Convo Today
The environment is the topic of this year's Convocation, a student-organized event to mark the first day of classes.

In the past, Convocation has featured a presentation by a distinguished visitor, but this year's Convocation will focus on the topic of the environment. The event will take place in the Student Center on Monday evening at 7:00 p.m.

Play Is Comedy of Errors

Though not Shakespeare's own "As You Like It"... nevertheless is well acted and directed in it performance. Two acts start's accomplished by a trio of women and women's scenes are offered during a storm scene. They grow up to separate stories and one set of wonderful scenery is made for the women's scenes. The play is well-directed by the stage in the fifth scene. It is the best play of the season.

Performance dates are scheduled for mid-November and will be held in the Campus Auditorium. The show will follow all campus rules and regulations for performances.
Coaches, Students Impugn Last Week's Football Editorials

In Our Defense

It is difficult to respond to your letter on the football game in last week's campus papers. It seems to the fact that the editors of the two papers have had a little too much to say on the subject.

The Angler, as you state, is a great publication. I am sure you would say the same about The Argonaut. However, that does not make their criticism any less valid or any more logical.

In my opinion, the football game was a great event. The players were excited and the spectators were enthusiastic. I believe the game was played fairly and the team was victorious.

It is true that the coaches were upset with the game. They felt the players were not prepared and the game was not played to their standards. However, I believe the coaches were wrong in their assessment.

I believe the game was a great success and the team should be proud of their performance. I hope you will reconsider your position and give the team the credit they deserve.

Sincerely,

TRITE BUT TRUE

FRANKLY SPEAKING

There is an Answer

Soph Rep Speaks Out

By Frank Simmons

I am writing this letter to say that Soph Rep is looking for an answer to the problem of lack of parking on campus. I have spoken with many students who are frustrated with the lack of parking on campus, and I believe that something can be done.

The problem is that there are not enough parking spaces available for students. The current system of parking permits is not effective, and it is causing a lot of frustration. I believe that there should be a better system in place that would allow students to park more easily.

I would like to see the administration consider the following:

1. Creating more parking spaces on campus.
2. Implementing a parking permit system that is more efficient.
3. Encouraging students to carpool and use public transportation.

I believe that these steps would help to alleviate the problem of lack of parking on campus.

JUMP CRAZY

The Real Tragedy

By Gordon Painter

A 3,000 pound, 220 lb. bowler1 has been named the "Most Valuable Player" in the bowling tournament and the "Most Valuable Player" in the bowling team. He is the first bowler to win both awards.

The bowler, who has been bowling for 10 years, is a member of the university's bowling team. He has been a member of the team for the past 4 years and has been the team's captain for the past 2 years. He has won numerous tournaments and has been a member of the university's bowling team since 1970.

His most significant achievement was winning the national bowling championship last year. He has won countless other awards and has been named the "Most Valuable Player" in numerous tournaments.

by Leon Reynolds

Conversation between Roderick Theobald and students brought to life by sound of a radio, shown on screen. The audience heard one of the most inspiring speeches of the year from Mr. Theobald. The audience was split into smaller groups of two and three. The students were allowed to ask questions of Mr. Theobald. Mr. Theobald is shown as a dignified and intelligent man who has chosen to live in a society that he has created.

Frankly Speaking

Saturday night...

by Larry Beck

Last Saturday night, the B.C. community center was abuzz with the excitement of a football game, as the local team took on the visiting squad. The game started off with a bang, with the visiting team scoring a touchdown early in the first quarter. The crowd,danished in the stands, roared in approval as the visiting team's quarterback made his way down the field, throwing a perfect pass to the end zone. The home team, however, was not to be outdone, as they responded with a powerful rush, pushing the visiting team out of bounds and setting up a key first down. The crowd was on its feet, cheering for the home team as they prepared to take over on offense. The rest of the game was filled with highlights, including a record-breaking touchdown catch by the home team's wide receiver and a lightning-fast interception by the visiting team's defensive back. The game was a thrilling experience for all, and the community center was a perfect venue to host such an exciting event.

Exchange column

Compatibility?

by John Ford

"Matches make the world go around," the wise saying goes. In the realm of interpersonal relationships, compatibility is often cited as a crucial factor in determining the success of a partnership. But what exactly constitutes compatibility, and how can one assess it in a potential partner? This month's exchange column explores the various aspects of compatibility and offers insights into understanding and navigating this complex concept.

In the world of relationships, compatibility is multidimensional, encompassing various facets such as personality, values, interests, and life goals. While there's no one-size-fits-all answer, understanding these dimensions can provide valuable guidance in identifying the level of compatibility within a relationship.

Stadium Musical Chairs

by Barry McDonald

Playing a musical instrument is an enjoyable way to express creativity and connect with others. Here are some tips for beginner musicians looking to improve their skills:

1. Practice Regularly: Consistent practice is key to developing proficiency. Set aside time each day or week for dedicated practice sessions.
2. Learn from Others: Attend concerts, workshops, or classes to learn from others and gain inspiration. Interacting with more experienced musicians can provide valuable insights.
3. Be Patient: Improvement takes time, so be patient with yourself and celebrate progress along the way.
4. Explore Different Genres: Try playing different styles of music to broaden your horizons and find your passion.

By following these tips, beginner musicians can make steady progress towards mastering their instruments and enjoying the rewarding experience of playing music.

Homecoming Activity
Alumni Association
Hosts Homecoming Reception

November 2, 1970

Libbey Auditorium will be the scene of the alumni homecoming reception sponsored by the Alumni Association. The sale of alumni badges to former students and relatives will begin at 7:30 p.m. Alumni may enter the library entrance to the auditorium.

Homecoming Bash

A networking network of events is planned in conjunction with Homecoming. A social bash for the alumni and their guests will be held at the library entrance to Libbey Auditorium. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m. and feature a buffet style dinner and entertainment.

Homecoming Decorations

Decorations for the Homecoming event will be coordinated by the Student Council. The decorations will feature scarlet and white, the official colors of the university.

Homecoming Parade

The Homecoming Parade will take place on November 7th, the day of the football game. The parade will start at 3:00 p.m. and travel along College Avenue, culminating at the football stadium.

Homecoming Dance

A Homecoming Dance will be held at the university gymnasium. The dance will begin at 8:00 p.m. and feature live music and a variety of food and drink options.

Homecoming Activities

In addition to the activities mentioned above, there will be a Homecoming basketball game scheduled for November 5th. The game will be held at the university gymnasium and feature a variety of food and drink options.

Homecoming ends with a bang

The Homecoming event will culminate with a fireworks display on the evening of November 8th. The display will be held at the university stadium and is expected to last approximately 30 minutes.

More thoughts on Homecoming

Homecoming is a time for students, alumni, and faculty to come together and celebrate the spirit of the university. It is a time to reunite with old friends and make new ones. The Homecoming event is a great way to show support for the university and for the football team.
