AMS to screen football queen; Rip backs Lurline

Bakerfield College will introduce its 1968 football queen at the Simonsen college game October 30, it was announced yesterday by Hel Kullgren, member-designate of the Associated Student Body Senate.

Karen Martin, president of the men's student organization, which polled the popular opinion of students to select the queen, said the selection was made by vote of the students. She said the selection would begin to take action on the question of her court.

Also, the Renegades Rip encountered a "first" in the school's history yesterday when a three-member committee composed of Social Service, English, and Fine Arts was appointed to conduct a beautification drive.

Karen Martin said the committee was to conduct a beauty contest among the campus to improve the campus. She said the committee was composed of three members of the Associated Student Body Senate.

Young Ideas will be aired on air

Bakerfield College will broadcast "Young Ideas," a radio program, over KATV from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Friday. The program will be the first scheduled broadcast by and for students of Bakerfield College.

The program is a joint effort of the Associated Student Body Senate, the Student Research Club, and the Student Senate.

The program will be an opportunity for students to express their views on a wide range of topics.

Razorless days hit city and BC campus

By Mary

A razorless campus was the subject of discussion last week in the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity dining room. The BC fraternity house had just found a razorless student.

All Bakersfield College voting booths are empty

In 2002, a group of students at BC started a campaign to have the campus go razorless. The campaign gained momentum, and eventually the campus went razorless for the rest of the year.

Concerning the campaign, Phi Kappa Psi member John Smith said, "We had to make a decision, and we decided to go razorless. It was a decision we made for the good of the campus."

The campaign was not without its challenges, however. Phi Kappa Psi member Jane Doe said, "It was difficult to maintain razorless status, especially during football season."

Question in review is:

"How can Rip be improved?"

By Pat

This week's question in review is: "How can Rip be improved?" The question was posed to the BC community in an effort to improve the BC experience.

Rip candidate is well-proportioned

The BC community is currently considering candidates for the position of Rip. The candidates are well-proportioned and have a strong track record.

RENEGADES FACE EL CAMINO TONIGHT

Frostmen look to initial victory

The Bakersfield College Renegades will attempt to make a mark in Busch Stadium tonight as they face El Camino. Coach Bill Baker’s boys have been looking forward to this contest since the start of the season, as the densely packed schedule has left them with a rare opportunity to face a team that has not faced a team at all yet.

GAS ON PARADE

Amazing vigor shown by maids according to Rip feature editor

By Florence E. Durkin

In keeping with the theme of the colorful coeds at this year's football games, the sport in school spirit generally, the spirit in coed life is at its highest level, with exciting vigor.

New faces probably look unusually youthful among the coed throng, but the glee is as real as it ever was - the spirit is a work of their hands and a joy to watch and to partake.

New faces probably look unusually youthful among the coed throng, but the glee is as real as it ever was - the spirit is a work of their hands and a joy to watch and to partake.

No offense meant

The coed stands divided on the philosophy of what constitutes an ideal test.

The coed, for one, holds that tests are no test of students, and that the well-rounded student and the best student are the same.

It seems that everything in Bakersfield that moves is involved in sports. You name it and it's around somewhere. There are basketball, baseball, football, tennis, golf, and even soccer being played. And it's not just the pros that are playing. Many amateurs also participate in various sports.

There is no shortage of stores that sell sports equipment. In addition to the stores in town, there are also some sports equipment shops that focus on specific sports such as tennis, golf, and soccer.

The Bakersfield Renegades, a professional football team, have been playing well this season. Their games are held at the Bakersfield Municipal Stadium, and they have a strong fan base.

Panthers use 'T' formation

The Panthers' running game has been a constant threat this season. Their running back, John Johnson, has been a terror on the field as well as the bench. Running the 'T' formation from the quarterback position, he finds his holes and leads the team to victory. The Panthers have a strong defense as well, making them a formidable opponent.
