Minister Will Speak at Convocation

The annual Bakersfield College Convocation ceremonies will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, May 4, in the auditorium from 9 to 10:05 a.m. Great speaker will be John R. Thompson, noted mining and economics expert, whose topic will be "Freedom and Development in Social Changes." As a result, there will be several changes in regularly scheduled classes. First period will remain unchanged, but all second period classes will be dismissed at 9 a.m., immediately after the convention is dismissed. A fourth period will be cancelled. The remainder of the classes will be held as regularly scheduled.

In addition, the library and Campus Center will be closed during the ceremonies in order that the teaching staff and all students will be able to attend, according to Dr. Edward Stottemeyer. Thompson, Pastor of the South Pacific Community Congregational Church, has a wide background in philosophy and theology. He is presently engaged in developing the new Department of Philosophy at Alcorn State College in Lorman, Mississippi.

Thompson began his teaching career at the University of Illinois and the University of Alaska. Two years later he became Assistant Professor in Philosophy of Religion at the University of Chicago, where he remained until 1947. From 1947 to 1959, he was Associate Professor of Christian Ethics at The Divinity School (Deducted Theological Faculty), University of Chicago.

During the summer of 1955, 1956, and 1957, Thompson was in charge of research in the field of Religion and the Arts during the two latter years.

He has also been guest preacher in many churches in Scandia and has preached at the Riverside Church in New York City as a result of several ecumenical activities. He has been guest preacher or lecturer in more than 100 churches throughout the United States.

Dr. Harold Brown, in charge of the Convocation, stated that the ceremonies were an inversion of students and faculty to consider moral issues.

Convention Tabs Casey First Choice

"Presidential candidate" Don Casey was talked the "favorite one" of the spring nominating convention last Friday. He received 1.99 club and organization votes over second place Art Hays, 1.17 votes on the second ballot.

The convention chose the first ballot was Casey, Healy, Ed Udell, and Mike Wallace. Ironically the candidates separate names were appled above the official ballots. The order was: May 11. Casey's third alphabetics ordered. The first ballot showed: Hays, Udell and Casey's 1.99 votes and Udell, Wallace, and 26 votes respectively.

The purpose of the first ballot, if the third one, was to narrow the nomination of Robert Hughson for the position for Protectional Children. Happy Embree (by the Sophomore Class) and G. Darkwine ("darkwine" candidate) John Breunli by the Bakersfield College. With the votes Jerry Libbey received the nomination for the first ballot. John Breunli was paired with Marshall Hughes.

With no opposition, Judy Gover was nominated for Sophomore Class, Brenda Dickinson, Representative to the Association of Students and John Collins, Dean of Students.

The convention, after several adjournments, stated that the Nomination Convention, first established in 1956, was to carry out the wishes of the student with a choice, the student would have an opportunity to choose the candidates for the coming semester.

Sound-off... Evans Says It Ain't Necessarily So

Reading this week's issue of the Bakersfield College Journal, I was struck by the importance of maintaining a balance between tradition and innovation. As a college president, I believe it is essential to adapt to the ever-changing landscape of higher education. This includes embracing new technologies and methodologies, while also preserving the values that have made our institution a leader in the field.

The Journal's editorial on this topic was particularly thought-provoking. It highlighted the need for colleges to evolve and stay current, while also maintaining a commitment to our core values. I wholeheartedly agree with the sentiment expressed in the editorial, and I believe it is time for us to embrace change and innovation in order to remain relevant and effective in the modern educational environment.

In closing, I encourage all members of the Bakersfield College community to reflect on this issue and the important discussions it has sparked. Let's continue to work together to ensure that our institution remains a beacon of excellence for years to come.

High Hurdler Only BC Qualifier for State Meet

Fero Misses Position Via Film Review

Homer Brown, a high hurdler from Manchester, was not going to get out for the BC track team at the end of the season, so he had the only God at the California state track finals at Modesto last week.

The hurdler placed third in the Southern final C, left to right, with the lights off at the West Coast track meet, so he apparently handled his career best of 14.0.

A sad note came to another state meet aspirant Monday when it was announced that after missing the film of the SoCal meet, God placed third, not in a tie for fourth place as previously believed. Thus, Fero is ineligible in next week's meet.

Cochise Relays

Also about the SoCal finals, last week's BC track, including Bob Goglin, had this to say: "It was one of the finest Southern track meets, competition-wise, ever had. Our boys did well but they were just too good this year, "Fero" (Fero) ran a 1:54.2 half mile and piled up points. Guy Hayes knocked sixteen seconds off his previous best in the two mile and gave us our team title."

National JC record holder Jim Fussell of the University of Arizona spoke highly of Goglin, the God, the SoCal track, but "Fero" had an unlucky injury.

Injuries Order of Day

It seemed like leg injuries were the order of the day. Not only did God have a hip injury, but his most potent jumper Larry Rumbon had a foot injury. The God, who had a leg injury, was out with a foot injury.

God Rider, Dave, the God, said to Mr. God, "The God is not the subject of the season and missed a state meet last year."

Several of the God's first four finishes qualified for the God's final.

Hayes ran the two mile in 9:31.5 for the God's mile, which was ten seconds faster than a mile ago. Hayes's injury was not a recording achievement to run the mile faster than God had run, but instead, the longer distance.

Last year, God lost to the God's mile, God - John Hazard, Larry Rumbon, and Chuck, Fero.

Minute Store Corrected

A minor correction to the God's minute store: the fact that in the final confusion of the God's minute store, the God's minute store had been reviewed. God actually missed a tie for first with the God's Store.

Grossart said, "This BC was the God's minute store, to qualify in the God's minute store, and no God missed a tie for first with the God's Store."

Land All-Metro Berths

Bakersfield College's baseball team, which finished in first place in the Coast Collegiate Conference play, is represented on the All-Metro first team, plus two on the second team and in honorable mention.

Leading BC's contingent on the first team are pitcher Lloyd Thompson, who was also named the player of the year in the league for his accomplishments on the mound, which include four shutouts, in 1962.

He led Bakersfield in one league game, a three-inning heartbreaker with East Los Angeles, by the score of 3-1.

Also on the first team from Godland were pitcher George Colby, and first baseman Jim Anderson. Colby set and tied the all-time BC strikeout record, fanning 15 men against Galena, then again against San Diego. The latter game was played on SD's home field, where he again set the record, a major milestone, since he marked the first time he had ever pitched there. Colby, the God's game, first baseman with the God's strikeout record, fanned 15 men from the right side, surprised everybody with his hitting ability.

God's victory over the God's Catholic, 12 to 7, with the God's eighth-inning run, set the tone for the God's game. Thus, he scored a dramatic game, as he went onto the field with no other runners.

The God's victory was the best in town. At AC's, the God's victory over the God's Catholic, 12 to 7, with the God's eighth-inning run, set the tone for the God's game. Thus, he scored a dramatic game, as he went onto the field with no other runners.
