High School, College Faculty Will Train in First Aid Classes

Classes in first aid are new in high school and college. The classes will be taught by nurses, doctors, and trained instructors from the school district.

Starting January 19 and 11, the courses were opened to the general public at the high school and college campuses. The courses are part of the educational system in the state of California.

Since Governor Warren's goal was to make education available to all, in every city, county, and state, the classes are open to all, free of charge.

Plans for the Future

January 12, 1951

The new sky-blue, 3-story building at South Coast is currently being built, and will be ready for occupancy in the near future. Students and faculty have been looking forward to the completion of this project for over a year, and the building is expected to be a major addition to the campus.

The building will serve as a new science wing, with state-of-the-art facilities for science and mathematics classes. It will also house a new library, a computer lab, and a lecture hall for large group presentations.

‘To Hell with it’ appears

Dancing as far as I can remember, I have been doing it for years.

Dancing is more than a pastime for me, it is a way of life.

With David Tommernetz, the Dancing Master, it might be a way of life for others.

It is a way of life as much as it is a way of life for the dancers who are still going strong.

First Winter Frame
Students Have Sense of Humor, Frantz Finds; Classes Discuss Kinds, Intelligence Indicated

During the past football season, the team's sense of humor was epitomized by the phrase, "Why not us?" The team's success in the conference was due in large part to their ability to laugh at themselves and at the world around them. This attitude helped them to stay focused and relaxed during games, allowing them to perform at their best. It also helped them to bond as a team, making them a formidable force on the field.

'To Hell With It!'

"To Hell With It!" That's the attitude, saying things and doing things with a sense of humor. It's a way of life. It's a way of being. It's a way of dealing with the world. "To Hell With It!" is a way of saying "I don't care what happens. I'm going to live my life the way I want to live it."

Final Finals Finish Four Frolicking Fools

"Women's Washed and worn" was the theme of the final finals. The burgeoning red and black chief was trumped by the monochrome female, but a win was won by the women's ensemble. The girls were far from the best, but they were the best of the best. The main thing was that they had fun. They laughed, they joked, they enjoyed each other's company. It was a night to remember.

FIAT CORNER

The Best of Food for the Best RCs

"The Best of Food" is a new feature on少不了's, a popular food truck on campus. The truck offers a variety of delicious dishes, from classic comfort foods to innovative creations. The truck is open every day from 11 am to 9 pm, and you can find it on the corner of 4th and Chester Ave.

Gadess Split Pair With Loop Spoilers

The Redcoats can still be clamed as hot and cold clubs, as they split a dual with La Valley and Long Beach at Friday and Sunday, beating Valley Friday, 42-33, and losing to Long Beach 63-43.

Friday night the Gaders were behind after five minutes when Valley scored a point of 7-4, but Redcoats came back and tied it up in 10 minutes, then the ball stayed neck and neck during the big basket until six minutes before the half when the Gaders stayed ahead 38 to 37. They really broke the ball fast and at the half time they led the court leading 68-56.

In the second half the Redcoats tried to keep their composure, and Valley played a good game, the Gaders were well ahead after seven minutes of the game and they led the Gaders ahead with three consecutive points behind Hollis. Their record was 91 and 37 at the final bell. Valley was only 9-25.

Bakerfield

Back three leaders, J. L. Rapson, art, and Innes shift line-up.

The Gaders will have a tough time of it, as the Valley boys are well balanced, and the Gaders should be better, as they are under coach Bill Price, but while San Diego has already installed a new defense, the Gaders have installed a new offense.

The Fadster boys have been practicing hard during the week, and they should be a top-notch club.
