of Bakersfield's three new dramas, "Riddle of the Rose," "This Woman's War," and "The Old Man and His Wife". These dramas are presented in order to discuss the problems of adjustment and re-education of the returning veteran, as well as the problems of the civilian community with whom they come in contact.

In "Riddle of the Rose," the story of a returning Marine, the audience is shown the problems of readjustment and the difficulties of finding a job. The play deals with the problems of the individual Marine and his family, as well as the problems of the community.
