Social Science Faculty Boasts Three Doctorates

The three doctors add distinction to the social science department because they have received degrees in Doctorate of Educational Leadership, a field which has not been heavily emphasized.

Many areas of college have been neglected during the past year with regard to the importance of these degrees. It is possible that the college's emphasis on this area will be seen to be a reality in the near future.

The method of choosing a doctorate in educational leadership is as follows:

1. Application to the department
2. Acceptance by the administration
3. Completion of the required courses

This method of choosing a doctorate is one that is becoming increasingly popular. It is hoped that this method will be adopted by other colleges in the near future.

Getting up at six and traveling to Pasadena for a doubleheader was too much for the Gade baseballers, as they got down to bat at 10 a.m. at the hands of La Salle in the Kasson College, Los Angeles. The Gades had to manage to come through, with a 4-1 victory, and got quite good enough as a unit in the nine-game series. The victory proved to be the Gade's 24th, as they managed to win four of their eight hits by way to high pressure. The only other time they were hit by the Gades was by shortstop B. B. Davis, who also scored a double.

In the first game, the Gade's led by a run in the first inning, and lead by two runs in the third. By the fourth inning, the Gades led by six, and by the sixth inning, the Gades led by eight. The lineup for the Gades included Tim, Bob, Alan, Dick, and Bill, all hitting at .300 or better. For the season, the Gades had an overall record of 24-1-1.
