Diplomat Notes Changes In U.S. Foreign Policy

By Jim Henderson

Recent foreign policy shifts have been visible in the administration’s recent attempts to restructure the military and to develop a more comprehensive approach to foreign policy, according to Daniel W. Montez, Deputy Director, Public Affairs of the Department of State. Montez, in an interview with the department’s newsletter, the "Diplomat," discussed the subject of "Global Briefing" at an informal discussion Monday in the student lounge.

Montez said that the current foreign policy shifts are the result of a major reexamination of the U.S. role in the world. He said that the administration’s new approach is based on a combination of national security and economic interests.

Among the foreign policy shifts, Montez mentioned the increase in military spending and the new approach to foreign aid, and a new approach to international trade. The military shift announced by the administration on Monday is a shift from a focus on the use of military force to a focus on economic development and the promotion of free trade.

Gades Prepare For Vikings

By Jim Mayoux

With the big game on the horizon, Coach Harry Holman was sifting through his football team's schedule in preparation for the game against East Tennessee State University. The Vikings, led by Coach Bill Williams, were the top-ranked team in the country and Holman knew they would have to be at their best if they were to have any chance of winning.

Punters, placekickers, and defensive backs were the main focus of Holman's attention. He was especially concerned about the punting game, which he considered to be the key to the team's success. He had been working with his punters all week, practicing their form and technique, and he was confident that they would be able to handle the pressure of the game.

Holman also spent time with his placekickers, discussing strategy and the importance of accuracy. He knew that a missed field goal could cost the team the game, so he was determined to have his team prepared.

Defensive backs were another area of focus for Holman. He was concerned about the Vikings' receiving corps, which was known for its speed and agility. Holman emphasized the importance of communication and teamwork among the defensive backs, and he was confident that they would be able to stop the Vikings' offense.

Holman's team had been working hard all week to prepare for this game, and he was determined to lead them to victory.

BC BLANKS ELA BEFORE NEAR-CAPACITY CROWD

Boston College defeated Eastern Louisiana 42-0 in front of a near-capacity crowd at Alumni Stadium. The game was a blowout, with BC scoring 21 unanswered points in the first half.

The game was a showcase for BC's defense, which held ELA to just 76 total yards of offense and forced two turnovers. BC's offense scored five touchdowns on the ground and one through the air.

Polomen Falls To Vikings; Eye Monarchs

Polomen High School was defeated by Viking High School 28-7 in a tight game. Polomen's defense was solid, holding the Vikings to just 10 points, but their offense was unable to capitalize on their opportunities.

The Vikings dominated the game, scoring 21 points in the first half and never allowing Polomen to gain any momentum. Polomen's quarterback struggled to find an open receiver, and their running game was ineffective.

The loss drops Polomen to 3-1 on the season, while the Vikings improve to 4-0. The Vikings will face their toughest test yet next week when they travel to face the Eye Monarchs, who are currently ranked second in the state.

Brown Talks On 'Light'

Dr. Thomas Brown, professor of psychology, gave a lecture on the psychology of light and its effects on human behavior. Brown discussed the role of light in shaping human consciousness and the ways in which light can be used to manipulate and control human behavior.

The lecture was well-received by the students, who were engaged and interested in the topic. Brown's explanations were clear and concise, and he was able to make complex ideas accessible to his audience.

The lecture was followed by a Q&A session, during which students were able to ask questions and engage in discussion with Brown.

Saturday Library Openings Stopped

The Saturday library openings have been stopped due to budget cuts. The library has been operating on a shoestring budget for the past few years, and thecuts have forced them to make tough decisions.

The cuts have affected many services, and the library is now unable to offer the same level of service to its patrons. The library is still open during regular hours, but the Saturday openings have been eliminated.

Library staff are currently working to come up with new ways to fund the library and continue providing essential services to the community.

John Proctor, the director of the library, said that the cuts have been a difficult time for the library, but they are determined to find a way to continue serving the community.

