Bill Attempts to Solve Teachers' Tax Problems

Baltochfield College instructors are preparing to vote against the special taxing of teachers. Members of the faculty, who have been in various meetings, will attempt to secure enough votes to make the tax issue a dead letter.

Woe Are Us (Sic)

It's not exactly a new phenomenon that the elected officials of the Baltochfield College are nothing but a bunch of busybodies. They are setting up all kinds of restrictions on what teachers may or may not do during the regular school year. This year, they're saddled with another restriction which makes it illegal for a teacher to go to the movies during the vacations. Teachers have been trying to sneak out of the city to see a film, but the officials have made it illegal for any teacher to do so.

It's a wonder how such a policy could possibly be used to the advantage of anyone. It seems like a good way to keep the teachers out of the city, but it's also a good way to ensure that they won't have any type of entertainment to look forward to. It's a shame that such a policy has been enacted, but it's even more of a shame that it was enacted by the faculty. It's a good thing that they're not in charge of setting the curriculum for the students.

The rationale for this policy is that the teachers need to be on their best behavior so that they can keep their jobs. This is a common refrain that is repeated by the faculty, and it's one that they use to justify their actions. It's a shame that such a policy has been enacted, but it's even more of a shame that it was enacted by the faculty. It's a good thing that they're not in charge of setting the curriculum for the students.

There's a wonderful family called Stein. They have two sons, and they're both wonderful. They have a wonderful daughter as well. The parents are wonderful, and the children are wonderful. They're a wonderful family.

Cobbs Out Numbered

There are more teachers at the Baltochfield College than there are students. The faculty is making a big push to increase the student body, but they're not doing a very good job of it. The student body is not increasing at a very fast rate, and the faculty is not doing a very good job of it.

Methods Suggested for Hay Fever Suffers

by Pat Owens

Hay fever sufferers take several precautions to avoid the sneezing and runny nose that accompany the disorder. They may also take some measures to alleviate the symptoms.

Some common recommendations for hay fever sufferers include:

- Avoiding areas with high pollen counts, especially on windy days.
- Using a saline nasal spray to help relieve congestion.
- Taking antihistamine medication to reduce itching and swelling.
- Keeping windows closed and using air conditioners to filter out pollen.
- Staying indoors during peak pollen seasons.

These measures are widely accepted by healthcare professionals and are recommended by many people with hay fever.

It's important to note that while these measures can help alleviate symptoms, they may not completely cure hay fever. Treatment options may include prescription medications, immunotherapy, or allergen avoidance strategies.

Many New Fabrics Offered In Popular Ivy League Look

The Ivy League look that took off this past year has apparently been adopted by American college students. Last fall, the Ivy League look featured preppy clothing, golf jackets, and preppy-looking clothing. This fall, however, the Ivy League look has been replaced by a more relaxed, sporty look. The new Ivy League look features more casual clothing, including t-shirts, jeans, and sneakers.

Manufacturers of men's clothing have taken note of this change and have started to offer more casual clothing options. Some manufacturers have even started to offer clothing that looks like the clothing worn by Ivy League students. The new Ivy League look features clothing that is more comfortable and less formal than the clothing worn by Ivy League students in the past.

SIDELINES
by Gil Mote

Under the vigorous influence of J. B. "Cap" Harazan and Gil Bishop, Bakersfield College, and determined sports boosters, this city is becoming a place of state and national notice.

Others have taken their cue and, consequently are the outriders with added support to put this city on the map.

Starting here for the first time will be seven of the world's outstanding gymnasts, four of which are former Olympic performers. The special exhibition, posted for Saturday, April 12, will be held on the college gym floor.

Herb Loken, Bakersfield College gymnastics, hopes that the program, admission-free to the public, "will stimulate interest and give rise to a gymnastics-minded program in local and county schools.

The Junior Baseball Association brings together the most talked-about figures in the pro-baseball ranks when it sponsors the East-West All Stars game April 23.

Juschoschuk "stares at" Bob Conklin and Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics will perform against Bob Petit and Clyde Lovellette, respectively, of the St. Louis Hawks and Cincinnati Royals. The public will crawl with excitement as it will be their first public, back-court men, and play-makers in the business.

Bakersfield is a strategic spot for many athletic doings as that, alone, will not make the city a permanent host of major events.

The public can secure tickets only by telephatically supporing, through its attendance, the belief that "people have worked to hard to plan.

Gil Bishop's sudden resignation of the Gade basketball helm came at quite a surprise last week. However, those who are closely related with Coach Bishop know that his decision was well taken. Bishop is on one of the busiest heads at BC. His intense desire to devote more time to the sports department as athletic director prompted him to vacate his coach's position.

We of the Rip's sports staff feel honored to have had the privilege of running out the spilled talents that are indicative of his fine mentorship.

Stone Nabs First,
Gym Team Loses

In last week's gymnastics meet with East LA and LA Valley, Gade gymnasts impressed but again lost.

Dick Stone was the only Gade gymnast to win any event, taking first in the parallel bars and placing second in tumbling. Ray Flores also received much recognition for his evasiveness, but was unable to win.

Both East LA and LA Valley have the top performances at top competition for this year's championship.

Olympics Visit Bakersfield

Coach Stone's team is steadily improving and will seek its first win this coming week at Long Beach.

Another gymnastic event, coming April 22, will occur when seven Olympic athletes are to visit Bakersfield College to perform for the public and entertain high hopes of being in the 1960 Olympics. The performance will begin at 8 p.m.

Golfers Split

The Gaedee tennis team's season seems at 6-0-2 this 'Friday by posting a win over San Diego 19-17, while losing to Long Beach 23-19 in a dual meet at Long Beach. This Friday they will entertain Santa Monica at the Bakersfield College field.

Coach Jack Furst stated that his golfers still have an excellent chance of winning the league championship even though they have an unimpressive 2-1 league record.

Bob Loses four against the top teams in the league this year.

Netters Meet Valley

The Renegade tennisists host the "Valley" tennis team at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon in a bid to win a pair of Metro League matches. They will complete a match bailed by rain in Los Angeles earlier this season, then play another.

Beck Sets New Mark

The Renegade swimmers, after having a rather indifferent picture session, came through victorious over the Fresno Junior College Rams and the COS-Giants last week. Main highlight of the meet was Kelly Davis, Carl Beck, who broke the school scoring record set by Bill Hooser in 1954, Beck accounted for 281 points. Hooser's high was 254.

Mitt, Mat Champs Win

School rosters were determined in the Varsity Club-sponsored bowling and wrestling tournament last Friday night in the gymnasium. Winners were awarded golden medals.

The only bowling match that failed to go the full three rounds was the 300 lb. scratch in which Phil Watson was awarded a technical knockout over Robin Walsh by monotonous 19-19 scores of the final round.

Jim Reid, 165 pounds, took just his fifth match as District Governor, but a while afterwards John Watson pinned Darrell Dupuy in 1:13 of the first period in the pinning action. Results of the matches:
