College Presidents Skip The State

President T. W. Tanaka of the University of California, Davis, and President William H. Keck of California State College at Los Angeles have announced that they will send their representatives to the annual College Presidents Conference in Washington, D.C., May 30-June 2.

This year's conference will be attended by 85 university presidents from across the country. The theme of the conference is "The Role of the University in the Nation's Future," and will include discussions on a variety of topics, including higher education policy, research and development, and international education.

President Tanaka and President Keck's decision to send representatives to the conference reflects their commitment to promoting the importance of higher education and ensuring its continued growth and development. The conference provides an opportunity for presidents to share best practices, exchange ideas, and collaborate on initiatives that will benefit students and the nation as a whole.

In addition to the main conference, there will be various workshops and sessions focused on specific areas, such as student success, faculty development, and campus diversity.

The conference is an important event for college presidents, as it provides a platform for them to engage with their peers and discuss issues that are critical to the future of higher education. The presidents' participation in the conference is a testament to their dedication to the cause of education and their commitment to ensuring that students have access to high-quality education.

The conference will also feature keynote speakers, including prominent figures in the field of higher education, who will address the attendees on a range of topics, from the role of the university in society to the future of higher education in the digital age.

Overall, the College Presidents Conference is an important event for college presidents and the higher education community, and the presidents' decision to send representatives to the conference is a testament to their commitment to promoting the importance of higher education and ensuring its continued growth and development.

New advertising course offered to general public

Two new advertising courses will be offered to the public this fall at the University of California, Los Angeles. The courses, which are designed for students interested in the field of advertising, will cover topics such as advertising strategy, media planning, and creative development.

The courses will be taught by experienced advertising professionals who bring a wealth of knowledge and practical experience to the classroom.

New State College Admissions

The University of California, Davis, has announced new admissions policies for its state college, effective fall 2023.

Under the new policy, students will be required to complete a minimum of 12 credits of English, mathematics, and science courses in high school.

These requirements reflect the university's commitment to ensuring that students are prepared for success in college and are able to compete for admission to competitive programs.

The changes to the admissions policy are part of a broader initiative by the university to improve access to higher education and ensure that all students have the opportunity to succeed.

CENSORSHIP...

is upon us

by Alice Pinnick

What is the difference between a freedom of speech and a right to be heard? The difference is a political system of our choice. Freedom of speech is a right we exercise, the right to speak our minds. But in order to be heard, we must have a political system which allows us the freedom to speak.

Freedom Requires Exercised Responsibility

by Ira Rubin

Freedom is a right not only to speak our minds, but also to be heard. It is a right to speak and be believed. It is the right to be heard and be respected. Freedom is a right to be heard and be understood.

Revolution And LOVE

by John Dough

Revolution is a process of change, a process of transformation. It is a process of breaking down old systems and building new ones. Revolution is a process of creating a new world, a world of freedom and love.

THE UNNECESSARY NECESSITY

SPEECH ONE-A

by Robert Johnson

The unnecessary necessity of speech is the right to express oneself freely. It is the right to be heard and be respected. It is the right to be understood and be believed.

My Inalienable RIGHT

Has Been Usurped

by Alice Pinnick

My inalienable right to freedom has been usurped. The government has taken away my right to express myself freely. They have taken away my right to be heard and be respected. They have taken away my right to be understood and be believed.
POLOIS TAKE COS. TOURNAMENT

The Gators are ready to enter the first year of their new stadium. The Gators will play their first game against Ohio State on Saturday, October 3, at 8:00 p.m.

The Gators will be led by Coach Ben Hill Griffin. Griffin is a former All-American fullback and is in his first year as head coach.

The Gators will play their first game against Ohio State on Saturday, October 3, at 8:00 p.m.

BIG RED STEAMROLLS MERRITT 55-6

Merritt went on the offensive in the first quarter, scoring three touchdowns and leading the way to a 55-6 victory.

The Gators were dominated by the powerful Merritt defense, which held them to just 6 points.

The game was a one-sided affair, with Merritt controlling the ball for most of the game and never allowing the Gators to get into a rhythm.

The Gators will be hoping for a better performance in their next game against the powerful Alabama Crimson Tide.

BC'S GADES--A BUNCH OF WINNERS

BC quarterback John Brailt was instrumental in BC's victory over MIT. His 3 touchdown passes led the Gators to a 31-7 win.

The Gators will play their next game against Harvard on Saturday, October 3, at 8:00 p.m.
