Voter Approval Asked
On JC District Split

by Jim Heuck

This is a series of articles concerning the formation of separate junior college districts for Bakersfield College and Bakersfield West, as previously discussed.

Bakersfield College, which has been operated by the Kern County Joint Union High School District since it was established in 1945, will enter its second half century under the banner of a new and separate junior college district if voters approve the district separation plan on Nov. 9.

An election has been called by the present District’s Board of Trustees to seek voter approval of the plan, which will have little immediate effect on college’s operations.

First ASB Meeting Discusses Recall

The first Associated Student Body meeting of the semester will be today at 10:15 in the College Theater, according to Bill Petter, student body president.

All students are urged to attend the meeting to hear a pro and con discussion on the recall amendment.

Candidates for the offices of vice-president and director of athletics will also be announced.

The executive council will report on their various jobs. Among those giving reports will be Mindy O’Donnell, sophomore class president; Gary Yarett, director of activities; and Donna Hopkins, director of student activities.

Los Angeles Angel—Elgin Baylor, the darling of the LA bas ketball fans, business man and pro ranks, is one of the many stars who will battle Monday night night in the BC gym, when the Lakers host the Boston Celtics.

Los Angeles Lakers—Elgin Baylor, according to the experts, is the greatest all around player in the hardcourt circuit today. He has handled all of his college days at West Virginia—II, and on June Dam · Tom Hawkins also decorated his resume. His high grade game, highly touted Jerry West, who captained the U.S. Olympic team to victory this year, has been drafted by the Spurs and is having a fine season to prove his critics wrong.

The Lakers will be led by a man La ke coach Fred Schaus and Boston mentor Red Auerbach. The reason for cutting the teams down to the ten who will be carried through the season is drawing near. The season will begin on Friday and half line. Gymnastics and triumphing artists will perform, and the college gym club and swing band to provide musical numbers and entertainment. TV1 and KTBY will be printing this game, and it is understood that the game will be able to be seen.

—not be televised in Bakersfield, but KTUY, channel 11, will air the game for video viewing.

The cage clash is being sponsored by the Lawrence College Student Association. Tickets are for reserved seats only and are at a flat rate of $2 each. They may be purchased at the college business office and all regular ticket agencies downtown.

A ticket which has gone on sale at the door is 60 cents.

SPECIAL ELECTION SET TUESDAY

Board Asks Court for Rule Penalties

The Board of Representatives has asked the student Court to establish a list of violations and punitive actions, at which time rules and rules presented.

By a three vote, 1-3, with one member abstaining, the Board restated a rule by Student President. Mindy O’Donnell at a public meeting, a rule to set a这点 of rules. Petitioned to the Court, in order to move to have the action taken to the Constitution Constraining Commission. It is believed that the rule should be written into the Constitution.

Administrative review of the rule by Associate Justice Stan Heram, stated that regulations “on one of the basic rights of the individual, the night of petition, would tend to limit that individual right.”

Miss O’Donnell did not make the rule for a regulatory action seven weeks ago, but it was not possible for them to get the rule of law in time to make a Board meeting.

In another action, the Board denied the request of one student to have his grades released to the California State University at Bakersfield, who has previously received grades at the college.

Funds for Tech Education Asked

Funds for projects in technical education in Ridgetop College have been asked for in the current year's budget by the National Defense Education Act. The bill is due to be introduced in Congress shortly. According to a recent report, the act has been designed to provide financial assistance for students pursuing careers in science and technology.

The act would provide grants to states for the construction of new buildings or the expansion of existing ones needed to accommodate an increase in the number of students entering these fields. In addition, the act would allow for the purchase of equipment and supplies necessary to conduct research and develop new technologies.

The National Defense Education Act is a federal program to support education in science and technology. It was established as a result of the military buildup of the 1940s and 1950s, which led to an increased demand for workers with technical skills.

The funds for the project in Ridgetop College would be used to support the construction of a new building or the expansion of an existing one, as well as to purchase equipment and supplies. The college has been working on a plan to expand its facilities and increase its capacity to meet the growing demand for technical education.

The act has been praised for its potential to address the shortage of skilled workers in these fields and to strengthen the nation's economy. However, some critics have expressed concerns about the long-term costs and the overall impact on the education system.

Renegades Face Huskies on Elan Turf; 'Tough Game' Says Newman

Renegades quarterback Jim Daisey has one of his toughest opponents so far this year when the Huskies travel to Bakersfield for their first game Saturday night. The teams are tied at 2-2, and the Huskies have won both games so far.

In the first two games, Renegade has been able to win by more than one point. However, the Huskies have only lost once in the last four games, and they have won the last three games.

Although the Huskies have won the last three games, the Renegades have been able to score more points than their opponents. The Renegades have scored 129 points in their last three games, while the Huskies have scored 120 points in their last four games.

For the Renegades, the key will be to maintain their successful running game. The Huskies will need to stop the Renegade running attack if they want to win.

For the Huskies, the key will be to limit the Renegade passing attack. The Huskies have been able to limit the Renegade passing game in their last three games.

The game will be an exciting one, and both teams will be looking to win. The Renegades have the edge in this game, but the Huskies are not to be underestimated. It will be a tough game for both teams, and the winner will be the team that plays the better game.
Renegade Talent Show Opens Tryouts Monday
