Administration proposes fee increases

By JOHN BRYAN

A few weeks ago, students at Fresno State University were pleased to hear the news that the Board of Trustees had voted to increase student fees by only $3 per semester. This was a positive step towards alleviating the financial burden faced by many students. However, the news was followed by a proposal to increase student fees again, this time by a total of $15 per semester. The proposal includes an increase of $5 for health insurance and $10 for other unspecified services.

The increase is part of a broader plan to improve the quality of education and ensure that students have access to affordable services. The BSU administration argues that these fees are necessary to fund essential programs and services that benefit students.

The proposal has been met with mixed reactions from students, with some expressing concern about the burden on their wallets, while others support the idea of increased fees to support education.

One student said, "I understand the need for fees, but I think $15 per semester is too much. It's hard to justify, especially when we already struggle to make ends meet." Another student added, "I support the increase, but I hope it's used efficiently to improve our education experience."

The BSU administration has assured students that the funds will be used for essential programs and services. They have also emphasized the importance of education and the need to support it with proper funding.

The proposal will be discussed further at a meeting of the Academic Senate, where students and faculty will have the opportunity to voice their opinions and provide feedback.

In the meantime, students are encouraged to express their views and participate in the decision-making process. The BSU administration is committed to ensuring that the fee increase is used effectively to improve the quality of education for all students.

Scholarships not just for "Brains"

"It's a common misconception that all scholarships are for students who are 'brainy'," said Dean of Students, Dr. Greg Martin. "This is not true. Many scholarships are awarded to students who are involved in extracurricular activities, or who are community leaders. These scholarships are not only for 'brains', but for all kinds of students.""}
