BC Image Election Issue

There will be four proposed constitutional amendments to appear on the ballot in Tuesday's ASB election. The first two proposed amendments are to appear on the ballot of the Associated Student Body of Bakersfield College for the spring semester.

The proposed amendments would change the rules on student organization elections and student organization elections for the spring semester. The amendments were presented to the Associated Student Body of Bakersfield College for the spring election.

The proposed amendments are to be included in Article VII, Section 6, of the Constitution.
We Resolve...

Following is a list of resolutions for the new year that either have been made or need to be made, according to the University of California, Berkeley, faculty:

Activities Board: We resolve to switch to a syncretic, local version of our student activities program which will feature live jazz and poetry readings at the local bar, The Malted Milk, every Monday, and a new version of the Arts and Sciences Council, which will meet on the third floor of the Dig at 8 p.m. on the first Monday of each month. We also resolve to offer a new coffee shop, The Morning Roost, on campus.

Student Government: We resolve to make the methods of the Student Government more accountable and transparent. We also resolve to offer a new program, "The Berkeley Experience," which will provide students with the opportunity to experience life in a different culture.

Ignorance Persecutes; Apathy Vital

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concerns about the methods of the "Berkeley Experience" program. As a member of the Student Government, I believe that we have a responsibility to ensure that our programs are effective and beneficial to all students. The "Berkeley Experience" program seems to lack a clear purpose and fails to address the needs of the student body. In my opinion, the program is a waste of resources and should be re-evaluated.

I am also concerned about the level of apathy among the student body. It seems to me that many students are content to simply exist rather than actively engage with the world around them. This apathy is dangerous and can lead to a complacent society where important issues go unaddressed.

I urge the Student Government to take these concerns seriously and make changes to improve the program and promote a more engaged student body.

Sincerely,

By Allan Hunt

Bucks in action for the first time since Dec. 30, 1965, the BC matmen were upset 14-12 by El Camino. The bacteriologists were in good form, however, as the score was 0-0 after the first period.

About Alabama And Annapolis

By Allan Hunt

How does it feel to be a track man at football oriented Alabama University? Or a competitive place at the United States Naval Academy?

During the past few months former Bakersfield College runner Gary Blackman discussed the question with Ben Welch, 1964's 167 pound JC track champ from BC. His findings are outlined below.

Last spring Blackman, while competing for the Renegade track team under Bob Crowe, received a letter from the homefront. The letter came from Alabama, asking Blackman if he would be interested in trying out for the engineering ROTC. The letter came from the engineering ROTC, that he could come to Alabama and try out for the engineering ROTC.

So He Went

Blackman decided to make the move and this fall found himself competing in the deep South. Although his arrival was in time to join the team, he was forced to go out of town to find a high school track meet. His new coach, Frank Ziegler, was unimpressed by his speed in the short distance events.

The Cross Fit's Design

In order to compete, Blackman had to cut his expenses in half. This was accomplished by living in a dormitory at the college. He also had to give up his position as a member of the baseball team.

The Effect on the Legs

Gary Stays, "I can run all day on it and come back in just 30 minutes with a full blast half mile." This is a significant improvement from his previous performance in the high jump.

Overnight No

Staying in Alabama for the rest of the year, he finds that his body is not as well adjusted to the climate as it was in the West. He feels that he needs more rest and recuperation.

They Pay To Win

Following the latest AISB elections, several questions have been raised as to whether or not the amount of money spent on campaigning should be reduced. Some have argued that access to funds and assistance given an unfair advantage to a candidate. Others argue that the process is transparent and out of hand and that supposedly BC students would be ruled by "the rich." Some offer the suggestion that candidates be held responsible for the funds they raise and be required to submit statements detailing their expenditures and sources.

We feel the controversy resulting from this election stems from a lack of understanding by the Board of Regents as to what "fair" campaign practices are in BC elections.

Bury God at BC

Last Tuesday only one person attended the Religious Seminar and the past semester, BC has been consistently small.

Some feel there is an excess of violence in the shows and the attitude of the students and the community toward the seminars. In fact, very little is known about them or anyone who renames the seminars, and this is itself cause for concern even more.

Next semester plans call for discussions on such as Pentateuch and in the Franklin Room.

Campus Arts Wants Writers

Due to a lack of enthusiasm on the part of the writers, many groups have begun to focus on the writing of articles for the magazines. This is to be encouraged as it means that work is being done to promote the cause of art and the campus.

