Perplexing parking puzzle

Another year, another grueling problem. This year the problem is not only the size of the cars, but also the size of the parking space. The cars are so large that it is difficult to park them in the designated spaces. Many people are frustrated and are looking for a solution to this problem. One solution is to have more parking spaces. Another solution is to have parking spaces that are larger. The cars are so large that they do not fit into the designated spaces. Inexperienced Gades face "question mark" season

The freshman football players of Bakersfield College are preparing for the upcoming season. The team has several players who are new to college football, and they are eager to prove themselves on the field.

Future bright for Renegade harriers

The Bakersfield College cross country team is headed by Coach Roy Petty, who led the team to a second-place finish in the state meet last year. The team is looking to improve on last year's performance and compete for the state championship.

Pologades look strong

The Bakersfield College women's basketball team is returning several key players from last season and is expected to have a strong season. The team is working on improving their defense and increasing their scoring in order to compete in the conference.

Mental health program open

Bakersfield College is offering a new mental health program for students. The program includes counseling services, workshops, and support groups to help students address mental health issues.

Applications for spring are available

Bakersfield College is offering applications for the spring semester. Students are encouraged to apply early to ensure they have enough time to register for classes and make plans for the semester.

Gallery features "new look"

The Bakersfield College art department is featuring an exhibition of student work in the art gallery located in the Student Services Center. The exhibition includes a variety of media and styles, and it is open to the public.

Elections

There is a slate of candidates running for various positions at Bakersfield College. The candidates are running on a platform of improving the student experience and addressing issues such as mental health and academic support.

Life behind the bars

(Elhimil Zeroual, Staff Writer)

Life behind the bars is not easy, even for those who have had a difficult past. Our prisoner, who goes by the name "J. Smith," has been in prison for the past two years. He was convicted of theft and has been serving time at the local state penitentiary.

Life in prison is a constant struggle, both physically and mentally. The days are long and the nights are even longer. With the constant noise of the prison and the constant presence of guards, it's hard to find any peace.

J. Smith spends most of his time in the cell, sitting or lying down, trying to pass the time. He reads books and watches TV, but there's always the fear of being caught and sent back to the hole.

"Life behind bars is tough," J. Smith said. "I wish I could go back in time and make different choices, but I can't change the past."

Despite the hardships, J. Smith has found a way to keep his spirits up. He's started a small business selling handcrafts to other prisoners and has been able to save enough money to buy a new motorcycle when he gets out.

"It's not much," J. Smith said. "But it's something to look forward to."
Gades open season tomorrow

By DAVID COLUMBUS

BC's football season opens tonight at the stadium in Pleasant Valley. The Gades are scheduled to face the visiting team from California at 8:00 p.m.

The game will be the first of several home games for BC during the fall season. The Gades are looking to build on their success from last year's 8-2 season.

The stadium, which has a seating capacity of 3,000, will be packed with fans cheering on their favorite team. The weather is expected to be clear and mild, making for an ideal night for football.

Harriers open season today

By DOUG SCHAEFER

The BC Harriers men's cross country team will open their season today at the San Francisco Invitational Meet. The meet is being held at Golden Gate Park and will feature teams from around the country.

The Harriers are led by head coach Bob McKee, who is looking to guide his team to a successful season.

Unselfish attitude marks Bower top coach

By MIKE TAYLOR

Bower High School football coach Mike Bower has been named the top coach in the league. Bower's team finished the season with a 10-0 record, winning the league championship.

Bower attributes his team's success to their unselfish attitude. "Our players are always willing to do whatever it takes to win," Bower said. "They're great team players and I couldn't be more proud of them."

Renegades take on Hornet ‘jinx’

By JOHN REEDLEY

The Pologad.es host Reedley College at 1 p.m. this afternoon at Westside Bowl. This is the sixth meeting of the ‘jinx’ between the two schools. Reedley, the Hornet’s nemesis, is 1-0 in the series. The last game was in 1973, when the Hornets lost to Reedley 12-12 on a field goal in the final minute. The Hornets were 0-0 in this series before the 1973 game with Reedley. Since then, the two teams have met four times, and Reedley has won all four games.

The Hornets had their share of success in the first five meetings with Reedley. They won 11-7, 20-7, and 13-0, and lost 12-12 in 1973. The Hornets have scored more points in each of the past five games against Reedley, and are looking to continue that trend.

The Hornets have been led by the performance of their freshmen on offense. Senior quarterback Mike Parker has had a strong season, and is expected to lead the Hornet offense this afternoon. The team has a chance to upset Reedley, but will need to play well to do so.

Pet population explosion

We’re all aware of the degree of the pet population explosion in this area, and it seems as though every day we hear about another pet being found or abandoned. The issue is not only one of overcrowding, but also one of responsibility. Many pet owners are not taking the necessary steps to ensure that their pets are vaccinated and spayed or neutered.

The solution to this problem is not easy, but it is necessary. We must work together to ensure that our pets are healthy and happy, and that our community remains a safe and welcoming place for all.

Bakersfield’s Renegade football coach Gerry Collins.

Last Friday’s Renegades threw up their first victory of the year as they downed Fullerton College Club. Bakersfield led the Pologades with three goals while fellow kicker Bob Boyce followed up with a pair of field goals. The Renegades defeated the Pologades, each scored a goal.

All four of Renegade’s goals came from individual efforts by Bill Edwards, Scott Butcher, and Mark Wagner, who scored the first three, and back-up goalie Mark Seaton, who topped the Renegades’ total with 5-3 in goal.
