Prator Hall problems spur investigation

By KIMBERLY WARD
Opinion Page Editor

Eleven lost or stolen dorm keys and a number of rooms "walk-in" and burglars in Prator Hall over the last few weeks have spawned vicious rumors of a "drug ring" existing in the dorm's area. But, Associate Dean of Students David Rouse says that such an organization does not exist.

"We have administration had word of this so-called "drug ring,"" he said. "We also had heard that a college employee might be involved."

A resident of the men's dorm has informed the administration of the suspicion expressed, implying that the keys were being used to steal money and property to obtain more drugs. According to Rouse, this person was worried for the overall welfare of the dorms, and did not want to "denounce" anyone.

When the possessor of the keys tried to enter an occupied room, he was identified and the keys were confiscated. A search was conducted after the keys were in the administration's care.

"We were looking for a substance called "crystal meth,"" said Rouse. (Crystal meth is the street term for a powder-like mixture of methamphetamine contained in a chemical process.) The search amounted to an immated street value of $120 per gram.) During the search, in which five rooms were involved, nothing resembling "crystal meth" was found, but possessions related to marijuana use were confiscated.

"In conducting the room search, we examined every possible alternative before ruling," said Rouse. "But we didn't rule out until we thought it was warranted."

The possibility of a college employee being involved was ruled out, according to Rouse.

"The students who were found to have marijuana paraphernalia in their rooms have been placed prima facie disciplinary probation for the remainder of the semester," said Rouse. "They also have a scheduled week hours to complete."

Rouse said his staff could not find any direct proof linking the suspect to the person found with the keys.

"If we could find the proof, we would definitely press criminal charges," said Rouse. Campus police protection has been stepped up in the area, despite the fact that the keys have been returned.

"This college has a responsibility to provide reasonable security for the residents of the dorms," said Rouse. "Whoever is using marijuana is on their own."

Rouse feels this incident is only a manifestation of what he termed "a spring ritual."

"Don't get me wrong," he said. "I'm not trying to sugar-coat what happened, but certainly we do not want it to happen again."

Several residents were worried about their privacy, according to sources who wish to remain unidenfied, but they were also worried about the stated situation.

Now that the keys have been returned, a number say they will not stay in the dorm at all.

Rouse feels the situation is under control.

"I don't foresee any other pro-lems," he said. "My main concern has been handled, and we have disciplined the majority of those involved. General individuals have yet to be disciplined, but that will happen soon."

BC gets $96,000 grant

By ROBB LIGHTFOOT

News Editor

Bakersfield College has been awarded a $96,000 grant from a CADD system from the Department of Education.

The project, in which Bakersfield College and the University of the Pacific are collaborating, is one of only three in the country to receive a grant for the development of a CADD system.

The grant is to be used to develop a CADD system for the design and development of educational programs.

The project was awarded to Bakersfield College because of its "innovative approach to the development of CADD technology," according to the grant writer.

The grant will be used to develop a CADD system for the design and development of educational programs.

150 attend Gordon memorial

By LUCINDA DILLON

Editor-in-Chief

During Paul Gordon's 26 years as an English instructor and department head at BC before his retirement in 1990, he became known as a poet, a story writer, a great connectivity, a humorist, and above all, an effective individual dedicated to the over-whelming enthusiasm for teaching.

Gordon, who died Jan. 26, was honored at a memorial service in the Pierce Room on the second floor of the college.

Young audience members, including the speaker, called them "exemplary as a teacher, authority, and director of athletics."

Trustees visit campus

By ROBB LIGHTFOOT

News Editor

Kern Community College District trustees were on campus last Thursday for their annual visit. Board members saw BC's newest computer system, and heard reports on an ag project, Fred Jacob's "cultural," and a study of precipitators.

Trustees ended their tour at the Foothill center with a one-hour meeting.

Most of the meeting was spent discussing the reinstatement of funding and the imposition of tuition.

Chancellor James Vasquez asked the trustees to agree with the plan for the full im-

maining of the new ABXIX.

2. Place the lobster in a pan and add water to cover.
3. Bring to a boil and reduce heat to simmer.
4. Cook for 15-20 minutes.
5. Serve hot with melted butter and lemon. Enjoy your special meal!
BC to challenge in Metro

By Mike Nicolas
Story Editor
If the members of the men's section of the St. John's University track team can manage to "get into shape" before the season begins, then the team will be in good shape for the Metro.

The team actually existed last year, but had to be let go because of financial problems. The team's most prominent member was Richard Travis who was a sprinter.

This season the team will be coached by Former St. John's University track star, Anthony Matthews. Matthews has coached at St. John's University and has also been a professional track coach in Europe. He will be working closely with Assistant Coach, Michael Brown, who was a track star at St. John's University.

The team expects to field a strong team in the Metro and hopes to make a successful showing in the league.

Netters confident in 1984

By Mike AMHERST

In August, two new students were added to the varsity tennis team. The addition of two strong players to the team should help the team overcome the difficulties of the past year. The team is currently coached by former Netter, John Lynch, who is also a member of the varsity tennis team.

According to team members, the incoming freshman is expected to do well in the fall season, and the returning student should help to improve the team's performance. The team is looking forward to the upcoming season and is hopeful that they will be able to make a successful showing in the Metro.

U.S. Olympic team warmed up for winter games

In Mark AMHERST

U.S. Olympic team members were recently in Colorado Springs, Colorado, to train for the upcoming winter games. The team is composed of experienced athletes who have been selected based on their performance in previous competitions.

The training program includes a variety of exercises designed to help the athletes prepare for the physical demands of the games. The athletes are trained in both individual and team sports, and they receive coaching from experienced professionals.

The training program is designed to help the athletes improve their skills and increase their chances of competing successfully in the winter games. The team is expected to receive a lot of support and encouragement from the public as they prepare for the upcoming competition.
Mission of community colleges changes

By KIMBERLY WARD

California's community colleges will soon be headed by the Department of Education. The department has announced plans to revamp the system, which includes 70 community colleges.

The college system is facing a financial crisis, with budget cuts and declining enrollment. The department has proposed a new model that would give the community colleges more flexibility in how they manage their money.

"The old model was just too rigid," said the department's commissioner. "We need to give the colleges more freedom to innovate and improve their programs."

As for the audience, they were also in good spirits, and seemed to be enjoying the show. The three KISS stars of the show were all in good shape, and were able to perform the concert in a smooth and polished manner.

The band's stage show was a bit over the top, but I still enjoyed it. The band members wore colorful costumes, and the lighting was quite impressive. The band's music was a bit too loud for my taste, but I still enjoyed it.
