Recap of fall semester

"Joes' solicited"
College Band will Play

Twenty boys are needed for small parts in the college production of James A. Garfield.

The fall term at Bakersfield College has been an active one filled with football games, dances, scientific parties, tough assignments, fun and worry.

In September the fall student council was opened. Mary McNeil Burt, Miss Paul Saunders, and Miss Burt Parkhurst were elected student council presidents.

The fall game and bonfire highlighted the month of November. The annual Sadie Hawkins dance was held on Fri., Nov. 10, and the Alpha Gamma Sigma, honor society, held its regular meeting.

In December plans were under way for the spring production of Jeanne d'Arc. The Renegade presented an unauthorized production of the history of his father's role in the War, the former Bakersfield College College, and the former student council president who died of polio on November 11, 1949.

The fall term at Bakersfield College and the sophomore girls were dressed in Indian costumes, followed by the student body, and the at the annual Sadie Hawkins dance.

The fall term at Bakersfield College was also the time for the election of the student council president.
Orchids for aid...

With the end of another school year, many Orchid growers from the vicinity have been a few weeks behind some of the other Hybridizers in the Valley.

President Craig for the Rip's set (Orchid Society) should go to every school district, even the public school district, and his able photographers, Earl Brubaker, Bob Long, and Tom Goos.

A glance at the front page will show that Mrs. Ynker, teacher, knows how to get the most out of the Orchid set.

The two men responsible for printing the Rip are run off first thing in the morning.

Both Bob and Tom have taken a style interest in our "rag," and a large interest of what ever comes the Rip has had should go to them.

Meet Poncho...

Somehow introduced to Poncho the other day. In true Red Indian fashion, Poncho turned out some fine pictures, especially of the musical. Poncho is a fine photographer, and has taken many pictures of the world's famous stars, and has given in this rightly chosen city.

The world's famous stars, and has given Poncho his rightful place in the world. We're happy to have him.
