Downtown Center

Opening set for September '74

By CLYDENE MORRISON

"Development for the BC Downtown Center in no way can be described as exciting," stated Dr. Charles R. J. Cameron, associate dean in continuing education for BC and director of the new center. The remodeling and construction will assimilate by fall.

Dr. Edward Timmons, Kent Community College District Superintendent, recently reported the release of state funds amounting to $4,137,858 for the project. The university represents approximately half of the estimated total of $25 million for the purchase and redeveloping of the former U.S. Courthouse building in downtown Bakersfield.

While creating a downtown college center is a new idea, many features of this one, such as busy hours from early in the morning until late at night, will be innovative. Enabling student recreation at different times throughout the semester, flexibility in scheduling attendance, and individualized instruction on a one-to-one basis are other new and exciting concepts. According to Cameron, the center will invite 10,000 to 20,000 students in 18 weeks to descend. "We are trying to make the individual feel "Belleville/Tigers," he elaborated.

COMMUNITY SERVICE EMPHASIZED

Community service will also be emphasized in flexible scheduling and the utilization of public buildings working in the downtown area will be able to offer classes in areas they need skills in conjunction with their hours of employment. The Forum area, with a seating capacity of 225, will be available to community members.

Police, service courses, which includes fire and police science will be transferred to the new center where criminology...will be established. Students received in these

Bakersfield College

renegade rip

VOLUME XXXVIII FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1973 NUMBER 6

La Cruda los Rasquachis

Teatro campesino tonight at 7

Sponsored by MHECA of BC, Teatro Campesino makes its debut tonight in the Orange Theatre. The play by La Caduta de los Rasquachis will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

A student group which started as a propaganda unit the pickets of the California Vietnam Veterans against War has spread across the nation and endorsed with cultural themes. The group's ideas which were paper maché masks and signs identifying them as "The People's Contract" and "End the Repression. But the "Ca-

Staff forms

Rac Editor elected

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.

In its first meeting of the Fall 1973 semester, the Bakersfield College Board of Publications elected a presidential editor and opposed two campus club publications.

Janet Calloused, a sophomore, was named to fill the 1974 editor of the RACONTEUR, a three-year program that won the "outstanding" rating in 1970 and 1971 from the National Press Association, student, and creativity in the objective at the time staff meeting. In addition to the publications board approved a newsletter published by the Bakersfield College Young Republican Club, Politic, and a similar publication sponsored by MHECA.
Boob tube blues

Dear Editor:

The MUCH too fast "flat screen" TV can ruin your life. I see whole families sitting on the floor watching television while their children are in school. They can learn nothing. The public school system is already on the ropes. They don't need this kind of thing to hurt education any more.

This letter is written in an effort to save future generations of kids from the measles of TV.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Assemblymen advocate Rah for Raven

Assemblymen advocate for the implementation of a state lottery in order to fund higher education. The lottery would generate revenue for scholarships and grants for students.

Letter alleviates misgivings

Amelia Earhart's story has been told many times, but the one detail that is often omitted is the fact that she was never seen again. Some say she was killed in a plane crash, while others believe she faked her death and lived a secret life. The truth may never be known.

Fantasy versus federal fable

The popularity of fantasy novels and movies has grown exponentially in recent years. However, does the fictional world of magic and wonder offer any valuable insights into our own society? Or is it just a harmless escape from reality?

Construction under way

Construction is underway on the new campus of the University of California, Los Angeles. The project is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Students views of Fedway

The new building on campus is called Fedway. Students have mixed opinions about it. Some love the modern design, while others think it's too clinical and lacks the charm of the old buildings.
Cranston advocates shield laws

By Mike Tassos

In the early hours of Sunday morning, 49-year-old Yvonne De La Rosa was found stabbed to death in her apartment in the 1800 block of S. Main St. in West Hollywood. De La Rosa, who lived in a high-rise building with her mother and daughter, is said to have beenke had a long history of domestic abuse. De La Rosa’s mother, also a victim of domestic abuse, called police to her apartment in the middle of the night, but when they arrived, they found De La Rosa lying on the ground, blood on her face and clothes. De La Rosa was pronounced dead at the scene.

De La Rosa’s death comes just days after another domestic violence death in the area. In August, a 23-year-old woman was killed by her boyfriend in an apartment in the 1900 block of S. Fairfax Ave. in West Hollywood. The woman’s boyfriend was later arrested and charged with murder.

The West Hollywood Police Department is investigating both cases. Anyone with information is urged to call the West Hollywood Police Department at 323-848-6300.

10% Discount to All BC Students

With BC Registration Card,
We’re 10-Speed Specialists
Come see us about Low Cost Bicycle Insurance

... for the business of living
New community office of Bank of America to the Bank of America
we here to serve the
Bakersfield College Campus
Joe Coak Manager

When this 25-year-old researcher
wanted to investigate a possible cancer treatment, we gave him the go-ahead.

We also gave him the right to fail.

When this 25-year-old researcher wanted to investigate a possible cancer treatment, we gave him the go-ahead. We also gave him the right to fail, according to a new study published in the journal Science. The study, led by Dr. John Smith, a leading cancer researcher at the University of California, Los Angeles, was funded by the National Institutes of Health.

The study involved a small group of patients with advanced cancer who were given a new drug that had been developed in the laboratory. The drug had shown promise in preclinical trials, but it was not clear whether it would work in humans.

The researchers divided the patients into two groups. One group received the drug along with standard chemotherapy, while the other group received the drug alone. The results were clear: the group that received the drug alone had better outcomes than the group that received the drug along with chemotherapy.

Dr. Smith said the results were encouraging, but he cautioned that more research is needed to confirm the findings. "This is a small study, and we need to see if the results can be replicated in a larger population," he said. "But the fact that we found a benefit in this small group gives us hope that we may be on the right track.

The study was funded by the National Institutes of Health, which has a long history of supporting cancer research. "We are committed to supporting innovative research that has the potential to translate into new treatments for cancer," said NIH Director Dr. Francis Collins. "This study is an example of the kind of research that we hope will lead to new treatments for cancer."

The study was published in the journal Science, which is one of the most highly respected journals in the field of medicine. The study is available online atScience.com.

Kodak
More than a business.

Bakersfield AUDIO
9380 F st.
327-2725
New federal grants offer money to students

Students who are interested in the first two years of college and are willing to apply for federal aid may be able to finance their education at no cost. Federal government officials are currently available to help any student who might wish to attend college.

The student will be required to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to determine his or her eligibility to receive financial aid. The FAFSA is available by calling 1-800-4-FED-AID or 1-800-810-2345.

Frosh top Sophs in vote turnout

The Freshman Class had the best turnout at the Freshman Sophomore Assembly meeting. The freshmen were expected to bring a large number of people to the meeting.

Noon concert debuts

The film version of the South Coast Dinner will be performed at the B. C. Performing Arts Center on October 18, 1973. The film will be screened at 8 p.m. and is being sponsored by the Bakersfield College Foundation.

Community Service Seminars at BC

Paula Fonseca

Bakersfield College is offering a series of seminars to inform students of the services offered by the college. The seminars will be held in the campus center.

Directions Committee lists goals

The student government at Bakersfield College has listed a number of goals for the coming year. The goals include increasing student involvement in campus activities and improving the quality of life on campus.

Ananda Marga Yoga and International Students Association present An after-game dance with Koinonia in Campus Center Tomorrow-October 6 10:00 p.m. — 1:00 a.m.

$1.00 w/ ASB Card
$1.50 w/o ASB Card
Santa Ana next

Gades clobber COS

Santa Ana College

Buck Owens third golf tourney set

Santa Ana College

Harriers face Warriors

Bakersfield College

Gonzales Opposes Prop. 1

Bakersfield College

Cafeteria opens remodeled

Bakersfield College

Hypnosis, Norton: A winning combo

Bakersfield College

Picture of two people shaking hands.

Bakersfield College

Santa Ana next

Gades clobber COS

Santa Ana College

Buck Owens third golf tourney set

Santa Ana College

Harriers face Warriors

Bakersfield College

Gonzales Opposes Prop. 1

Bakersfield College

Cafeteria opens remodeled

Bakersfield College

Hypnosis, Norton: A winning combo

Bakersfield College
opinion

"Us first, last and always"

Last semester I enjoyed my first year at the University of Southern California. I was, however,急性地去了解自己的生活。仅仅一年的时间，我已经很享受在这里的生活。现在我刚刚结束了第一学期，我很期待下学期的到来。这个学期我参加了许多活动，包括一些社团和志愿者工作。这些经历让我更加了解了自己的兴趣和价值观。虽然有些困难，但我觉得这是我成长的过程中的一部分。

The estimate of AVS people in the Student Government is based on the number of members of AVS and their activities in "Our free time". Most AVS people are involved in some kind of activity. They can only be seen for the most part at AS activities. This is what the Activists Board thinks. They tell you that if you are just passing through campus and see an AVS person, he will always be able to tell you about his activities.

Letters to the Editor

"Bigotry not confined to one color"

For the past twenty years I've been reading the columns written by the Black and Chinese students. From the start of the columns it was always the same. The first columns were about the black students and then about the Chinese students. The columns were written by students who were in the minority. The columns were about their problems and how they were treated. The columns were written by students who were not treated fairly. The columns were written by students who were not treated as equals. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality. The columns were written by students who were not treated with respect. The columns were written by students who were not treated with dignity. The columns were written by students who were not treated with understanding. The columns were written by students who were not treated with love. The columns were written by students who were not treated with compassion. The columns were written by students who were not treated with fairness. The columns were written by students who were not treated with justice. The columns were written by students who were not treated with equality.
Vet Affairs improve services

MECHA SPEAKS

'Tower of Power' a success

Child Study Center now open

Chicano Studies Certificates passed by Curriculum Committee

This is the week

ASB Film Series

Film Series

Toward the Year 2000

WATERBED WAREHOUSE

Opening

Extra Cash

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

WATERBED WAREHOUSE

See us now for our special heater prices

GRAND OPENING

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

WATERBED WAREHOUSE

See us now for our special heater prices

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING

Extra Cash

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

-30% OFF -

GRAND OPENING
Renegades start three game road trip tomorrow

BY BRIAN COGAN

The Renegades will start a three game road trip tomorrow with a 2:30 p.m. kickoff against the L.A. Valley Dons at Santa Ana city stadium. The game will be televised via KTFS Channel 9.

The Renegades have a 14-2-1 overall record and are at the top of the Mountain Western Conference, with two games remaining. Their last game was a 4-1 victory over the Fresno City College Bulldogs.

The game will be played in front of a large student and faculty crowd, expected to be over 1,000. The Renegades have been sold out at their last two games.

Edmunds speaks

Mr. Edmunds, the athletic director, said the team will be at full strength for the game. He added that the team is looking forward to the challenge and will be well-prepared.

Nadas to perform next week

The Nadas, a popular local band, will be performing at the College Bowl on Wednesday night. This is their second appearance at the College Bowl. The band is known for their lively performances and crowd-pleasing setlist.

Indian Club constitution passed

The Indian Club constitution was passed unanimously by the members at the meeting. This is a significant step for the club as it will help structure their activities and operations.

Massawa selected new chief

A new chief has been selected for the Massawa region. The selection process involved a rigorous evaluation of candidates, ensuring the selection of a capable and respected leader.

Film series offer

Bakersfield College Film Series offers a wide variety of films from different genres and countries. The series is a great opportunity for students to expand their knowledge and understanding of cinema.

Get reduced-student-rate

The College offers a reduced-student-rate for students who are currently enrolled in the College. This includes discounted rates for events, activities, and services.

Ralston talks Sunday at College Life

Mr. Ralston, the College Life editor, will be talking about the future of the College Life this Sunday. He will discuss plans and developments for the upcoming semester.

Valuable coupon

Valuable coupon for $100 off any Large Pizza and $50 off any Medium Pizza. Coupon available until the end of the month.