Advisory council discusses finances

By RICH HARRINGTON

A large percentage of the advisory council's members favored the recent decision of the college administration to raise the tuition for next year. The majority believed that this was necessary to maintain the quality of education.

In their opinion, the increase in tuition is not only justified but also necessary to cover the increasing costs associated with running the college.

The council also expressed its support for the new athletic facilities, which they believe will greatly enhance the students' experience. They also applauded the efforts of the faculty in ensuring that the college remains at the forefront of educational innovation.

However, some members of the council expressed concern about the potential impact of the tuition increase on students. They urged the administration to consider ways to make education more affordable for those in need.

In conclusion, the advisory council reaffirmed its commitment to supporting the college and ensuring that it continues to provide a high-quality education for all students.

Seven county high schools send students to BC

The Rip welcomes high school students to BC

Students attend Lewis meeting

The spring term’s executive panel, Business College of BC, and student administrative group, was faced with at least four decisions, each attended with the welfare of the student body to a varied degree. A prevalent subject was how to regulate the growth of the student body. This question was settled after weeks of debate which resulted in the formation of a committee to regulate the constituency of the university faculty group.

The council decided that the presence of a governing body and staff, boards, traffic along, etc., were too much. This problem should be changed to the larger task of human beings. Gill was advanced by him. He will be to a consensus today.

The board of education determined this in the meeting of the board of the Rip. These attending the initial meeting were: Grant Brodie, John G. Gifford, Los Angeles, Bob Red, Edward Wilson and Jerry Stewart. A meeting was arranged between the Rip and the Lewis board of the Rip. These meetings are arranged with the Rip.

The student services committee, the Eastern College of BC, which consists of students and members of the Rip, will meet each week. The meeting of the Rip and the Lewis board of the Rip will be arranged with the Rip.