Final Week's Will Disclose JRB Rep
by Kent Miller
At the close of these three—Bakerfield, Santa Monica and Glendale—are the only undefeated and untied teams in the entire conference. The Riverside Tigers were led 6-0 by an up-manned Chaffey eleven. Chaffey held the ball until the last quarter when the Tigers pushed over a score but failed on the extra point.

In last week's free scoring action, San Mateo downed Santa Rosa 56-15, Harbou Edall 50-0 and Camarillo Mised LAC 34-0.

Santa Monica's best inspired effort of the season was the 24-12 win over Glendale. The Chieftains relied on their two point conversion to down a tough Phoenix squad. On 2-18, COS scored 37 on the Sun Jose State Finish. 28. SAC produced 21-22 on the Corvon, Mark Beck Retard 2-0, Pasadena. The O'Neill's win over East LA and San Diego 6-0.

This week, crucial games will be played between Ventura City, Glendale, Glendora, and Compton. Santa Monica and the Bakersfield Tigers will be in action with SAC and Riverside. San Diego and San Bernadino, Orange Coast and Fullerton. Long Beach will meet Chaffey and Fresno. Other games see EACC playing Pacific Western. Fullerton at CS, the Camino at Haly, East LA at Val- lcy, Chaffey at Cosmic and CS at TAC.

Pearl River, Mississippi and Pratt, Kansas appear to have the inside track for the eastern bid to the Rose Bowl. Both teams are undefeated on the field through the Pacific team was forced to forfeit six games because of the failure of the library to produce a viable player. The JRB continued to star in the Rose Bowl circuit on the Pacific side.

Gades Win Junior Rose Bowl Bid After 38-26 Defeat of Santa Monica

Bakersfield College's Renegade football team has been picked to appear in the 1961 Junior Rose Bowl game. The Gades defeated Santa Monica's powerful Corsairs 38-26 Saturday to earn the trip to Pasadena on December 9.

The announcement that BC was chosen was made yesterday afternoon as the JRB's 11-man Board of Management met in Pasadena's Huntington/Shariaton Hotel to choose the team which will battle Utah Tech for the national junior college championship in the 19th annual charity clash.

This thrilling climax to the junior college football season annually matches the top 2 teams in California with an outstanding team from elsewhere in the nation. For the last three years, Bakersfield has been the host team in the Pasadena classic, and for the last four years, the Metropolitain Conference champion has carried the coveted invitation.

Saturday's titanic battle of the unbeaten, played before 13,599 and rooters for both sides, was close until the fourth quarter, and the issue was never certain one way or the other.

The JRB Board consists of six members of the California Junior College Athletic Association and five members of the game-sponsoring Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Board convened at 10 a.m. yesterday and carefully sifted all the prospective teams before arriving at a final selection.

Chairman is Ivan Graham of College of Sequoios. Other members are John Shepard, Pierce Van Waroken, Needley, Gerard Blatt, Mt. San Antonio, Albert Revis, Santa Barbara, and Glen Suboille, Napa. Representing the Pasadena Jaycees are President, Dick Walt, JRB game chairman, John Lambert, vice chairman, Don Metcalf, publicity chairman, Bob Armstrong, and post game chairman, Hank Ivans.

Miss Junior Rose Bowl, Patrlellia Lollar will appear, as will the Renegade Band and the song and yell leaders. JRB President Robert Evans will introduce Lomb, who will then make the formal invitation.

The selection committee had a somewhat easy task in picking the Western representative. Eleven teams had previously been eliminated. The emergence of BC and Santa Monica as the only undefeated and untied teams in California enabled the Board merely to await the clash

Dr. Edward Simonsen, Bakersfield College President, will formally accept the invitation from Lomb at an assembly in the...gymnasium at 11:50 this morning. Classes will be dismissed so that all students may attend.

