Board Probes Change in Representation Format

Statement by 2 Justices, Others Pans Legislators

Student Court Chief Justice Monk Russell this week claimed the Board of Regents, which created the Student Court, is trying to "buy" the court and called a resolution reaffirming board support of the original $400 Fine Arts Festival appropriation "abuse of legislative power.

The charges were included in a statement issued to the Regents Rip. It was the first comment Russell has made to the campus newsweekly since he claimed he was misguided in the edition of March 17. The statement was also signed by Associate Justice Bill Haley, Warren Coons and Mike Burnaugh, all of whom are on the Court of the Associated Student Body.

In the statement, meeting is an unexplained resolution March 14, declared a board appropriation of $400 to the Festival "unconstitutional," null and void. The action came less than an hour after the Board had granted the funds. At the next Board meeting, March 21, the representatives overwhelmingly approved a resolution declaring support for the funds.

Russell's statement follows:

"Some question has been raised concerning the power of the Student Court to rule on matters passed by the Board of Representatives. To find an answer one must only recognize certain basic principles of constitutional government.

"When establishing such a government, the people in order to furnish the foundation, 'divide and rule' by giving them such powers that they fail this will be best accomplished. Those principles, once established, will live forever."

300 High School Science Students Compete in Fair

Approximately 300 students from Kern County high schools are participating in a Kern County Science Fair sponsored by the American Institute of Physics, San Francisco.

The fair is held to demonstrate to students the benefit of science and to encourage them to continue their efforts in science. The fair is held at the General Assembly. The $3000 prize is to be presented to the winning student.

EASTER AT CAPITOL AS CIRCUS

by Jim Heude

Sacramento—Easter Week at the State Capitol certainly isn't the drawing card of, say, Fa Los Angeles, but it can be called the Polite party of Northern California.

With "schools" dismissed for these years, halls in the basement legislative arena are jammed with an assortment of tours groups and individuals who come in to see, if ever they see the Capitol. The Folks there have learned the representatives of the people are at work.

Actually, all the touring Girl Scouts, Rainbow Clubs, Brownies, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and miscellaneous wanderers see are the people, not the building. Stairs and seats and.

The legislative process in Sacramento is laborious, extravagant and complicated, as we discovered in a tour of stairs types in the Student Lounge. Spirit Cans will be shown in the Campus Center.

Tickets are 80 cents each and $1 a couple. The Knights, a local combo, are appropriately providing music.

Guests will see one piece of formal attire and any other type of clothing. Per a rule, a man could wear a hat but with a tie and Bow tie.

The best dressed men and women will be named Mr. Playboy and Ms. Playboy and receive prizes.

SPRING'S HERE! POOL OPEN FOR STUDENT USE

The "physical education" department is reopening the swimming pool for recreational swimming and students and faculty from $3.00-

Monday through Thursday. The pool will be open for $3.00-

Women must wear caps, no water or smoking will be allowed around the pool.

OKS UNIT TO INVESTIGATE MEMBERSHIP

The Board of Representatives has called a unit to investigate proposals for non-representation of Board representatives.

The decision to establish a commission came after two amendments to change, representation, status of legislation from the Student Senate, and to make the representatives on the commission, a debate on the student Senate, and administrative and business managers of the Bakersfield Raptor and Racquette were defeated at Tuesday's Board session.

The defeated amendments would have removed non-representative of the representatives of the Board, and the plan would have been added to an appropriate representation from the Board and the plan would have been changed to the student Senate, and administrative and business managers of the Bakersfield Raptor and Racquette were defeated at Tuesday's Board session.

The power of the legislature is limited and limited and the power of the courts is limited and limited and all parties in the constitution.

If the limits were not, by this decision, are not limited but in the constitution.

No matter what powers it may, by this decision, do not limit but in the constitution.

What has happened to those principles in student government.

Sun, and then on the other hand limited the power of the courts to the same extent. The power of the courts is limited.

This abuse of legislative power by the Board of Representatives is, in two ways, the power of the Board of Representatives.

Downloadable content of the student body, and in another way, the power of the Board of Representatives is limited.

It doesn't take a court to see that they are trying to become an constitutional.

Russia Today
Problems Overwhelmed by Urgency in Slavic Study

The Moscow Mission of a young American artist, whose work is currently on exhibition at the Alandra Foundation, has been significantly influenced by the legacy of the 19th-century Russian writers. The artist, known for his minimalist approach and modernist philosophy, has managed to capture the essence of Russian literature in his paintings, which are characterized by their simplicity and analytical precision.

The artist's work is noteworthy for its ability to bridge the gap between the past and the present, reflecting the cultural and historical context of Russia. His use of bold colors and geometric shapes creates a striking contrast against the more subdued tones of his contemporaries, making his work stand out in the Russian art scene.

The artist has also been inspired by the works of the famous Russian novelists, such as Leo Tolstoy and Fyodor Dostoevsky, whose stories have provided him with a rich source of inspiration. His paintings are not only a reflection of the Russian culture, but also a commentary on the human condition and the complexities of society.

The Moscow Mission is a testament to the artist's dedication to his craft and his commitment to preserving the artistic heritage of Russia. His work is a powerful reminder of the importance of connecting with the past to understand the present, and his paintings serve as a bridge between the two.

Five BC Freshmen Receive $75 Grant
Awards

The five BC freshmen who received the $75 grants were selected by the Board of Trustees of the Bunker Hill Community College Foundation, Inc., for their outstanding academic performance. The students were chosen based on their academic achievements, demonstrated leadership, and potential to succeed in their chosen fields.

The recipients were enrolled in a variety of courses, including English, history, and computer science, and demonstrated a strong commitment to their studies. They were selected from a pool of over 100 applicants, and each grant will help support their education.

The program is designed to recognize the achievements of BC students and provide financial assistance to help them continue their education. The Board of Trustees of the Bunker Hill Community College Foundation, Inc., is committed to supporting students and helping them reach their academic goals.

The awards are a testament to the excellence and dedication of the students who received them, and the Board of Trustees of the Bunker Hill Community College Foundation, Inc., is proud to support their efforts.

The fight against Fairchild, who was ranked fourth in the ABA, was set for tomorrow night, and the expected crowd was estimated to be around 12,000. Fairchild has been training hard for the fight, and he is confident in his ability to win. The ABA has been growing in popularity in recent years, and this fight is expected to draw a large audience. The event will be broadcast live on ESPN, and fans are encouraged to come out and support their favorite boxer. The ABA is committed to promoting diversity in boxing, and this fight is a great example of the organization's dedication to fostering equal opportunities for all athletes.
Swimmers Compete In SoCal Championships

By Vic Pallidin

For a while, at least, it looks like girls may have suffered some in popularity with the swimming team. The most recent item around the gymnastics’ patio this week has a title: The 9.5-9.2 swimming time for the Braille relay at the Glendora tournament set some time ago in the Metro Championships. Shaving reduces water friction but still has a tendency to reduce men in contact with the wet stuff. Such strategy has been adopted to reduce a stroke time by as much as 10 seconds.

Teams Abandoned

Currey-Gillespie-Johnson cut his time in the 200-yard events from 2:27.3 to 2:24.7, and second-b一个 butterfly George Spier tugged a big clock off his record in the 200-2:30.5, shaving 0.94.

At the securing of the above-mentioned as the best competition to be held in the actual Southern California BC championships in San Diego last week, seven back-stroke swimmers who have shaved their heads, arms, legs, to cut down on water friction, are getting a second chance at many of the record rates that they relegated the Gades to fourth place at last year’s Metromental swims. The Social splash, which huts three days, started yesterday.
