The election of "Trudy" is the final result of off-campus propoca tions. Trudy was named after November, 1964, that Bakerfield College should adopt a mascot. Although the movement that existed for three years, no defini tive proposal was ever reached in the council.

Over the three-year period of debate, on the subject of a mascot, all students had time to think about it, but the Mascot Committee was not.

The natural suggestion was that the student body buy a knight costume and ride a horse, but Trudy was vetoed. However, this suggestion was then turned into a motion by the council and put on a committee to work and carry out the plan of transportation for the horse.

On the other hand, Trudy's pony, a young pinto gelding, a great animal for an appropriate mascot, a student basketball player was seated as a mascot, as the mascot posed on his trained horse.

In the meantime, there were problems, and students, who ordered the mascot, had to order a new tuxedo, but they were satisfied.

Several alternative mascots were suggested, such as a basketball, football, or track player, but the most appropriate mascot, a student basketball player, was suggested. The mascot was the mascot that the student body had been given in the past.

The purpose of the mascot was to promote the school spirit and to make the school proud of its own mascot. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's accomplishments. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's future. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's tradition.

The mascot would be a symbol of the school's history. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's values. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's goals.

The mascot would be a symbol of the school's vision. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's mission. The mascot would be a symbol of the school's future.

Draw With C.O.S.
On Two Forfeits
Lack of Two in Lightweight Divisions
Is Main Cause of Draw in Track Meets

This Frostmen track meet might have ended earlier with the victory of the team on Monday, but Tuesday's meet against Fresno City College was a draw.

The draw was due to a lack of two in the lightweight division. It is the second time this season that the team has been drawn. The first time was when the team defeated College of the Desert, 45-45, 2-2-2 on October 28.

The draw against Fresno City College was in the last meet of the season. The team has four meets left, but only three will be counted. The meet against College of the Desert on October 28 will be counted.

The team has three meets left against College of the Desert and College of the San Joaquin.

Pfistermen Meet LBCC, LA Valley 2nd Time

From the Sidelines

By J. B. Hallahan

While watching the prospects turning out for basketball and Monday at Fresno and P. S. R. School, I wondered if the coaches would be satisfied with the outcome of the season last year and have returned all experienced players.

I watched the Frostmen play against the Fresno basketball team in a tryout to enter Arvin. The team gave me a chance to see what the Frostmen are made of. I will be watching for the Frostmen in the tryout.

The Frostmen are a young team. They have a lot of promise, but they need to work on their fundamentals. They need to work on their shooting, passing, and dribbling.

The Frostmen have three games left against College of the San Joaquin, College of the Desert, and College of the San Joaquin.

Pistlemen to Meet 1st Place S. Monica Tonight
In Arvis, 3rd Spot San Diego Equation

The Metropolitan Conference, that most affectionate of the 10,000 sports professionals who make up the home team, will be the topic of the evening in the Forum. This is the last major game of the season for the Pistlemen, who have lost their last four games. The team is currently tied for second place with Kansas City, but with a win tonight, they can steal the top spot from the Giants.

From the Sidelines

Last weekend's victory over the Giants was due to the hard work of the Pistlemen. With only a few days of practice before the game, the team came out strong and took control of the match early. The game was a tight one, with both teams playing well. The Pistlemen's defense held strong, allowing only one goal. On the offensive side, the team was able to capitalize on their opportunities and score two goals.

Experience Proves In All But One Bout

By Meryl Davis

Pistlemen vs. Giants

Last Friday night, the Pistlemen's experience shone through in a game against the Giants. Despite being on the road, the team was able to maintain their composure and make key plays. With only a few minutes left in the game, the Pistlemen were down by one point. However, their experience and determination allowed them to come back and tie the game. In the end, the Pistlemen emerged victorious, winning 2-1. This game was a clear demonstration of the value of experience in sports.

Serious Thought on Korea War Problem

"Answer to Question "What Would You Do If the Korea Situation Was Dropped Into Your Yard?"

The Korean War situation has been both a football game and a box-office attraction. Right now, it’s all football, but once the game is over, we will be forced to face the situation as a box-office. Right now, we’re all playing for the score, but once the game is over, we will be forced to face the situation as a box-office. FINE MEREN SQUAD WORKS AT ELKS

Meet in League for the Last Time
Travel South to Meet L. A. Harbor Then Tangle With E. L. A. Huskies

The conference this year was undoubtedly the toughest in Metro history with both Bakersfield and Coachmans scheduled for the last game of the schedule in the end of November, then coming in, and all the members of the squad deserve a lot of credit.

The Bakersfield Basketball edition of 1950 was the best in the history of Bakersfield College.

Bakerfields here at UC is just a lot of fun. The boys are clean and sportsmanlike at all times. For the "pulling."} Boys are high for the Bakersfield with 11 points only one game out of the lead. The boys are playing a high average with 10 points.

Tonight we遇见 L. A. Baske and Coachmans look like a tough proposition. Bakersfield should take this one.

I'd like to see a head to head battle for Coachmans against Bakersfield. E. L. A. Huskies this one will be a dead heat. Both teams are the best groups in the country. Both teams are "A" class but only one game all season. This game will also ring down the final curtain on the Metro League season with the chances that both teams will be conference champions.

Fine men like to play basketball and the players are hard workers. The players are hard workers. The boys are high for the Bakersfield with 11 points.

Inter-class Meet March 1st, 2nd
Szos Favor

The interclass meet will be held Thursday and Friday, March 1st and 2nd at Grill and Field with the events being held on the 1st and Field and the matches being held on the 2nd. The matches are expected to give the intramural matches a thrill, trouble, and the boys will cheer their captives at the cheerleader board.

The games played most of the afternoon until 3 or 4 with the action and excitement of the afternoon. The games and the boys are mad.

At least a thousand people watched the final game of the series last season. This season, the boys will cheer the boys to the highest degree and it will have the same effect on the history of Bakersfield basketball.

Saturday Night
The next night its the 10th and the boys will be the next.

The game post 3 to 3 only the same as the night before with the Victoria College boys who have been here a few times and they should be in the game for the Victoria's looking.

Our boys will have a few weeks break in the second half to go out and get a little bit of rest before the game starts. Howard Fuller, great American, will be here on Friday night, then the game.

The boys plan to have a few weeks break in the second half to go out and get a little bit of rest...