The JRB Board of Management has nominated the Gades as the Western Team in the National Junior College League of Champions and has been selected as the representative of the Western Division.

The game, to be played December 9th, will be a battle of two outstanding teams, each with a record of 10-0. The Gades have played a tough schedule, featuring such opponents as Oklahoma, Kansas, and the Southern California Conference.

The Gades have won their last six games by a total of 141 points, while the Corsairs have won their last six games by a total of 157 points. The Gades have scored 38 points in each of their last two games, while the Corsairs have scored 26 points in each of their last two games.

Okla. Team Chosen as Eastern Rep.

The Cameron, Okla., Aggies of Oklahoma State University were selected by the JRB Board of Management as the Eastern Team for the Junior Rose Bowl game.

The Aggies earned the nod by compiling a 10-0 record that includes a final game 20-7 victory over previously undefeated Pratt of Kansas.

The Aggies and Renegades have met once before. That was in 1958 when the Gades were a comparatively weak Conference eleven 44-0. This year's meeting promises to be somewhat faster.

The Cameron team has played schools from the Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas areas. Other schools in conference for the bid were Paul Blane of Idaho, Columbia Basin of Washington, Roswell, New Mexico, and McCall of New Mexico, and the Aggies of Oklahoma.

Not pictured are all-stars Kenny Satt and Joe Sandoval of the Renegades, and Bob Meader of the Aggies. These men have engineered the offense which, bolstered by an improved defense, has run up a total of 389 points in nine games this season, as compared to their opponents' 140.

ROOTERS ANTICIPATE PASADENA PILGRIMAGE

by Jim Mackenzie

"We will be back," said boosters last spring. Pasadena football coach Ray Newman, following BC's triumph over Del Mar, Texas in the 1959 junior bowl, will be back. He's been a food-fought way back for the Greeks, and come December 9, the Red and White will again take the field at Pasadena's famous stadium.

The Greeks threatened in fall, Newman's prediction last season, but a 22-7 loss to Long Beach dashed the BC Rose Bowl hopes. This season the "Big Red" has been nothing short of sensational, running through nine straight opponents without a loss.

"99' JRB Star Heisman

Interestingly enough, BC's return to the famed Arroyo Seco band coincides with the return of All-American end, Ed Winkles, a member of 1939's victorious JRB squad and a sure bet for a repeat berth on the All-American list.

Starring for the Bakersfield College in the 19-11 defeat at Del Mar, the Vikings were quarterback Dean Blackly and end Verne Burke, Burke played the Paul Helms Quarterback for three years, but this year he has passed the torch to junior Ed Winkles.

Football Fever High

Football tradition has always been alive at Bakersfield, however, the three-year cycle of Ray Newman as head coach has seen the gridiron fortified atop Panorama Drive with an All-American end.

During this period the Greeks have engaged in 29 games and come out victorious to the tune of 27-2. In the 1959 Rose Bowl would be that same winning team on the cake and give Newman three wins in three years on the Occidental Bowl. The Patrillo Bowl last season.

Due to the fantastic interest in gridiron football by students, patrons and Bakersfield College football in general, the Greeks have now the all-time attendance record for the JRB classic might be broken. Later this month, analysts from the American College Football association will survey the field and give Newman three seats in their three-year survey of the National JBC champ.

Greatest Defense

Even though he was faced with tremendous offense in personnel and execution this season, Newman has molded the greatest defensive team in the history of the school. With the help and advice of coach Rex Gurley.

Gurley was an All-American at San Jose State in 1950 and the National JBC champ.

Bakersfield College head coach Ray Newman, finishing his third year as BC coach, will be leading the Greeks into his second Rose Bowl appearance on Dec. 9. His return at the pro bowl is likely, the 36-14 win over Del Mar, Texas, in the 1959 JRB and the 19-28 win over Carnegie in the "Pan Bowl of 1958." Newman's first patron the BC coaching staff in 1957, as an assistant to Homer Ballew.