Newsletter Revived

Editor

An editor of the former "BC" magazine stated that the organization of the political newsletter, through the "BC" newsletter, and the editor of the "BC" newsletter, has been presented to a large number of people. The "BC" newsletter, in the opinion of the editor, is simply a vehicle to bring about a change in the way in which the campus is run.

The newsletter is a monthly publication which is produced by the students of the university. It is distributed free of charge and is available at the registration office. The newsletter is produced by the students of the university and is available at the registration office.

Big Red Matmen At Cal Poly Meet

By Jerry Henry

After upsetting last year's state champion, El Camino, 38-35 last Sat, the undefeated BC matmen journeyed to San Luis Obispo to participate in the Cal Poly Tournament today and tomorrow.

At San Luis the 'Gades will be up against grapplers from all parts of the state.

In spite of the loss of two of their starting wrestlers, Barbara Simmons (171) and Albert Valdes (130) the 'Gades squad put forth a tremendous effort of 12 men and a great show of skill as they defeated El Camino, the state champions for the last three years.

Many lighter weight men who had lost two starting wrestlers from their lineup and were faced with the prospect of wrestling some potential state champions who outweighed them maybe ten or twenty pounds may have been overlooked, but the Big Red seemed determined as they kept scoring "unstoppable." Mike Collins (152) was named wrestler of the week because of his outstanding performance against El Camino's Curtis, although after a 30 decision. Alder had been broken once previously and placed second in the UCLA tournament.

Serran Silone

Other outstanding performances included that of Jack Serrata (155) with his 75 decision over Dan Guevara who placed third in the UCLA tourney. Frank Scott (137) with a 1-1 tie, and Larry Brosher (191) also, with a 1-1 tie.

Emmett Herrera (123), Mike Brown (195), and Ricky Bailey (unranked), failed to see action because of forfeits on the part of El Camino.

El Camino actually had more points than BC (15-13), if the forfeits were excluded from the score, however, coach Plutonium rates his team as higher weight brackets than they normally wrestle in.

Nestande Views '67 Metro Fives

By Alan Hunt

In 1967 the Metropolitan Conference is, as usual, endowed with more than an average amount of fine basketball players, and its cage squads are better than average at best.

According to Bakersfield coach Pete Nestande (and the rest of the cage mentors around the loop) Long Beach will once again have the most of the best. The Vikings, who recorded a sparkling 31-32 state during the 1965-66 ground, (including an 11-1 conference log) boast six lettermen.

Among those are - 6-center Casey Bailey and 6-4 forward Harry Williams. Both of these boys gained All-Metro honors last season. In addition Bailey won such accolades as Conference Player of the Year, All-State First Team and Football Classic Most-Valuable Player to name a few.

Two Time All America

Trent Gaines a freshman at BCBC was the one most publicized high school dribblers in the nation over his past three seasons at Long Beach Poly. While Poly was posting a 39-6 record in 1964-65 and 56-6 gains was two time All-American, All CIF first team and All City.

The Vikings, who lost their second tour of the season (a 69-65 defeat) to San Pedro later defeated Sunnyside in a 12-1 log and have improved to that 5-1 at the expense of Rio Hondo, Ceritos, and Santa Monica.

In comparison of his 1967 trip to last season's group Chuck Kane, BCBC coach, says "we're not as physically strong as last year, but we're quicker and we have good shooting." Sounds plausible.

Ceritos Second

The Ceritos Falcons rank second on Pete Nestande's list. Ceritos has a sizeable front line in Paul Ruffner (6-8), Larry Crowrell (6-5) and Barry Quinzel (6-4).

Coach Jim Killingsworth believes his Falcons, 12-6 in pre-Metro games, to be improved, "though somewhat lacking in speed."

Next, Nestande says, will be either Los Angeles Valley or Santa Monica. Valley came into its Tuesday contest with the Renegades (won by the Monarchs 90-82) holding a 100 percent conference scoring average.

Leading Chuck Kane's Monarchs is guard Loren Braci, who has been averaging around 30 points per game this season.

Corsairs, In Contention

This is supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Santa Monica Corsairs but 6-9 center Cliff Penny and 6-7 forward Frank Flick could make it into something more for Tom McGarvin's boys.
