BC’s rivalry with Fresno excites fans

By RIANA HERNANDEZ

The Bakersfield College football team is currently playing with a new sense of excitement, as the BC Renegades are off to a 3-0 start. In 2007, the BC football program was dissolved due to low enrollment and financial issues. This year, they have rebuilt the team and are playing with a fresh start.

Coach Taylor Armstrong led BC to a 2-0 start last season, but the team was unable to keep up its momentum and fell to 2-6 overall. This year, the team is looking to bounce back with a stronger performance.

Taylor said that the BC football program has made significant improvements over the past year, including better facilities and increased team morale. He said that the team is focused on building a strong foundation for the future.

Taylor also said that the BC football program has a new sense of energy and enthusiasm. He attributed this to the team’s new coaching staff and the support of the community.

The BC football program has also made improvements in its financial situation, with the help of local businesses and community members.

Despite the challenges faced by the BC football program, Taylor said that the team is determined to succeed and is working hard to achieve its goals.

Greek Festival offers culture and food

By SU CULIAGORE

The 33rd annual Greek Festival comes to Bakersfield College on Sept. 6, offering a variety of cultural and culinary experiences.

The festival features a range of Greek food, including traditional dishes like moussaka and tiropita, as well as modern Greek cuisine. Visitors can also enjoy live music and dance performances.

The festival is a popular annual event, with visitors coming from all over the region to experience the culture and food.

Aberdeen Hills, BC, was named after the Aberdeen Hills community in Scotland. It is located near the town of Aberdeen and was named by a Scottish architect in the early 1800s. The Aberdeen Hills community is home to a variety of people, including farmers, fishermen, and hunters.

The Aberdeen Hills community has a strong sense of community and tradition, and the festival is a way for the community to come together and celebrate its heritage.

The festival is open to the public and is a great way to learn about Greek culture and cuisine.
