President-Designate Credits Stature to Established College

"I've found BC to be an institution that grows on you; it's something that you can only come from having a history," said former BC president Mrs. L. Finlinson. "In my time here, I've been impressed by the caliber of our students, the dedication of our faculty, and the atmosphere pervading the campus." Mrs. Finlinson, who has been on the BC staff for over 20 years, expressed her belief that the university's tradition of excellence and commitment to academic excellence is what sets it apart from other institutions.

The former BC president also spoke about her experience with the college's administration, saying, "I found the administration to be open and receptive to ideas, and I was always impressed by their ability to make informed decisions." Mrs. Finlinson added that the college's success can be attributed to the support and dedication of its faculty and students.

In conclusion, Mrs. Finlinson emphasized the importance of maintaining the college's tradition of excellence and innovation, while also embracing the changing needs and demands of the 21st century. Laosian Authority Condemns Out Of Date UN Charter

By Kally Burshe

January 1968

A speech made and audio record released by the Liberation Front of South Vietnam, which claims to control a considerable area in the southern section of the South Vietnam, has been made public.

The speech, which was made by a leading member of the Front, includes an attack on the United Nations and its policies. The speaker argues that the UN Charter is outdated and that it should be replaced by a new charter that reflects the realities of the current world situation.

The speaker also criticizes the United States for its role in Vietnam, and he calls for an end to the US war in Vietnam. The speech ends with a call for international support for the Front's efforts to achieve a just peace in Vietnam.

The speech was broadcast on the Front's radio station and has been disseminated through various channels.

The Front's statement comes at a time when there is growing criticism of the UN Charter and its limitations. The Front's call for a new charter is likely to be seen as a challenge to the authority of the UN in the eyes of some observers.

The Front's statement also comes at a time when there is a renewed interest in the historical and political context of the Front's activities. The Front was formed in 1961 as a resistance movement against the French colonial administration, and it has been active in the area ever since.

The Front's statement is likely to be seen as a challenge to the authority of the UN in the eyes of some observers.

One of the serious boys of the Sophomore class, 31-year-old student-teacher, Mr. Sanborn, was at the center when the game was over. He was next to the head boy, and had the ball in his hands. The game was played on the field and the ball was collected from the field and put in the Gades, History, and English. The ball was then passed to the next person, and the game went on.

What Rights?

Students in College Campuses around the nation have exploded with a burst of energy against the Vietnam war and recruiting efforts on campus.

The Vietnam war, which has been major catalysts for the protests at the University of Wisconsin, Berkeley and the Universities of Illinois and Minneapolis. Other demonstration have occurred around the country in Colorado, Princeton and Wayne State in Detroit.

Students have shouted, tear-gassed, beaten, and burned at the universities. They have been branded as Communists, Red Chinese, and traitors. Many have been24hr. security guards and褂ve run vacm cleaners.

The story relates how 550 policemen and 2,000 demonstrators Affairs 20 students were present in the hospital. Red Press representatives were clubbed. Old women were beaten. Young women were trampled. Violence preceded the attack. After the attack, the press was filtered with broken glass,或将 signs and blood.

Dear Mr. Robbins,

I call to you that thousands of students around the nation feel that recruiters should not be allowed on their campuses and it tells us that what they can no longer tolerate.

Renege Rip

Dear Editor:

Regarding both City Council President, Mr. White, and to what I thought was a personal attack on Mr. White and a rather childish, unnecessary statement on the part of Mr. White and Mr. Foss, I do not believe that Mr. Chapman is the director. I could only be relevant if he could be critical of it that he would have the right to do. Mr. White is Secretary, Mr. Foss is Assistant to the City Council President, both of whom are members of the City Council.

It is difficult to see who is responsible and to say that it is not a personal attack.

Intelligent and honest criticism is needed on the part of the theater and the other arts. I hope that Mrs. White will create many good works and be in good work. And that she does the best possible work with her group.

Decisions are admirable, but last year's decision is the one that is being admidtied is also admirable. The second decision is also admirable.

The defense, led by linebacker Tom White, has allowed only 114 points in 13 games. The Monarchs have a balanced attack, with running back Brian Robinson averaging 100 yards per game and wide receiver Mark Jackson averaging 60 yards per game. Football players are made in Kern County and not born. Hard work and training went into making the BC football team what it is today. Every coach from the member of the football squad had in High School to their present BC coaches.

Along with, hard work and training, comes spirit. A BC football player has probably lived in Kern County for several years and has pride in this fact. BC has combined spirit and hard work to make a mighty team. One of the greatest coaches ever to have trained a football team, Roku Smith, has combined the most important aspects of team and the game. His year on the team was crowned with an outstanding victory over LA Valley.

A TERRIFIC DEFENSE THAT NEVER GAVE UP!!!

Key Wins

by TONY GARCIA

Only Gamblers don't bet on a sure thing! Like Gamblers some fans are betting that the Gades will lose this Saturday. They say they know what will happen. They claim The Gades will let El Camino score in the first half and then pray for "Lady Luck" to save them in the last two quarters of the game. Skill beats Luck Any Day "Lady Luck" my foot, these fans must be reminded not to go out and make wild bets on the undisciplined ones they are betting.

That "Lady Luck" is on El Camino's side because it took hard work and skill to make the quality team that BC has today. The kind of skill that pounded Fresno 37-6, downed San Diego 26-6, crushed L.A. 27-10, and humbled East L.A. 33-9.

Hustle Counts Too Sure we had a few close calls but what team doesn't sooner or later? However, that's where hustle makes the difference.

Such Hustle could be seen against Long Beach when the Gades stole the game 21-20. It also appeared in the Santa Monica game and last week against LA Valley.

Put Your Money, Where Your Mouth Is El Camino will be tough, tough but tough enough that skill and hustle could not take care of them, so don't be a fool to gamble —bet on sure thing—Bet on the Gades, THEY'RE NUMBER ONE!!!

NEXT THE METRO FOR AN ENCORE!

LOOK OUT! HERE COMES John Tarver pushes through LA Valley's big defense on a fourth down situation for the first.

Mike Williams of South High intercepted a crucial pass against Santa Monica to stop a scoring drive. This was turned a fluke play by some. No credit at all was given Williams for tackling Randy Wiltzki, the leading receiver in the conference, so hard he dropped five passes during the game. Jim Ford from Arvin high always seems to be at the bottom of a vast majority of the running plays and in no part of the interceptions. These are only a few specific examples. Every player on the defensive squad has had his moment of glory this year even though most of them are going unnoticed.

The seventeen men who make up the Gade defense are: Frank Provenal, Ray DeShano, Mike Bauer, Jimmy Thompson, and John Arbuck from Foothill High, Jim Robley, and Mike Williams from BHS; Don Lundgren, Craig Cooper, and Louise Devitte from North; Harald Gibson from Wasco; Ron Tschopp from Shafter; Jim Ford from Arvin; John Mears from Venc; Dick Myer from Delano; Mike Cercone and Chris Beck.
