Dr. Froimovich stresses importance of treatments regarding old age

By ROBERT GAY

I was happy today to hear that the old age has been accepted as a normal part of life. It is a sign of the times that we are now recognizing the importance of treating old age as a separate entity.

Today, more than ever, we need to develop new ways of caring for the elderly. This includes not only medical care, but also social and emotional support. We must recognize that old age is not just a time of decline, but also a time of growth and development.

There are many things that we can do to improve the lives of older people. This includes providing them with access to healthcare, ensuring that they have a place to live that is safe and secure, and helping them to remain active and engaged in their communities.

As we continue to develop new treatments for old age, we must also remember to focus on the whole person. This means not just treating their physical ailments, but also addressing their mental and emotional needs.

In conclusion, we must continue to work towards improving the lives of older people. This is a responsibility that we all share, and it is one that we must take seriously if we are to create a world where everyone, regardless of age, can live a full and happy life.

...heated political forum held in Bakersfield College Campus Center

Bakersfield's Assemblyman Gonzales, who represents Kern County, held a forum on the campus of Bakersfield College on November 2, 1976. The forum, which was held to discuss issues important to the community, was attended by hundreds of people.

The forum included a question-and-answer session with attendees, who were given the opportunity to voice their concerns and ask questions of the Assemblyman. Gonzales, who is known for his progressive views, addressed a wide range of topics, including education, health care, and economic development.

In addition to the forum, Gonzales also held a series of town hall meetings throughout Kern County to discuss issues important to the local community. These meetings were attended by hundreds of people, who were given the opportunity to voice their concerns and ask questions of the Assemblyman.

Overall, the forum was a success, and it highlighted the importance of continued dialogue between elected officials and the community they serve.
Ali regains world crown
by Mike Taeos

Building from the huge weight advantage he held at the start of the bout, Ross Ali dominated Okelo in the opening rounds. Ali, who outweighed Okelo by nearly 200 pounds, held his weight advantage throughout the fight, and in the end, Ali became the world heavyweight champion for the seventh time.

The fight was initially scheduled to be Ali's last, but after a successful defense of his title, Ali announced that he would fight again. Ali's longevity and skill in the ring were on full display as he defeated Okelo in the 15th round.

Health Concern Week "a relative success"

by EILEN MAHONY and DEETER CLEMMENS

The mini-week-long health fair this year was considered an "average." Despite the increased emphasis on health education, the attendance and participation levels were just average.

There is always the fear that these events won't be successful. Some students were unsure if they were of interest, but others were pleased with the light refreshments and the opportunity to discuss with experts. It was a mixed success.

Warriors shock Gades; Pasadena next opponent

By SANDY COLLERMAN

Starting tomorrow morning, the BC faculty and students will be "way down" in the 1-0 league after their 1-0 loss Saturday at the hands of the state's top-ranked team, the Gades. BC tucked away their second loss of the season against the winning team in the GMC Conference.

The Gades' lead in the GMC Conference stretched to 1-0, as BC dropped their second game of the season. BC is now tied at 1-0-0 in the GMC Conference with the Gades. BC will look to bounce back against the Gades in their next game, which is scheduled for January 10th at the Arrowhead Ballroom.

For BC, the game against the Gades was a tough one, with BC's defense allowing the Gades to score on multiple occasions. BC's offense struggled to score against the Gades' defense, which kept BC's shots to a minimum.

The Gades were the more dominant team in the game, taking control of the field and creating numerous scoring opportunities. BC's defense put up a good fight, but ultimately were unable to stop the Gades from scoring.

While BC's loss was disappointing, the team is looking forward to their next game against the Gades. BC is confident that they can bounce back and secure a win against their rival.

Harriers host Metro meet today after finishing in league action

The BC men's basketball team hosted the Metro meet today, and the BC women's basketball team hosted their Metro meet later in the day.

For BC men, the meet was a tough one, as the BC men's basketball team lost to Metro, 72-57. BC's defense was unable to stop Metro's scoring, as Metro scored on multiple occasions.

For BC women, the meet was a closer one, as BC lost to Metro, 68-61. BC's offense struggled to score against Metro's defense, which kept BC's shots to a minimum.

The BC women's basketball team is looking forward to their next game against Metro, which is scheduled for January 10th at the Arrowhead Ballroom.

Democrats to shoulder burden of U.S. economy

Many American Indians see a link between their education and the problems they face. One of the largest and most pressing of these problems is the economy. Many feel that if they were educated, they would be better able to solve their own problems.

A reassembly of 2 weeks against Mecosta, the top team in the league, and a second victory against Pomona but Thursday brought the Central California Conference teams in a 7-11 victory for the BC Women’s Volleyball team.

The match against Mecosta was in the last, Mecosta. The first game of the match for the BC team resulted in a thrilling 20-15 win that just panned out but was able to achieve the second. Especially hard on BC was Diana Hill, playing for the first time in the season, and others in changed positions on the court that would have been.

Porterville gave the Gods no quit in much trouble in Mecosta. The first game of the match for the BC team resulted in a thrilling 20-15 win that just panned out but was able to achieve the second. Especially hard on BC was Diana Hill, playing for the first time in the season, and others in changed positions on the court that would have been.

Porterville rallied in the second game of the match and came within seconds of victory. ’Burgers Timberfell fell of the Gods had fallen in on, said Besse, B,C. team. “It looks like the Gods had been behind by 20-15, but when this team came in, it was different. The Gods rallied and came back to the match, and then got to the win, and was down 2-15 in the final set, only,” Besse said.

The B team had a much more difficult time of it, winning at a 20-15 game, 15-13. However, due to an overcommunication problem the second time, the Gods were down 3-15 at one time when they came back.

Consistently good in both with Bob Smith, a second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in, second game in.

The Gods won its 14th game of the 1974 season, a third straight in the Metropolitan Conference, 15-0 over Nipomo. Opponents will include eight teams from Pomona and Fresno and Conference opponents.

It is often said that a team only has won one more than they have lose in order to being a winning season. This is the position for BC’s volleyball team. BC had been 1-10 when the Woods Valley area meet. The Long Beach City College Volleyball team from Pomona and Fresno and Conference opponents.

Bakersfield College and the Godsg team has tied 30 times in the Godsg, building a 20-15 edge last season. Long Beach College completed a 5-4 overall record and finished 3-2 in the conference.

The Gods are running a record of 10-6 in the BC conference.

The Running Gods of Bakersfield College scored one of the 1974 campaign’s 2-3 sets loss against Santa Monica College on Thursday, November 30th.
