Males head for the hills

Hays calls for last ditch stand

If you've noticed a strange "come hither" look in the eyes of BC coeds, chalk it up to Al Capp and Merrill Maxwell.

The idea that "hills shall escape," the women will be in action on the gridiron, is not new. In fact, it was the Hays' weekly stunt to begin the season when the Bakersfield team, which started Monday, took on their league opponents. The two teams met again Tuesday night, with the gridiron again being the site of the game. The game was a close one, with the Bakersfield team emerging victorious in the last few minutes of the game.

During the week, the coeds will go after their men with more energy than usual, as the Bakersfield team is scheduled to play against Santa Ana College. The game is scheduled for Saturday night, with the coeds expected to be in full swing.

Brain factories close while profs review three R's

Full time teachers, the school board and the administration plan to close schools in the county. This is a closely guarded secret that has been in the works for several weeks.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. on Monday, with the closing date in the eyes of all. The program will be handled by Dr. Jack Jett, president of the school board.

The program will be called "The Pursuit of Happiness," and the theme will be "The Pursuit of Happiness." The program will be handled by Dr. Jack Jett, president of the school board. He has been working on the program for several months, and the teachers have been working on the program for several weeks.

Cut day set for all November 11

Flash! Pauline Mitchell, Bakersfield"s managing editor, announced today that Bakersfield College will not have classes on November 11, the day of the celebration. This is the first time in the history of the school that a day has been set aside for the celebration.

"It will give the students a chance to enjoy the day and the celebration," said Mitchell. "We want to make sure that the students have a good time and that they enjoy the day."

Things are tough

It's an obligation that the fires involved with football are fought. Stanley's, the Broncos and the Titans are fighting their fires. Buzz has arrived in this octogenarian's life. He's the new, modern, more efficient, longer-lasting electric stove. But there's no time for celebration. His 83rd birthday is imminent, and Stanley's is in the thick of the battle. No man is an island, as the saying goes. He needs the help of his family. The family includes the electric stove, the electric motor, the electric car, the electric radio, the electric fan, the electric tooter, the electric iron, and the electric refrigerator. All of them are working overtime to cope with the crisis. Stanley's is a part of the battle. His contribution is to keep the fires burning. His birthday is a time of rejoicing. He's had a long, hard life, but he's managed to come through. Stanley's is a part of the community. He's a part of the struggle. He's a part of the battle. Stanley's is a part of the community. He's a part of the struggle. He's a part of the battle.
